Gallery visitors who trooped out when Health Minister Martin had concluded his Thursday night speech should have stayed put. Mr. Martin's sonorous account of his stewardship was only the preliminary; the main event of the day was still to come.

At the afternoon sitting, it was plain that the five Liberals of the Legislative Assembly were cooking something. They whispered and conferred. Occasionally one or other slipped out, was absent a while, then returned to his seat with the slight bow which parliamentary tradition requires for Mr. Speaker.

A buzz began to circulate that the minor opposition might ginger up a hitherto quiet session during the night sitting.

We were not disappointed.

Oak Bay Liberal Alan Macfarlane got to his feet while the government side was still applauding the health minister's speech with a round of desk-slapping.

Mr. Macfarlane ripped into Socred health policies with the vim which this urbane lawyer displays in such encounters.

But rebuttals are routine, part of the normal give-and-take of legislative debate.

That chiding done with, Mr. Macfarlane beat a bastinado on government for asserted failure to recognize municipal needs with revised per capita grants.

That, too, is no new ploy. The devil of municipal grants gets chased around the stump a score of times each session.

* * *

Then . . .

Liberal Macfarlane reached to his desk for a typed statement.

"Several members," he intoned, "have spoken in this debate about the mysterious Stonehill letter."

From that point, the hush in the chamber was all but complete.

There was no heckling. In such quiet as rarely rules in this amphitheatre, Mr. Macfarlane proceeded with his statement, making no direct charge.

Then, in a stern conclusion which lifted the House to its most dramatic moment in a hitherto quiet session:

"We know who manufactured this letter . . . The attorney-general has a duty to this House and to the public to name this person and to make a full disclosure. We demand he do so forthwith. Our next speaker is on Tuesday next, the member from Fernie (Harry McKay). If the attorney-general has not done his duty by then, our next speaker will do it for him, and name the man."

* * *

Attorney-General Bonner interrupted but once, to suggest grimly that in this mater, Mr. Macfarlane was trespassing upon his position as a member.

At the end, he sat nibbling a pen while opposition cries of "Stand up and tell us!" were heard above a wild exchange of cross-floor shouting.

Second deputy speaker Herbert Bruch (SC—Esquimalt) restored order with voice and gavel.

Only then did Mr. Bonner rise.

"Being all in good humor," he declared, in a sardonic borrowing from an absent premier, "I move we now adjourn."

WRECKING CREW pulls three-ton van from waters of Goldstream River which claimed the life of Duncan chicken farmer Eino Suominen. The truck apparently teetered over side of bridge and plunged into river.

Duncan Man Dies In Bridge Crash

Drowns in Cab At Goldstream

By RON SUDLOW

The body of a Duncan man was found this morning trapped inside his cab-over-engine truck which apparently teetered over the side of a bridge in Goldstream Park.

It landed in five feet of swirling water.

He was identified as Eion Olavi Suominen, 37, of 2507 Inverarity Road, Duncan.

His panel delivery truck is believed to have come too close to the left side of the narrow bridge at the foot of a twisting, steep incline leading over the Goldstream River. There was no guard rail on that side.

Police believe the accident occurred sometime Thursday evening as Mr. Suominen's watch was stopped at 11:25.

GUSHED INTO CAB

His body was found partially submerged in water which gushed into the cab of the truck.

The mishap was discovered this morning by a sports fisherman.

The truck was overturned, with the van slanting down the river bank and the cab in the water.

The park road provides a short-cut from the Trans-Canada Highway to Golden Gate Road which runs from the highway at Goldstream.

The truck apparently partially missed the wooden bridge, then teetered on a six-inch beam on the edge of the bridge, before toppling into the river.

BEAM SCRAPED

The beam was scraped by the van's undercarriage and wood splinters appeared on the truck's tie-rod half-way between the front wheels.

There is a three-foot high guard rail on the opposite side of the bridge.

Empty egg cartons were found inside the van and some were floating downstream.

KNOCKED OUT

The cab of the truck was relatively undamaged and it is speculated Mr. Suominen was knocked out by the truck's 10-foot fall, and drowned.

Mr. Suominen's remains were taken to Sands funeral chapel at Colwood.

He had been a Duncan egg-producer and chicken farmer for about five years and dealt in Victoria with Golden Yolk Farms.

Mr. Suominen is of Finnish extraction and it is believed he was born in Canada. He came to the Duncan area from Alberta.

He leaves the widow and two children.

SAIGON

Civilians Dig In; Fear Raid

(Times News Services)

SAIGON — Civilians in Saigon began digging shelters today against any possible Communist air raid following massive U.S.-South Vietnamese air strikes Thursday on military targets in North Viet Nam.

Saigon authorities also tested air raid sirens.

U.S. officials called the raid highly successful. A spokesman said anti-aircraft activity was no heavier than on the Sunday or Monday raids and that the new raid might have come as more of a surprise.

It brought bitter new denunciations and charges of aggression from the Communist regimes in Hanoi, Peking and Moscow.

Reports said the bombs, rockets and gunfire left smoke columns surging up through broken clouds over the target areas.

Chap Le, 8½ miles north of the border between North and South Viet Nam, was softened up by 28 U.S. Air Force F-100 Sabre-jet fighters, then pounded by 28 propeller-driven South Vietnamese fighter-bombers.

Chan Hoa, 50 miles north of the border and four miles northwest of Dong Hoi, scene of a previous strike, was hit by more than 100 navy jets from the 7th Fleet carriers Hancock, Ranger and Coral Sea.

Military authorities announced the recovery of bodies of three of four U.S. Army advisers reported missing when the Viet Cong overran the town of Duc Phong, north of Saigon, Wednesday.

Since the step-up of American activity in Viet Nam in December, 1961, a total of 273 American lives have been lost in combat.

The evacuation of American dependents from South Viet Nam continued today.

Saigon's student union headquarters was rocked Thursday night by the explosion of two grenades.

Wilson Supports U.S. Raids

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson pledged British support for U.S. policy in Viet Nam in a personal call over the Washington-London hot line to President Johnson, government sources said today.

Wilson conferred with the president Thursday night on the explosive situation in southeast Asia and re-affirmed British support for the American policy of "measured, relevant response" to Communist Viet Cong guerrilla attacks, the sources said.

Government sources made it clear that Britain does not plan to lend military support to the United States action in Viet Nam.

But they said token help may be increased through the British military mission, already on the spot for training South Vietnamese in jungle warfare.

Pearson Shifts Tremblay Post

By JOYCE FAIRBAIRN
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Postmaster-General John Nicholson has been named immigration minister in a cabinet change prompted by the resignation of Public Works Minister Jean Paul Deschatelets.

Prime Minister Pearson today announced that Nicholson would exchange portfolios with the present immigration minister Tremblay.

Deschatelets' portfolio will be filled by Associate Defence Minister Lucien Cardin. A Quebec backbencher Leo Cadieux will become associate defence minister.

Pearson did not fill the vacancy of minister without portfolio created when he requested the resignation last month of Yvon Dupuis.

Pearson would not comment on the exchange between Tremblay and Nicholson other than to say "switches are normal in any government."

It is the third cabinet post for Nicholson since the Liberal government came to power in April, 1963. He represents Vancouver Centre.

THREE POSTS

He first held the portfolio of forestry minister and became postmaster general a year ago when his predecessor, Azellus Denis, was named to the Senate. As postmaster general he also administered Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation following the death of revenue minister John Garland.

He will be in charge of overseeing major changes now being planned in the immigration department.

Tremblay has experienced difficulty as immigration minister almost since he took the portfolio last year.

His involvement with the recent furniture controversy added further to his difficulties.

Deschatelets' resignation was prompted by personal reasons believed involving the recent tragic death of his daughter shortly before her wedding.

Pearson said he talked with Deschatelets Sunday and tried to persuade him to remain in the cabinet in a less onerous post than public works.

Pearson expressed pleasure that Deschatelets would continue to sit as member for the Montreal riding of Maisonneuve-Rosemount. He sent "grateful thanks" for Deschatelets' services "which have been both efficient and devoted and for which we owe you a real debt of gratitude."

Deschatelets, one of the most quiet and steady ministers, entered Parliament in 1953 and was returned in four subsequent elections.

Cardin, a 45-year-old lawyer representing Richelieu-Vercheres, has been in parliament since 1952. He has gained a responsible reputation as associate to Defence Minister Paul Hellyer and was a key figure in recent re-organization programs in the development.

Cadieux's appointment to the associate defence portfolio was somewhat of a surprise as he has been a relatively obscure member on the Liberal benches.

He was first elected in 1962 and is a former mayor of St. Antoine des Laurenteides, north of Montreal.

Pearson said he had planned to hold off cabinet changes until the Dorion inquiry had completed its work, but Deschatelets' resignation made it necessary to act immediately.

Has Letter Writer Been Gagged?-MLA

By JOHN MIKA
Times Legislative Reporter

Liberal MLA Alan Macfarlane today dropped a second bombshell in the "mystery letter" case.

He suggested the unidentified author might have been silenced to prevent an explanation coming out.

Late Thursday night he told a tense legislature that Vancouver public relations man Al Williamson "seems to know more about this case than any other man" and demanded that Attorney-General Robert Bonner reveal whether he has been interrogated by police.

While Mr. Macfarlane continued his attack on the attorney-general's silence this morning, Mr. Bonner held a press conference in which it was revealed for the first time possibilities of a charge by his department are being actively studied.

Mr. Macfarlane told the house at 11 p.m. Thursday that if the attorney-general "has not done his duty by Tuesday next" a Liberal MLA would identify the author of the famous letter bearing the purported signature of Premier Bennett and apparently intended to influence the Harry Stonehill application for immigrant status.

KNOWN FRIDAY

Mr. Bonner replied this morning he would "not bow to ultimatums of this kind" but said that the government's position would be known by next Friday.

However, Mr. Macfarlane's speech appeared to have prompted some activity. Mr. Bonner said he would hold a full-scale conference later today with his department advisers and RCMP officials to decide whether charges would be laid in Vancouver by the province.

Previous statements by Mr. Bonner indicated he felt Ottawa should take the next step because it was not up to B.C. to take "unilateral" action.

But Mr. Bonner said he would continue his silence on the identity of the Vancouver man he has said told RCMP "how the letter came into being without the premier's permission and without the premier's knowledge."

Mr. Macfarlane said continuation of the silence "just means the continuation of besmirching the reputations of innocent people" who are in the spotlight of suspicion.

NO BEARING

He said revealing the identity of the author had no bearing on any possible charges or their prosecution and should not be withheld "while the attorney-general dithers as to which course he should take.

"The unidentified man himself

LONGSHOREMEN REJECT BID; ORDERED BACK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The International Longshoremen's Association rejected a bid today for a complete settlement of the U.S. dock strike which began 33 days ago, but ordered longshoremen back to work Saturday in all but two ports, Miami and Galveston.

Agreement has been reached in all ports but Miami and Galveston.

Shippers accepted the federal mediator's proposal, which called for an over-all back-to-work movement while negotiations continued under a mediator.

Thant Seeks Negotiations On Viet Nam

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — United Nations Secretary-General U Thant proposed today that both sides in the Vietnamese conflict enter into talks aimed at preparing the ground for formal negotiations on a settlement.

Thant made the proposal in appealing to "all parties concerned" to refrain from any new actions which could lead to an escalation of warfare in Viet Nam.

He did not refer by name to the United States, the Soviet Union, China, North Viet Nam or any other powers which have interests in Southeast Asia.

He said he was making the appeal "in the interest of the peace and well-being of the people of Viet Nam and of the world at large."

REST OF CREW RESCUED

Ship Explosion Kills Three

HONOLULU (AP) — Three men were reported killed Thursday night in an engine-room explosion aboard the Danish freighter Margit, about 1,100 miles southwest of here.

Twenty-four other persons —including one woman—took to lifeboats and were rescued Friday by a U.S. Navy cargo ship after abandoning their burning freighter.

The rescue ship, the Greenville Victory, after picking up survivors, messaged the U.S. Coast Guard in Honolulu:

"The survivors reported that at least three men are known to be lost from the blast in the engine room."

The freighter blast injured at least three other crew members.

One of those rescued had burns over 70 per cent of his body. Another had a possible leg fracture. A third "suffered a sharp blow to the stomach and is in pain," the Greenville Victory radioed.

The rescue vessel contained no trained medical personnel. Efforts were pressed to reach a ship with a doctor aboard.

The rescue was made about 11 hours after the Margit radioed she was afire.

A coast guard plane circling the Margit radioed that the ship was "burning out of control."

The 4,967-ton Margit, carrying a cargo of flour, asbestos and cast iron from San Francisco and Los Angeles for Calcutta, India, sent out an SOS Thursday night asking for immediate assistance.

The Margit sailed from San Francisco Feb. 1, calling at Los Angeles and then heading out across the Pacific.

Employer Advised Lawyer To Keep Mum Probe Told

See Page 16.

OTTAWA (CP) — RCMP Inspector J. R. R. Carriere testified today that Pierre Lamontagne told him he had been advised by his employer in his law firm not to do anything about attempted bribery and coercion to which the Montreal lawyer said he had been subjected.

The officer was replying at the Dorion judicial inquiry to questions concerning the delay between the time Mr. Lamontagne was allegedly offered a bribe July 14 and when he first reported it to Insp. Carriere Aug. 10.

Insp. Carriere said he asked Mr. Lamontagne why he had not reported the alleged bribe offer immediately.

Mr. Lamontagne, acting for the U.S. government in the extradition hearing of narcotics conspiracy suspect Lucien Rivard, had explained he rejected the alleged offer immediately it was made July 14 and that he thought that would be the end of the matter.

Gilles Godin, counsel for André Letendre, executive assistant to Justice Minister Guy Favreau, asked why Mr. Lamontagne hadn't gone to the police after receiving threatening telephone calls the night of July 20-21.

ASKED BOSS

Insp. Carriere said Mr. Lamontagne told him he had gone to his employer, Antoine Geoffrion, and related the circumstances to him.

Mr. Geoffrion had advised him to take no further action but that if further calls were made he (Geoffrion) would take action.

There has been previous testimony at the inquiry that Lionel Chevrier, former Liberal justice minister and now high commissioner in London, was a member of the same Montreal law firm as Mr. Geoffrion.

Insp. Carriere said Mr. Lamontagne was fully familiar with the Rivard file. He might have received the impression that if people thought he had received a bribe "some misfortune might catch up to him."

The inspector said Mr. Lamontagne had apparently decided there were rumors around the courts that he had accepted a bribe and that this would prejudice his position as a Canadian and U.S. government lawyer.

Earlier Friday, the inquiry recessed briefly to permit Chief Justice Frederic Dorion and lawyers to discuss the extent of is being prejudiced by being denied the right, if the attorney-general has silenced him, to explain his position," said Mr. Macfarlane.

"What if he has a valid explanation? What if he was given authority by the premier or the premier's office to use that stationery and he just exceeded his authority?

"He may have any number of explanations.

"He (Bonner) knows who the author of the letter is and I know it. He doesn't need to remain silent with respect to that matter" even if more time is needed to decide the question of whether charges should be laid.

Asked how he knew the identity, Mr. Macfarlane said "no comment."

Mr. Bonner this morning said he expected to have a full report on a decision as to what course of action should be taken by this weekend or early next week. The recommendation will come from general counsel Paddy Bowen-Colthurst.

CLEAR IT UP

"By this time next week the crown's position in the matter will be clear," said Mr. Bonner.

But until then he would not reveal the identity.

"I would rather err on the side of silence than, by inadvertence, tip the scales against anyone. An attorney-general or a crown counsel either lays charges or he shuts up. There isn't any middle ground available."

Mr. Bonner said he had nothing further to say about the case and "if there is anything further to be said it will be said through official channels in due course. He declined to elaborate on the term "official channels" but indicated that further statements could come from the Vancouver prosecutor's office.

Mr. Macfarlane held the legislature in suspenseful attention Thursday night as he led up to the point of naming the author, but stopping short to demand that the attorney-general do so.

He said if this was not done, then Harry McKay (L—Fernie) would reveal the identity when he speaks Tuesday as the next Liberal to enter the budget speech debate.

Mr. Macfarlane dropped his ultimatum into a hushed House moments after cheers from the opposition greeted his statement that the province does not want to see a repetition of the government's manoeuvring in the Robert Sommers case.

"We remember another occasion when the attorney-general hid behind a secret RCMP report until he was smoked out and at the end of all that had to prosecute a fellow cabinet minister.

"In that case the technique used by the attorney-general was the same as in this case," said Mr. Macfarlane.

He said the referall to the Dorion commission parallelled the Sommers royal commission. In both cases the government also used a secret RCMP report to hide behind.

707 DAYS

"In the case of Sommers, it was 707 days of silence," stormed Mr. Macfarlane. "We don't want to see that sort of thing in B.C. again!"

Mr. Macfarlane said numerous questions had to be answered by the government as well as launching a prosecution against the letter's author.

"How many men had access to (the premier's) stationery? Was that stationery stolen or was it handed to them with the authority to use it?

"Did someone forge this letter, forge the premier's signature on this letter or did he just exceed his authority in using the stationery?

"The premier describes the letter as phoney and says he did not sign it. The attorney-general denies that he said the letter was a forgery.

"If it wasn't a forgery, what was it? Has an offence been committed or not?"

Mr. Macfarlane read a Vancouver newspaper editorial which claimed that continued government silence must mean it is protecting someone — presumably one of the "coterie" of public relations men used by the government.

The men were named as Al Williamson, William Clancey, Lloyd Turner and Dan Ekman.

"One man seems to know more about this case than any other," said Mr. Macfarlane. "He is Al Williamson.

"Williamson went to Ottawa and there with Stonehill conferred with federal government officials concerning Stonehill's immigrant status.

"Williamson told a federal official that a letter would be forthcoming from Premier Bennett supporting Stonehill's case.

"Williamson contacted Ottawa later to make sure the letter had been received.

"Williamson is close to this government. He is one of their public relations men and has been for some time. He promised to acquire the letter and he must, of necessity, know where it was to come from."

Mr. Macfarlane said the House should be told many things.

"Has Williamson made a statement to the RCMP? The attorney-general has refused to say.

QUESTIONED?

"Has the attorney-general questioned Williamson about the circumstances surrounding this strange situation?

"If any one of us was attorney-general I suggest to you that under these circumstances . . . the first thing you would have done was question Williamson and demand the fullest explanation.

"The attorney-general says this is a matter for Ottawa to handle. As my leader said before me, this is a question of provincial government concern — of the concern of this government whose attorney-general has a duty at law to prosecute offences against the law.

"The rumors have gone far enough. Innocent people are having their reputations besmirched because of the strange and evasive attitude of this government.

"We will stand for this only so long. I'm telling the attorney-general now that if he has not done his duty by Tuesday next, our next speaker will do his duty for him — and will name the man."

questioning to be allowed on other bribe offers in the Rivard case.

After the 15-minute recess, Chief Justice Dorion himself took over the questioning of RCMP Inspector J. R. R. Carriere.

Insp. Carriere testified that he heard in June or July that there was a "considerable sum of money available" to help Rivard in his extradition case.

Chief Justice Dorion, of Quebec Superior Court, agreed to the recess proposed by commission counsel Andre Desjardins following objections to questioning of Insp. Carriere about other bribe offers.

Insp. Carriere, under questioning by Ross Drouin, counsel for the Conservative party, testified that he had heard in June or July of other bribe offers in the Rivard case.

LAWYER OBJECTS

Mr. Drouin repeatedly asked about the nature of the other offers but each time RCMP counsel Norman Mathews objected.

Mr. Mathews argued that Mr. Drouin's question was so broad it could take in "the wildest kind of rumors." He was supported by Jules Deschenes, federal government counsel, who insisted the questioning be limited to offers to Mr. Lamontagne.

Man Convicted Of Bootlegging; Sentence Monday

Rudolph Tarko was convicted today in city court of unlawfully keeping liquor for sale Oct. 11 at 732 Kings Road.

Tarko will be sentenced next Monday. Crown Prosecutor Peter Birkett said he will attempt to show that this is Tarko's second conviction for a bottlegging offence.

Magistrate William Ostler, in his judgement this morning, said there was "no direct admissible evidence" to prove Tarko was the tenant of the premises.

But he said the circumstances in which Tarko was found during a police raid and other factors was "adequate evidence" that he lived there.

The place was raided by police after they kept watch on two previous Sundays and saw large numbers of persons coming and going to the house.

AMERICAN COMMENTS ON S. VIET NAM FORCES

'Dumbest, Laziest, Weakest, Unpatriotic'

JUNCTION CITY, Kan. (AP) — "My four-day operation was uneventful and maddening, working with the popular forces. They are the dumbest, laziest, weakest, unpatriotic I have ever seen."

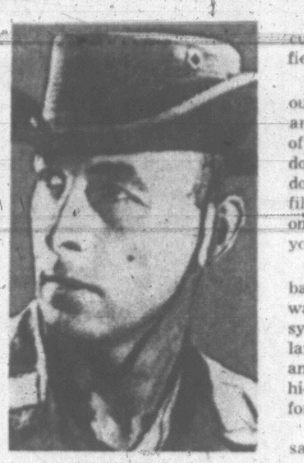
Capt. Carlton J. Holland, 36, made that comment in a letter to his wife — a letter that arrived at their Junction City home on the same day his wife was notified he was killed in South Viet Nam.

"The rangers are good and the commander did everything I wanted, but time and the mission were devoted to waiting for the popular forces and going after them when they got lost.

"Well, they got paid the day we got back and now they have 30 deserters — that leaves 46 in the company."

Holland, in the service 18 years, was among three U.S. Army advisors listed as killed when Viet Cong forces overran the town of Duc Phong in South Viet Nam three days ago. A fourth American is missing.

Holland's letter, which arrived Wednesday, also brought the news that he had received orders for transfer to Fort Bragg, N.C., in April and that he would get a 45-day leave before reporting to his new post.



HOLLAND
. . . killed in action

In his letter Holland expressed the wish that he "could take some of these soldiers and just live in the hills and train them myself."

The captain told of difficulties he encountered in the field.

"I had some Saigon brass out here on the 3rd of February. I get a kick out of some of their forms and questions: do I keep a mess fund, who does the laundry, how is the filing system, any complaint on the movies, can we send you a hi-fi set?

"I just laugh at them; my bath, laundry and drinking water are in that creek; filing system in my pockets; no large mess bill on dried fish and rice; the movies and hi-fi — I'm lucky to get power for a flashlight.

"Can I defend this hill? I said 'see all that barbed wire around this hill. That is to keep the soldiers on the hill, more than to keep the Viet Cong off.' I defend this hill with 53 men. The Viet Cong can take it with 300 men and 60 rounds of mortar. They have 500 Viet Cong and 150 rounds of mortar. I have one 60 mm mortar and two machine-guns and 23 sandbags and 40 rounds of mortar.

Holland said he was writing "with candlelight but the wind is going to blow it out."

"The rats are very bad tonight and I keep coughing up this stuff in my lungs. These damned rats. I have to keep my feet up, they are running across them."

Russia Closes Ranks Over Bombing Raids

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Alexei Kosygin said today United States attacks on North Viet Nam had brought the Soviet Union and China together in determination "to curb the aggressors."

Kosygin made the statement in Pyongyang, capital of Communist North Korea, on the last stop of his swing through Asia, Tass reported.

Before his arrival in North Korea, Kosygin had promised military aid to North Viet Nam and then met in Peking for talks with Communist Party Chairman Mao Tse-tung, Premier Chou En-lai and other Chinese leaders.

Reporting Kosygin's statement in North Korea, Tass said:

"Kosygin stressed that imperialist provocations have brought the peoples of Asian socialist countries still closer together.

"As is shown by our talks in Peking and Pyongyang, he said, the Soviet Union, the People's Republic of China and the Korean Democratic People's Republic are unanimous in their desire to curb the aggressors, to prevent the extension of hostilities in Indochina."

Bus Future Discussed By Oak Bay

Transportation in Oak Bay after expiration of the B.C. Hydro bus franchise in 1967 will be discussed at a committee meeting Saturday.

The franchise agreement permits the municipality to question B.C. Hydro and Power Authority on its "intentions."

Reeve Allan Cox has requested the council's B committee which deals with public works, parks, civil defence, streets and traffic, to come up with suitable questions for the transit authority.

The meeting, which starts at 10 a.m., will also include a tour of the municipality's trouble spots to look at problems of parking, road surfaces and traffic control.

Ontario Mopping Up After Heavy Floods

TORONTO (CP) — Raging floods that threatened lives and property in most areas of Ontario during the last two days were subsiding today and mopping-up operations were being organized.

Cooler weather and lighter-than-expected rain saved the province from major flooding. The weather man predicted only periodic drizzle for the areas hardest hit.

"Much of the ice that caused river backups and flooding will have broken away, relieving the problems," said Donald H. McMullen, Ontario hydro meteorologist.

But a flood advisory for the lower Thames River reported that water levels were rising steadily as Thursday's high runoff from the upper part of the basin moved downstream.

Firemen removed 16 persons from flooded homes in Brantford Thursday after the Grand River reached a peak of 14.9 feet above normal, producing the worst flooding since 1960.

In Dundas, near Hamilton, the Spencer and Sydenham creeks overflowed Wednesday in the worst floods in 13 years and officials estimated damage at $200,000. At least 100 basements in the area were flooded and porches were torn off many houses by chunks of floating ice.

UNDERCUT HIGHWAY

Highway 102, which runs through the area, was covered by four feet of water for several hours and a large section of the road was undercut. A CPR spokesman said 400 feet of spur line that had been covered by ice and water would have to be relaid.

Supervision Of Private Plans Urged

The provincial government should supervise private pension plans in the province and establish a minimum framework for their operation, Anthony Gargrave (NDP—Mackenzie) said Thursday.

He said this should include requirements that the insurance companies provide portability, an accounting of how the premiums are invested to ensure solvency of the plans and wider elegibility provisions.

He also said beneficiaries should be given vested rights, pointing out that some pension plans, particularly in banks, are not legally binding and a person could be fired a few months before retirement and not receive a cent of pension.

Discussing the budget, Mr. Gargrave said the revenue surpluses were hidden away in various funds and ventures by the premier because "it is an embarrassing sum of money to keep on cropping up each year.

"It establishes the practicability of full medicare for all B.C. citizens soon, without premiums."

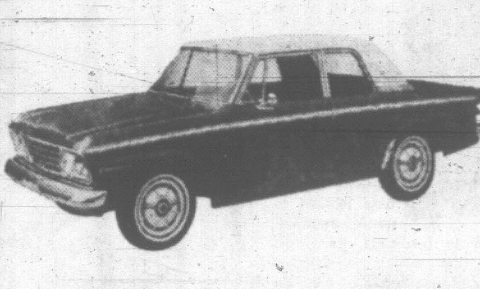
CANADA'S OWN CAR



Studebaker '65
First with transistorized ignition

It's winter. Starting the car is a real grr . . . grr . . . grr . . . grind! Now you tell yourself that you should have kept the engine tuned up.
But with Studebaker, winter is no grind. Studebaker has transistorized ignition as standard equipment on its Daytona Sports Sedan and optional on all other models. Transistorized Ignition, by Studebaker, means faster, easier starts — even in the coldest weather. Just as a 200 watt lamp gives more light than a 60 watt, so Studebaker's transistorized ignition delivers more fire-power than conventional systems. Plugs and points last longer too. Studebaker ran a test-car for over 40,000 miles. When examined, points were still like new (see your Studebaker dealer for proof).

Studebaker Transistorized Ignition is ideal for shop-and-go driving too. Helps your engine stay in tune longer. Doesn't waste gas.

Aside from the convenience, just think of all the money you could save on tune-ups and replacements. Enough to buy a transistorized radio. Come to think of it, that's another transistorized item that starts as easily as Studebaker — and keeps its tune . . .

. . . but it hasn't got wheels.

Churchill Estate Split

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill left a net estate valued at £156 961 ($470,883), a report filed with his will in probate court said today.

He bequeathed one-third to his wife, Lady Churchill. The other two-thirds is to be divided equally among his children, actress Sarah Churchill, Mrs. Mary Soames and journalist Randolph Churchill.

In addition, Lady Churchill was left the copyrights on all her husband's literary works and the rights to all recordings of his speeches or extracts from his writings.

The recordings are high on the best seller lists. Royalties on these and Churchill's books are certain to continue earning large sums.

The 90-year-old wartime prime minister died Jan. 24.

Executors reported his gross estate—before payment of debts and estate taxes—was £304,044 ($912,132).

After payment of debts £266,054 remained, and estate taxes come to £109,093. This left a residue estate of £156,961.

Churchill left various state papers and personal documents to a trust established in 1946.

The remainder of his documents and various medallions and trophies presented to him during his life were left in trust to his wife for life.

The will stipulated that the documents should then go to the trust and the trophies be passed in turn to his son Randolph and grandson Winston.

Among his other bequests was one for £10,000 to Anthony Montague Browne, his personal secretary for many years.

New Home Recipe Reducing Plan

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Naran Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Naran Plan.

If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

ASSESSMENT RECORD

Don't Count On Tax Cuts

By AB KENT

The largest assessment roll in Victoria history will raise more tax dollars than last year, but any hope of a 1965 tax cut is premature, city officials say.

City assessor Alfred Joyce this week compiled figures to show a total assessment of $183,675,871, an increase of $6,564,000 over 1964.

Much of this is due to unparallelled commercial expansion in offices, high-rise apartment buildings and other business expansion such as shopping centres.

At the same time, there was a drop in assessments for industrial machinery, which raises tax for school purposes. Yet the total school assessment is up by more than $4 million.

Having just received the assessor's figures and without a complete picture of 1965 budget estimates and 1964 surplus, comptroller James Bramley said forecast of requirements is impossible at this point.

$187,000 INCREASE

But he said the increase in revenues for general purposes, calculated at the 1964 mill rate, amounts slightly over $187,000.

This is not much in a city with a budget of $11.32 million last year.

The fire department hasn't yet presented its 1965 estimates. This could represent a substantial increase in itself if a new training plan is brought into operation this year.

School costs are still unknown, although it is suggested a hike of one mill will provide the increase anticipated in the preliminary budget.

Mr. Joyce breaks down the Victoria assessment into three categories—industrial, commercial and residential.

25-25-50

An assessor's ideal division for these three groups is 25 per cent each for industrial and commercial and 50 per cent for residential properties.

Victoria knocks this away out of kilter with its 2.59 per cent industrial assessment, 48.65 per cent commercial and 48.76 per cent residential, putting a heavy responsibility on commercial properties.

The taxable assessment in this year's $183.67 million amounts to $103,221,000 for general purposes or an increase of $4,981,000.

Including school purposes, the taxable assessment, with machinery, amounts to $114,739,000. This is an increase of $4,264,000.

The drop in machinery assessments is due partly to the action of B.C. Hydro, which is assessable, in transferring its headquarters building to the provincial government, which is not assessable, and in closing its Bay Street sub-station.

Total taxable assessment on machinery is $9,226,000; on lands $29,591,000, and on improvements $99,451,000.

Properties which are totally tax-exempted amount to 25.82 per cent of the roll, which this year is a decline of about 1.5 per cent.

ABBEY ALSO MONUMENT

Westminster Abbey is as much a national monument as a place of worship with its commemorative chapel to Battle of Britain airmen and the grave of the Unknown Warrior.

EASING of the strain between the Irish Republic and Northern Ireland i indicated in the statement by Prime Minister Terence O'Neill of Northern Ireland that there will be further official contacts with the southern countires. O'Neill visited Dublin, this event marked the first time a Northern Ireland leader had visited the south in 40 years.

LANGUAGE STORM CONTINUES

Police Shoot Down Rioters in India

NEW DELHI (AP) — Police and army troops called in to quell language riots sweeping south India fired on rampaging crowds today in half a dozen places.

Two Indians died after setting themselves ablaze to protest the decision to make Hindi India's only official language.

At least 10 persons were killed in one shooting and the death toll in the three days of turmoil in Madras state stood at 50.

A student agitation committee in Madras state, which touched off the explosive rioting, announced it was postponing the remainder of protest demonstrations. But the students clearly were no longer in command of the demonstrators.

Mobs thousands strong were on the loose in many cities and towns. Anti-Hindi agitation was spreading to at least four other states—Kerala, Mysore, Andhra and Bengal.

Students in the Madras coastal town of Pondicherry burned a railway station to the ground and fled only when soldiers fired on them, killing four.

POLICE SHOOT

Special armed police fired on a crowd in Pollachi Coimbatore, killing 10. And in Chennimalai, one person was reported killed by police gunfire.

Police stations in Madras city were stoned and post offices, other government buildings and railway stations were attacked. Army reinforcements were flown into Madras and ordered to "shoot hooligans" if necessary to put down the disorders.

Mobs shouted that Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri had given insufficient assurances that Tamil, the language of Madras, will be protected. They said he also failed to say that Hindi, the official language, would not be imposed upon them.

Time for 'Cooling Off'

IMMEDIATE RE-ESTABLISHMENT of the Geneva Conference on Viet Nam seems to offer the best chance of heading off a direct confrontation of the United States and China in Southeast Asia.

The danger of the present situation erupting into full-scale war is very real, as Prime Minister Pearson warned in Ottawa Wednesday. The trend is toward expanding the scale of attack and retaliation with American and Communist leaderships hardening in their determination not to back down from any challenge.

It would be foolishly optimistic to suggest that re-opening of talks between the 16 nations which took part in the 1954 conference at Geneva could settle the war in Viet Nam. The most that could be hoped for would be a "cooling-off" period to give the United States and China a chance to consider realistically whether Viet Nam is worth a war which could escalate into a nuclear holocaust. Additionally, reopening the conference would give both sides an opportunity to enter negotiations without loss of face.

The cruel reality of the American position is that the most powerful nation in the world is engaged in a type of conflict which it is least fitted to win and has, in fact, almost lost. The air attacks on North Viet Nam in retaliation for the land raids in force on American bases in the south emphasize this. Only by pouring in massive reinforcements of American troops can the United States hope to gain the initiative on land which is now held by the Viet Cong.

The fatal weakness of the United States' position—and it is the same weakness which forced France out of Indo-China—is that it has no base among the people. Even if they were able to maintain themselves in Viet Nam, through force and for strategic reasons, for 10 years or 50 years the Americans would still be intruders.

The Chinese, on the other hand, have the inestimable advantage of being able to work indirectly through an indigenous instrument, the Viet Cong. They have the further advantage of being able to exploit centuries of Asian resentment against non-Asian domination.

The United States is not only fighting Communism in Viet Nam. It is fighting historical reality. The magic slogan of "Asia for Asians" can be countered by superior force, but for how long? And to what end?

Despite this, however, it is an oversimplification just to say that the United States should pull out of Viet Nam. What is required is an opportunity to withdraw honorably—not retreat ignominiously—under international auspices; and there must be settlement of the future of Indo-Chinese countries in Asian, not just Chinese, terms.

The United States cannot establish democracy in Asia by taking part in the slaughter of millions of innocent people, which would be the inevitable result of attempting to remain in Viet Nam by force. Neither, on the other hand, would domination by Chinese Communism prove the salvation of Asia.

In the long run, however, the Asian peoples are going to have to be allowed to arrange their own affairs on the basis of their own needs and desires.

A Benefactor In Action

THIS PROVINCE, AND THE University of British Columbia in particular, have for the past decade been the recipients of large sums of money from Mr. H. R. MacMillan, the forest industry complex which he created, and the MacMillan Family Fund. The latest gift, however, amounting to $8.2 millions, sets what is believed to be a record for single private benefactions to any Canadian university and establishes Mr. MacMillan as one of Canada's leading contributors to the development of education. He has earned the gratitude of all British Columbians.

It is no mere coincidence that the gift announced this week will provide a tremendous encouragement to the growth of graduate studies at UBC. The provision of 45 continuing three-year fellowships for students working towards MA and PhD degrees and the $3 million gift for the purchase of books and journals by the library will go a long way towards achieving UBC President Macdonald's aim to make the university a major centre of graduate studies. Dr. Macdonald has frequently stressed the need for more graduate facilities to provide the qualified teachers desperately needed to instruct the rapidly increasing undergraduate population in Canada. The gift of $1 million each to the Anglican and United Church colleges affiliated with the university is in keeping with earlier MacMillan contributions to church work.

Two points are of particular interest. Mr. MacMillan on an earlier occasion said that "those who have benefitted by such resources as forestry and fisheries should give evidence of their interest in perpetuating and advancing the welfare of these industries." He has apparently extended this philosophy to the broader concept that those who have gained directly from the industrial development of the province should feel a responsibility to the community which provided their opportunities. Such a relationship has been recognized by several British Columbians of wealth. Mr. MacMillan's latest benefaction furnishes a sharpened example of perceptive citizenship.

The second point is noted by Dr. Macdonald. "The value of the MacMillan gifts," he says, "can be realized only if they are used fully to supplement normal UBC expenditures." We agree completely. The private gifts are to provide additional benefits to the university, not to take the place of necessary government support. There should be no thought in government circles that private benefactions may relieve the public exchequer in any way of its responsibilities to higher education.

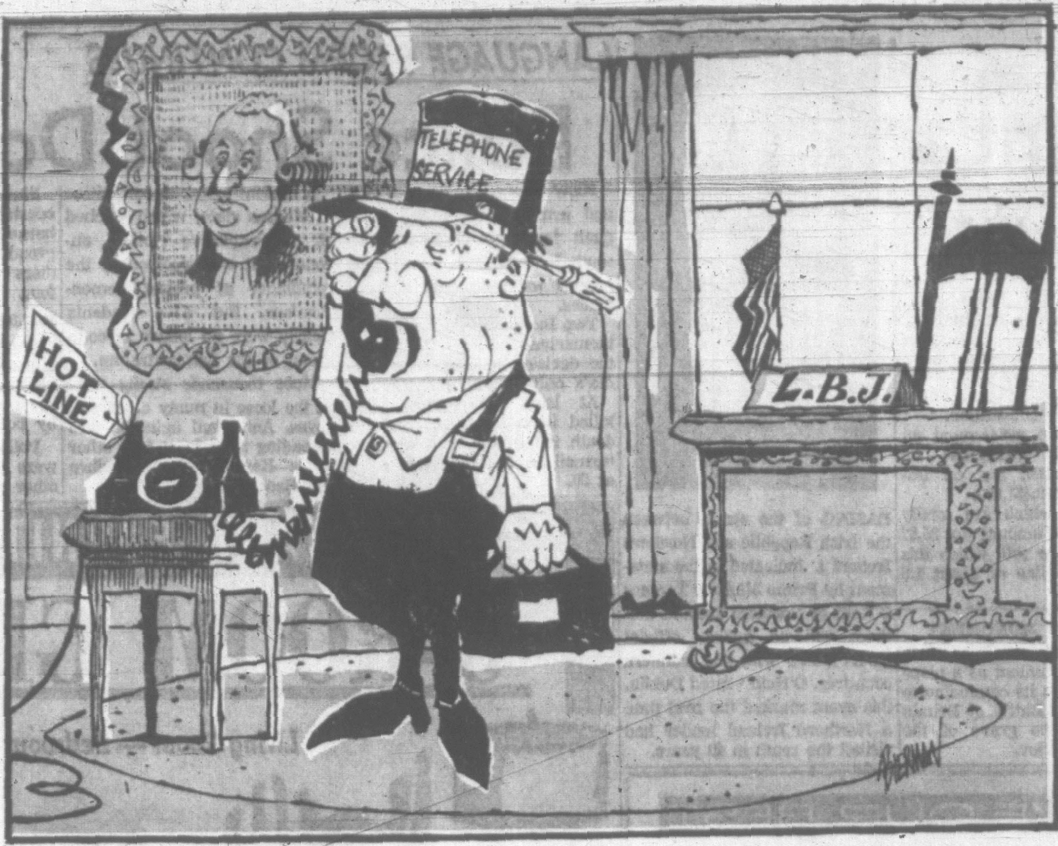
'Fair Shares for All'

THE INTERNATIONAL AIR Transport Association is an organization which has at various times concerned itself with such weighty problems as how large a sandwich should be served to tourist class air passengers or how many ounces of free champagne should be allowed to travellers in the first-class compartments.

The motto of the IATA seems to be "fair shares for all" when it comes to setting rates for its 18 international air line members or deciding the perquisites which their customers should receive. The idea, it seems, is not so much to promote healthy competition on the lucrative Atlantic Ocean air routes as to make sure that no member line should have an unusual advantage in luring custom.

The IATA has surely reached the apotheosis of foolishness in its current squabble over provision of in-flight television or movie entertainment. With the present fare agreement due to expire at the end of next month, the air lines are deadlocked on this question, which must be settled unanimously—that is all 18 airlines will provide movies or TV or none will be allowed to have them. Failure to reach agreement will mean that members of the organization will be free to charge any fare they wish and to provide anything they want in the way of entertainment.

This, of course, would open Atlantic fare travel to the dangers of competition, a possibility viewed with horror in the industry. We're not sure, however, that passengers would look on the situation with the same dismay.



—Bierman, Victoria Daily Times.

"... TESTING ... TESTING ... TESTING ... !"

FROM OTTAWA

By MAURICE WESTERN

Let's Look at the Constitution

THE Conservative High Noon and the perils of Liberal ministers have diverted attention from the important constitutional problems facing the country. Mr. Lesage, however, by placing the Fulton-Favreau patriation formula on the Quebec legislative order paper, has reminded those who care about such matters that the problems are still with us. It is to the credit of Quebec people that they do care. Mr. Lesage and other leaders have made important comments on the subject and the legislature is reviving its special committee on the constitution. In striking contrast Ontario, most populous of the English-speaking provinces, has been immersed in silence. Does this apparent lack of interest reflect the spirt of "I'm all right, Jack"?

Western

There is an alternative explanation. Partisans of the formula may, conceivably, have persuaded the country that patriation is merely a transport operation. The constitution is to be moved from London to Ottawa as wheat is moved from Regina to Liverpool. It is, of course, a symbolic rather than a commercial transaction. What we will get out of it, at no cost to ourselves, is a lovely nationalist glow.

If our MLAs believe this, they will have some excuse for treating provincial resolutions on the subject as routine matters to be hurried through so that the legislature may get on, as quickly as possible, with road, bridges and constituency affairs.

Sea Change

An importer is entitled to expect that he will receive the grade of wheat he orders. But Canadians are not importing the constitution they know. It is to suffer a sea change en route.

Though not so advertised, the present scheme is a plan for constitutional change.

Change may be desirable; certainly no one claims that the present constitution is perfect. In any case, some changes are inevitable if the constitution is to come home.

The curious fact about the British North America Act is that it does not prescribe an amending formula. Whatever conventions may have grown up, there is no written requirement that the federal government must consult with any or all of the provinces, or obtain their consent, before seeking a constitutional change.

It has always been recognized that patriation presupposes an agreed formula of amendment. Quebec, reasonably enough, has steadily insisted on what is called the "entrenchment" of clauses protecting historic rights in such matters as religion, language and education.

But a constitution should be reasonably adaptable to changing times. If each province is to have a veto over everything or over most things, we shall havce placed ourselves in a constitutional strait-jacket.

In theory, the single province veto will apply to a considerable number of things but, as a general rule, amendments will require the consent of seven provinces with half the national population.

The theory is challenged, however, by some eminent constitutionalists who fear that the unanimity rule has been given commanding dimensions since it covers all aspects of provincial power.

This is not all. The veto is to be locked in a veto because the amendment, once passed, will be part of our constitution, amendable only by unanimous consent.

Are we improving the constitution by importing into it the very principle which we condemn in the Security Council of the United Nations?

The Fulton-Favreau formula introduces a second change which has provoked even less discussion than the amending rule. It is supposed to compensate us for the rigidity of the rule and it might well be useful in certain cases. It is the device of delegation which, according to the Supreme Court, is foreign to our present constitution.

Without constitutional amendment, provinces will be permitted henceforth to legislate in federal fields, provided that any four of them secure Ottawa's approval. Similarly, Parliament may legislate in provincial fields subject to like rules.

Delegation

Whether prudent or not, this sounds equitable. But the provinces have entrenched against delegation all but four of their exclusive powers. The federal government has entrenched nothing. If, as some say, delegation is unimportant, why have the provincial negotiators been so very, very careful?

There have always been powerful premiers who have looked with jealousy on federal fields and have attempted to encroach upon them. Time after time, they have been checked by the courts. But if delegation is to be lawful, there is an obvious danger that ambitious coalitions may be able to coerce weak federal governments into the effective surrender of essential federal powers. The courts will be helpless in future to intervene.

This situation might be very simply rectified. Presumably the premiers now in office are innocent of such designs on the federal domain. Why then should they not agree to the entrenchment of powers essential to the maintenance of strong federal government? Such matters as defence, currency and coinage, banking, the regulation of trade and commerce, and the sections of the BNA Act dealing with judges and the courts come naturally to mind.

Desirable Amendment

Not only should the premiers be willing to accept such an amendment; they should be anxious—some of them extremely anxious—to secure it. There is no necessary antagonism between federal and provincial interests; a weak federal authority would gravely damage all the provinces, not excepting Ontario.

This should be clearest of all to the people of the prairies who suffered most when the federal power was at its weakest during the 1930s.

One further act should be noted. If the formula is accepted in its present form, delegation, like the single-province veto, will be locked into our constitution. It will require unanimous consent to get it out.

We do not have an ideal No. 1 Northern constitution but it has probably met enough tests to grade No. 2. We are in process of exchanging it for a constitution grading No. 3 or 4. From the prevailing apathy, however, most people appear persuaded that there is no change at all or, at most, a change without a difference.

If this is indeed the case (and one hopes that appearances are deceiving) we shall no doubt get what we deserve.

VIET NAM IN WASHINGTON

By RICHARD PURSER

Everybody's Telling the President

RARELY has a president had a more confusing variety of paid and unpaid advice than President Johnson is getting about the South Viet Nam war. Congressmen, including senators on the chief committees concerned, have suggestions ranging from escalation (extension of the war to North Viet Nam) to U.S. withdrawal from South Viet Nam. Even at the highest civilian and miltary levels, here in the administration and among on-the-spot advisers in South Viet Nam, advice is conflicting. Special presidential assistant McGeorge Bundy was sent to Saigon partly to try to come up with a definitive answer from the host of contrary opinions. His task was complicated by the simultaneous arrival of the new Soviet premier in North Viet Nam and by Sunday's sensational American air raid on that country.

Purser

The South Viet Nam war has Americans baffled and fed up.

Recent Gallup polls suggest 80 per cent of Americans think the South Vietnamese are losing to the Communist Viet Cong, which is supported and infiltrated by North Viet Nam. Two-thirds of Americans do not expect the South Vietnamese to be able to form a stable government; only 50 per cent think the U.S. should have become involved in the first place, and 81 per cent think President Johnson should call a Southeast Asian peace conference.

So in this country, where anti-communism is supposed by foreigners to be almost a phobia, some senators can propose abandonment of South Viet Nam to the Communists without seeming to fear the wrath of the voters. Most prefer something better; but what?

There is a graded scale of alternatives. At one end is outright abandonment; a declaration by the United States that it is removing its 23,000 troops and is ceasing to concern itself with South Viet Nam. This is unthinkable. It would mean turning over Southeast Asia to China. At the other extreme is frank recognition that the South Vietnamese war is not a civil war but a disguised war between North Viet Nam and South Viet Nam. This is less unthinkable, since it happens to be the truth.

Big Gamble

If it is deemed that the speediest end to the war would be the destruction of North Viet Nam as a military power, the U.S. could either do the job itself with certainty of success, or "unleash" South Viet Nam with full support but less certainty. In either case the greatest gamble would be the reaction of China and the Soviet Union. Would China send its tens of millions of troops on the march and dare the U.S. to use nuclear weapons? Would the Soviet Union stand aside if the U.S. did so? These are imponderable questions in the changing power structure of the Communist world. The U.S. would prefer not to gamble for these top stakes unless it has to.

While the extremists have their say, the government is hoping for a solution on middle ground. The war is being fought somewhere on middle ground now. It cannot be allowed to be lost, but it cannot seem to be won. How can it be pulled out of its rut without extreme risk?

Negotiated Settlement

The talk is of a negotiated settlement. Everyone wants one. But negotiated settlements are tricky to achieve unless the negotiating parties are balanced. It is said that in Oriental psychology he who offers to negotiate first does so from a position of weakness, if the U.S. negotiates from weakness, the most neutral-seeming of South Viet Nams would soon succumb to the giant Communist power of the North. If the U.S. is negotiating from strength (so the Oriental reasoning is supposed to go) why would not it use its strength to win the war in the first place?

While details of Mr. Bundy's findings are unlikely to become public, one new point now is being considered in Washington. If it can be said that the U.S. and South Viet Nam can't win the war, it can be shown to the Viet Cong and North Viet Nam that they can't win it either.

The Communists' present victory psychology may not survive so easily if the U.S. treats every Viet Cong attack on its installations in South Viet Nam as a North Vietnamese attack and reacts accordingly with air power in limited strikes. This may be part of the new policy for balancing the war; congressional leaders seem to have come from high-level secret briefings certain that it is.

DENNIS THE MENACE

"I'M JUST SEEIN' IF I'M GONNA LIKE IT WHEN I'M THIS TALL."

Looking Back

From the Times of Feb. 12, 1890:

Pierre, S.D.: Two hundred settlers broke through army lines and invaded the Sioux Indian reserve. The commander of Company A of the 12th Infantry, Lieut. Tassin, had not heard President Harrison's proclamation opening the Indian land to settlers. He refused to let the settlers move onto the land. Some 3,000 persons were waiting to enter the reserve and their numbers were increasing hourly with incoming trains bringing large numbers of settlers and their families to join the land rush.

Voices Of Quebec

Trois-Rivieres Le Nouvelliste

Czechoslovakia has always been one of the most industrialized countries of continental Europe. Its post-war production has been largely absorbed by the Soviet Union and certain of her satellites. But it has grown to the point where it is larger than that clientele requires, and Czechoslovakia is turning to Canada.

The government of this Communist land must undertake massive imports of food products. Czechoslovakia is wondering if she mightn't buy these goods in exchange for our country's purchase of machinery produced in her factories.

Canada still has food surpluses—grains which Czech plants could transform not only for home consumption but for re-export.

Commercial exchanges between our two countries face the same difficulties as those between us and Japan. We cannot accept any imports which will clash with our own industrial production.

Commercial exchanges cannot be one-way, especially in this post-war world.

Ottawa believes an increase in our trade with Czechoslovakia is possible. We do not fear Communist cash.

Quebec Le Soleil

A North American free trade zone has been under discussion recently even through no formal steps have been taken to establish it. . . . Our country has got to face up to the presence across its borders of a colossus. It must strive to get a good, close-up view of what free trade on this continent would mean.

Canada definitely has industries to protect against international competition, even if it also seeks to promote free trade on a world level. The effects of a disappearance of tariffs must be closely studied where certain goods are concerned and Canada must protect its own independence.

Living as Canadians do in the shadow of the American economy, they should try to understand the realities of this trade problem. They should anticipate a period of adjustment and should protect their relations with other countries which constitute present or future markets for their products.

Montreal Le Devoir

Some newspapers have rushed to approve the Canadian government's decision to give $1,000,000 in military aid to Malaysia.

Those who hail Ottawa's attitude emphasize that it is Canadian aid to another Commonwealth country in face of a threat of aggression from Indonesia. They add that the amount is not huge. But the whole principle of such military aid remains debatable. . .

Malaysia groups four former British colonies. . . President Sukarno alleges that the new federation's purpose is to preserve the economic advantages the British have in the area, and also to give the Malays a majority over the Chinese, which they would not have if only Malaya and Singapore were united.

Indonesia's claims are highly debatable. . .

But in helping Malaysia militarily, Canada may hurt her reputation with the uncommitted world. Our country is fortunately free of imperialist suspicion and has no colonial past to live down. But if we intervene militarily in the Indonesia-Malaysia conflict, it may be rightly said that our motive is protecting British interests left over from imperialism.

Our Colombo Plan economic aid to Malaysia is quite justified but military aid is something else again.

As Our Readers See It

In Memoriam

Next Monday our historic Red Ensign will be lowered for the last time and a new flag will take its place as the emblem of Canada.

Many Canadians have felt that the Red Ensign should be retained, but by due democratic process a new flag has been chosen and authorized, and we have to accept it. This does not, however, prevent us from showing our respect and regret for the old flag in an appropriate way.

A group of us will wear black ties next Monday, and we hope that those readers who share our feelings will join us. Men who do not normally wear ties to work could wear black pants. Ladies could wear black dresses or black skirts and white blouses.

YOUR HEALTH

By Dr. Walter Alvarez

During a year I get many letters which distress me, and make me very sympathetic because I can imagine how very unhappy the writer is. The person is practically always a woman who has lost by death a husband, a child, or perhaps a mother. She now gets no mental rest, because she keeps wondering if perhaps her loved one would be alive today if the doctors had only kept on for a longer time, giving oxygen or performing artificial respiration (pressing rhythmically on the chest wall so as to cause air to keep going in and out of the lungs) or trying to make the heart contract. So often in these cases, when I hear the facts, I am strongly inclined to believe that the man or child or mother was dead when he or she dropped unconscious, or when he or she reached the hospital emergency room.

* * *

Because I get so many letters from the worried women, I was much interested when recently, in the Journal of the AMA, I read an article called "Life or Death," written by Dr. Hannibal Hamlin, of Boston. The doctor discussed the problem that every so often comes up in the emergency room or the recovery room of a big hospital, when a person apparently has died suddenly. Then for a while the physicians in attendance will make great efforts to start up breathing and a heartbeat again.

Often they will keep up their efforts even when for a time there has been no pulse at the wrist, and no heartbeat to be heard with a stethoscope. Then the question arises, "Should the doctors go on with their efforts, or should they quit? Is there any sense in going on struggling to bring back life?"

Dr. Hamlin says that a good way of settling the question, when it arises, is to have electroencephalograms made. These are records of the tiny electric currents which are constantly being formed in the living brain. When these little waves stop running, the brain is dead; and when it is dead, there is no sense in trying to bring the man back to life, granting that it could be done.

Occasionally it has been done, but then the person, without much of a brain, lived on as idiot. A while ago I read the report of such a case, in which the physician, with frantic and rapid work, managed to get the man's heart going again. The fellow's body lived on, but his brain was practically gone (much of a bloodless brain must die in five minutes). And so, obviously he would have to be an idiot for as long as he lived.

* * *

This was bad enough, but then what I think was awful was that the family sued the doctor for huge damages and won their suit. A bad result of this is that now no sensible doctor should try to run a five-minute race with a dying brain.

So far as I could see, from what I read, the only blame that could be attached to the doctor was that he had lost the race, but who could say that if he had been a bit more skillful, he could have won? I doubt if even an able surgeon who had watched the proceedings would have tried to guess. But the jury of people who knew nothing about the problems involved, and who had not watched the race, probably thought that the huge damages would come out of an insurance company, and so said, "Why not give the wife the money?"

CROWDING PREVAILS

Havana Suffers House Shortage

HAVANA (Reuters)—Cubans have been told bluntly they can expect no early solution of the country's acute housing shortage, although more than half the population is living in homes officially classified as uninhabitable.

A further third live in deficient or over-crowded houses, showing a total of 84.6 per cent of all dwellings listed to be in need of rebuilding or radical improvement.

Only 10 per cent of all Cubans are officially considered to be adequately housed.

The authorities frankly admit that at the present rate of construction the problem can never be solved. In a recent speech, Premier Fidel Castro said: "Our present levels of construction are negligible compared with our needs."

BEHIND SCHEDULE

The total number of houses built in the first five years of the revolutionary regime barely reaches the total required for a single year under plans to erase the housing shortage by the construction of about 2,000,000 homes in 25 to 30 years.

The annual output in the period was, in fact, only just over half the number of new houses needed to cope with the yearly population increase—let alone start re-housing projects for people now living in uninhabitable homes.

Authorities, however, say that housing, though an urgent problem, is just not one of the revolution's top priorities. Castro cited it as an example of those problems which cannot be solved in the immediate future.

He puts development of agriculture, industry, health and education higher on the list.

HEAVY DEMAND

To build the hundreds of thousands of new houses needed, he says, would freeze the construction of hospitals, factories, schools and roads.

As a stop-gap measure, authorities are encouraging a "do-it-yourself" program, whereby the state gives technical assistance and credits for acquiring materials with which the individual builds his own home.

This plan works out best in rural areas, where agricultural laborers can devote time to building their own homes after working hours.

But a major problem is the scarcity of materials, and the authorities realize that such make-shift measures can have little real impact.

'LOOK WEST MR. PM'

NDP's Howard Hits Road Contribution

Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — New Democrat Frank Howard said Thursday the government's proposed $30 million contribution to highway development in the Maritimes smacks of "outright discrimination or vote-buying."

Howard (NDP—Skeena), in a written statement, said people in British Columbia and the other three western provinces will "resent" Prime Minister Pearson's announcement, while he continued to reject similar programs in other areas of Canada.

"It smacks of discrimination or vote-buying and either way it's inequitable," Howard said.

He recalled that on April 28, 1964, the government opposed plans for a national highway building conference because of the substantial increases in tax transfers to the provincial governments.

HOPES SHATTERED

"The immediate result of that rejection was that plans and hopes were shattered for a so-called second trans-Canada highway through the central part of the western provinces which would include B.C.'s highway 16," Howard said.

The four western provinces are just as urgently in need of federal highway building assistance as are the Atlantic provinces, Howard said, "and any failure on the part of the Liberal government to recognize and act upon that need can only be construed as rank, outright discrimination."

"There is the possibility that the Liberals are out garnering votes and feel that their chances are better in the Atlantic provinces than they are in the west," he continued. "And $30 million can have a great influence at election time."

Howard said the rejection of last April had been "reluctantly accepted," but in the face of the announcement Wednesday the prime minister would be well advised to "look west."

NDP Wants BNA Act Revised

OTTAWA (CP) — The New Democratic Party put forward a new centennial project Thursday — a completely revamped Canadian constitution.

T. C. Douglas, national leader, presented an outline of NDP constitutional views at a press conference. A main point was overhaul of the constitution, embodied in the British North America Act, by 1967.

He expressed concern that the government's proposed formula for amending the constitution, expected to come up at the next session of Parliament, might be adopted before there is a thorough revision of the BNA Act. Such a move might mean legislators would find themselves handcuffed by the formula in future if changes should be desired.

The outline said a "consistent lack of leadership" at the federal level had left a vacuum into which the provinces had thrust expanding claims.

Minimum Hike Sought

OTTAWA (UPI) — The New Democratic party will propose the federal labor code be changed to make the minimum wage $1.50 instead of $1.25. Party House leader Stanley Knowles said in an interview Wednesday the party will also ask the code provide for three weeks holidays with pay after three years' service

Municipal Aid 'Stagnant'

The provincial government ignores rising living costs when it makes per capita grants to municipalities says Alan Macfarlane (L—Oak Bay).

Speaking in the budget debate Thursday he said the government based its per capita grants on a rate established in 1956.

"The number of dollars per capita is the same now as in 1956," he said. "Surely what was paid in 1956 is not fair pay in 1965? Wages have increased, prices have increased, cost of municipal services has increased and the revenues of the province have increased. But municipal aid has remained stagnant.

Mr. Macfarlane said in 1963 Oak Bay received $181,480 in per capita grants from a provincial budget of $372 million.

"In 1965 Oak Bay will again receive $181,480 while the provincial budget has increased to $446 million," he said.

"Municipal taxpayers are entitled to share in the growth of the province," he added.

MACFARLANE ASKS ACTION

Bed Lack at Jubilee Under Fire

For $20,000 the provincial government could relieve the bed shortage at Jubilee Hospital and wipe out a 42-bed "fire-trap" isolation ward.

Alan Macfarlane (L—Oak Bay) made the claim Thursday when he took Health Minister Martin to task with a scathing attack on departmental policy.

He said the minister was holding up the opening of two floors at Jubilee while he "flounders around trying to answer the unanswerable.'

Mr. Macfarlane said much of the problem at Jubilee could be eliminated if Mr. Martin would loosen the purse strings and spend $20,000.

With that amount plus federal grants, Mr. Macfarlane said, 61 beds could be provided and the isolation ward, which he said was condemned as a fire-trap by the fire marshal, could be torn down.

"The rickety wooden one-storey building at the back of the Jubilee is a fire-trap, a menace and a disgrace," Mr. Macfarlane stated.

BED SHORTAGE

Quoting extensively from a four-man committee report on the bed shortage situation in Victoria Mr. Macfarlane said city hospitals needed 414 new beds to bring them up to strength.

His statement brought an angry denial from Mr. Martin and the accusation that hospitals "can't prove they're using the beds they've got properly."

Mr. Macfarlane said the report prepared in 1964 by John Holdstock, Dr. R. E. Adams, Thomas J. Bradley and Michael A. M. Fraser showed a serious bed shortage.

"In their report these gentlemen said 'the present number of beds in use is not adequate and there exists a shortage of approximately 160 beds quite apart from obsolete beds' " Mr. Macfarlane said. "Add to that figure the beds now obsolete, some 254, and you have a shortage of 414 beds."

Throughout Mr. Macfarlane's speech Mr. Martin interjected "that's not true" or "the report's wrong."

Mr. Macfarlane replied that the bed shortage situation was too serious "to be the subject of peevish outbursts by the minister. Action is what is needed, not petty bickering."

POPULATION TREND

Study Advocated On Seat Shuffle

The MLA for the North Peace River constituency wants the government to take a serious look at the changing population centres of B.C. befroe it decides to redistribute seats.

J. F. Huhn said Thursday that the population of nothern B.C. was growing "very rapidly and our problems are harder to administrate than they are in the cities."

He asked that serious consideration be given to the future before drastic measures were taken to equalize present population and the vote.

"I have an area to cover which is greater than New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Vancouver Island put together," he said.

Mr. Huhn was speaking in the budget debate.

He asked the government to give urgent consideration to the expansion of the PGE to Fort Nelson.

"We need the PGE to run as far north as Fort Nelson so that we can start development in that area," he said. "We are expanding rapidly but we need the communications."

Mr. Huhn also asked the government to try to solve the "native population problem."

He said that in the north Indians came in from their reservations and, lacking money to get home to remote reservations, were often arrested and thrown in jail.

"This is not right," he said. "Why do reservations have to be so far out from communities? The natives come into town for an evening and they have nowhere to go. Sure, they may have been tossed out of a bar somewhere, but if they had somewhere to go they would go there. Instead, having no money left for a taxi back to the reservation they get arrested and tossed in jail. It just isn't right."

MacPowell 'Still Interested' In Building Mill at Kitimat

VANCOUVER (CP) — MacMillan, Bloedel & Powell River, Ltd., is still interested in building a pulp mill at Kitimat, a spokesman said Thursday.

His remarks followed a statement by Kitimat Reeve Sam Lindsay expressing concern that the northern city would be eliminated from MBPR expansion plans.

Last week, the Kitimat Chamber of Commerce issued a statement urging the provincial government to review a recent allocation of timber to the forest industry giant because the company could not build a proposed pulp and newsprint mill with the amount promised.

But the company spokesman said the situation with Kitimat is the same as it was three months ago. It has asked Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston to hold the tree farm licence while it prepares working plans for a revised pulp and paper mill.

The original MBPR plan called for a $150,000,00 pulp project with a 740-ton mill at Kitimat.

Reeve Lindsay said the company's $90,000,000 expansion plans at Powell River "indicates there is an extreme danger that original plans for a pulp mill in this region will pass us by".

He suggested every possible pressure be brought to bear on Skeena MLA Dudley Little, the provincial government and the company.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Upward Trend Noted Among Major Issues

Prices of shares of many major companies, buffeted for two days on North American stock exchanges following uneasiness caused by the situation in South Viet Nam, recovered sharply today.

Investors today started buying heavily. Brokers claim the buying surge was to take advantage of lowered prices.

AT TORONTO Bank of Montreal and Bank of Nova Scotia each advanced ½ while CPR gained a point at 66¾ and Algoma Steel 1 to 77¾. Aluminium and Bell Telephone each gained ⅝.

Abitibi and John Labatt, B.C. Forest Products and Alberta Gas Trunk A gained ¼ each.

Golds were strong with Dome up 1⅞ and Giant Yelowknife and Campbell Red Lake up ½ each.

AT NEW YORK volume for the day was estimated at 5,100,000 shares compared with 5,830,000 Thursday.

After three sharp declines this week on the Viet Nam crisis, many leading issues looked attractive to traders and investors and the market snapped back some of its losses, brokers said.

Standard Oil (New Jersey), weak in recent sessions, was bought so insistently that it looked like the most active stock, showing a fractional gain.

Airlines and gold mining issues were strong.

As the golds rallied, Homestake and American - South African Investment rose about 2 each, Dome Mines and Campbell Red Lake more than a point each.

AT MONTREAL utilities were up with Bell Telephone adding ¾ and CPR ⅝.

Papers were easier with Price Bros. up ¾.

Banks and industrials were also up.

Among speculative mines Kiena Gold added 30 cents and Patricia Silver four cents.

AT LONDON a slightly easier tone was evident in stock markets today, reflecting disappointment with British trade figures. But prices soon steadied and the market turned mixed. Gilt-edged were easier.

Dollar stocks were dull in reflection of Thursday's decline on Wall Street. Leading Canadian issues which shed up to 2¾ points included Abitibi, Algoma, Aluminium, BA Oil, Consolidated Paper, Consolidated Mining, Hudson's Bay Oil and Gas, Imperial Oil, International Nickel, Noranda and Trans-Canada Pipe. Massey-Ferguson and Brazilian Traction managed fractional improvements.

AT VANCOUVER mining stocks made gains on the Vancouver Stock Exchange at noon. Continental Potash rose three to 62 cents on 54,600 shares. New Imperial moved up eight cents to $2.08 and Silver Standard gained seven cents to $1.28.

Texmont sold actively with 95,900 shares trading to rise two cents to $1.40. Utica increased 11 cents to $2.47 and Torwest put on seven cents to $1.05.

Courtaulds, Reed Join In Takeover

LONDON (CP) — Courtaulds Ltd. and A. E. Reed, two giants seeking to expand by taking over the big Wall Paper Manufacturers group, have announced details of their cash-and-shares offer amounting to about 25 shillings ($3.75) a share.

For every 100 Wall Paper five-shilling ordinary shares they would give 43 Courtaulds five-shilling (75 cents) shares, 17 Reed £1 ($3) shares and £31 ($93) in cash.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Chicago recessions brought generally lower prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Declines were due to disappointment at unsettled labor troubles on the docks and an unchanged international situation.

Flax and rapeseed declined with Chicago soybean recessions. Shipping and export interests bought on declines. Trade reports confirmed sale of 2,000 tons of rapeseed to Japan Thursday and 3,000 tons of flax to France.

Faster Dominion Result of Switch

Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—The Canadian Pacific Railway is moving to improve the service on the Dominion for passenger traffic by transferring express and mail to fast merchandise freight trains, a spokesman for the railway said today.

Rumors have been flying across the country that the CPR was planning to eliminate the Dominion. They have originated, the railway believes, from mis-information over the new plans the company is working out now for the Dominion.

"These rumors undoubtedly have arisen as a result of our plans to improve the service on the Dominion by transferring head-end traffic (express and mail) from the Dominion to fast merchandise freight trains," the spokesman said from Montreal head offices of the CPR.

By transferring the express and mail to fast freight trains this will mean that the Dominion service is not subject to slowdowns and interruptions as has been the case in the past. It should mean faster, more regular trips by the Dominion, on schedule.

The Dominion in the future will carry just passenger traffic as does the other crack CPR train, the Canadian, during much of the year.

McDonald Gaining Ground In Controversial Voting

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — I. W. Abel clung to a diminished lead today in his challenge for the presidency of the giant United Steelworkers' Union (USW). But optimism mounted in the camp of incumbent David J. McDonald.

Abel's margin, which at one time approximated 17,000 votes, was reduced appreciably Thursday when returns began coming in from some of the larger USW locals.

The winner of the bitterly contested election may not be known until after an official count is made by the union's international tellers. That count begins Feb. 19. There also was a strong possibility that the outcome may be put to a test in the courts.

The latest figures supplied by Abel's headquarters in Chicago gave: Abel 272,289; McDonald 242,286. This was on the basis of 2,351 locals.

At McDonald's tabulation centre in Pittsburgh, the votes from 1,713 locals favored him by 232,805 to 185,003 for Abel.

For the first time since the polling places closed, a prediction of victory had been sounded by the McDonald forces. However, it was a qualified prediction.

James Griffin, national campaign manager for McDonald, told a news conference here that his man would be re-elected if the trend in the vote count continued.

Sharing the spotlight Thursday with the vote count were charges of irregularities flung by both sides and a court action.

Federal Judge George N. Beamer in Hammond, Ind., denied a petition sought by the McDonald forces for an injunction to impound the ballots of the huge USW Local 1014.

John Stomp told the court he and other observers for McDonald were denied permission to examine 30 ballots tabulated early Thursday. Stomp charged violation of the Landrum-Griffin Act.

Earlier, another McDonald adherent accused the Abel forces of delaying the tabulations.

U.K. EXPORTS INCREASE

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain's exports fell more heavily than her imports last month and the gap between them widened by $16,000,000 ($48,000,000), the Board of Trade announced today.

This gap is made up of £15,000,000 $45,000,000) on visible imports and exports and £1,000,000 ($3,000,000) on invisibles, such as insurances and shipping.

The board added that the falling back in imports showed the 15 per cent surcharge industrial imports was beginning to bite, and that the general trend was moderately growing exports.

But currency dealers here regarded the figures as not good enough and said that, even allowing for the fact that December with its record exports was about the best month last year, the financial measures taken ought by now to be showing a bigger reduction in imports.

Hong Kong Bank Panic Japan Worry

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese trading and banking circles are worried over what effects the Hong Kong bank panic will have on Japan's trade with the British Crown colony, Kyodo news service has reported.

Japan is currently selling to Hong Kong an average $250,000,000 of goods, principally vegetables, fruits and textiles.

If the present financial confusion in Hong Kong continues, Kyodo said, Japan may not only suffer heavy loss to its trade with the colony but also to its commercial banks having close connections with Hong Kong.

It said there are 87 foreign bank offices in Hong Kong, of which three are Japanese and one a joint China-Japan enterprise. The three Japanese banks are the Bank of Tokyo, Sanwa Bank and Sumitomo Bank of Osaka. The joint venture is the Chekiang Bank and the Daiichi Bank of Tokyo, known as Chekiang-Daiichi Bank.

Kyodo quoted the Japan external trade organization in Tokyo as saying Japanese trade representatives in Hong Kong are considering postponement of Japanese shipments to Hong Kong or temporary suspension of current Japan-Hong Kong trade talks.

Clearing Tenders

VANCOUVER (CP) — B.C. Hydro announced Thursday it has called tenders on two contracts to clear right of ways for two 138,000-volt transmission lines in the Kamloops area. One is between Savona and Valleyfield and the other between Kamloops and Barriere.

DAIRY MEN PROTEST LOW QUOTAS

SALMON ARM (CP)—A dispute has erupted in the Okanagan milk industry involving 12 chambers of commerce, more than 700 dairy farmers and the provincial milk board.

The dispute centres around milk quotas which the farmers say are far too low, and an Armstrong dairy's refusal to ship milk to the market in Prince George.

The dairy farmers have asked provincial Agriculture Minister Frank Richter, to appoint an investigating board to look into milk quotas which the farmers say have not kept pace with the rise in milk sales.

B.C.'s Oil, Gas Development at Stake in Ruling

If Alberta and Southern Natural Gas Company gets the go-ahead from the National Energy Board to export more gas to California, exploration and development in B.C. will be stalled.

Donald Brothers, minister of mines and petroleum resources, told the legislature Thursday that 31 drilling rigs are working in the Peace River area and more would be drilling for gas and oil if they were available.

"Alberta and Southern's application to export an additional 450 million cubic feet of gas a day to California is now in the hands of the National Energy Board," he said. "If they get the go-ahead our exploration and development will be stalled."

The NEB hearings are scheduled for March 29.

A and S was recently granted permission to export more gas from Alberta fields by the Alberta Oil and Gas Conservation Board after a two-week hearing in Calgary.

The cities of Edmonton, Calgary and Red Deer protested the application to the Alberta board on the grounds that proven gas reserves in that province were not sufficient to assure the 30-year supply for Albertans guaranteed by the provincial government.

Two utility companies, Northwest Utilities in Edmonton and Western Natural Gas Company, Calgary, also protested on the grounds that further exports to the United States would force local prices up.

The conservation board rejected the protests saying it was satisfied that adequate reserves were left to protect Albertans.

Shortly before the A and S hearing the conservation board heard a similar application for greater exports from Trans-Canada Pipelihes Ltd. The Toronto-based company wanted to export more gas to eastern Canada but admitted under cross examination it also had an eye on U.S. markets on the eastern seaboard.

The board granted the application.

Mr. Brothers told the legislature the California export market is a natural outlet for B.C. natural gas.

In his maiden speech as a cabinet minister Mr. Brothers briefly reviewed the mining industry in B.C. and said the "Cinderella" industry of mining molybdenum would prove to be one of the provinces greatest assets.

He said that within a few years B.C. wuold become the world's leading producer of molybdenum.

Molybdenum is often used as an alloy in steel production where it reduces brittleness. It also has great heat resistant qualities.

"Success is not a sometime thing. With us it is the permanent way."

Mr. Charles F. Mackenzie, President.

Here are the highlights of our 110th successful year in a row.

Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation again is Canada's leading mortgage loan company in 1964 with total assets of $426,267,580, an increase of $55,444,000. Mortgage investments accounted for more than $50,000,000 of the gain.

The Reserve Fund of the Corporation has increased to $22,500,000 with the addition of $1,000,000 in 1964 and now represents more than 2⅓ times paid up capital.

Combined profits of Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation and its subsidiary Canada Permanent Trust Company increased to $3,311,000 or $3.45 per share from $3,054,000 or $3.19 per share in 1963.

Combined total assets of $1,497,330,000 broke all previous records. Money deposited with the companies by the public (savings deposits, debentures, guaranteed certificates) reached an all-time high of more than one half billion dollars with a gain for the year of $72,000,000.

Estates, Trusts and Agencies grew to a total of $947,008,000.

The program of branch office expansion continued in 1964. New branch offices planned for 1965 will increase the number to 45 from coast to coast.

This is the permanent way: a report of past progress that points toward a future of substantial growth. With us, success is not a sometime thing.

OFFICIALS VISIT VICTORIA

West to Share in Expo 67 Pacts

Officials of Expo 67 sailed into Victoria on a sea of enthusiasm Thursday bringing good news to B.C.

Proclaiming "it's the birthday cake for the birthday party," Expo deputy commissioner-general Robert Shaw said B.C. firms will likely get more than their share of the cake when tenders for construction at the centennial year fair are handed out soon.

"The value of the tenders which will likely be awarded to B.C. firms will probably exceed this province's $250,000 contribution to the world exhibition," said Mr. Shaw.

The Expo men, including Mr. Shaw, Philippe De Gaspe Beaubien, director of operations, and Drummond Giles, director of Canadian exhibits, were here to give a progress report to the B.C. cabinet on the affairs of the fair.

The Expo officials are on a world tour to visit the more than 60 countries expected to participate.

Property for exhibits costing $3,000,000 or more will have to be leased by April 28 this year. The deadline for property for exhibits costing $1,000,000 to $3,000,000 is July 31 and lots available for smaller exhibits will be closed Sept. 30.

SIX MONTHS

For concessions the deadline is extended six months in each case.

The main reason for the deadlines is to ensure all the exhibits are completed when the main gate swings open April 28, 1967.

"But if someone misses the deadline for exhibits and concessions they can always sponsor an event, a fountain or fireworks display," he adds.

"This is going to be the largest world exposition ever held and it has got more firsts han you can count."

Among them:

- The Christian pavilion combining seven faiths.
- A business development bureau to assist in exchange between businessmen.
- Free mass transportation within the grounds.
- The 1,066-foot high Montreal-Paris tower.
- A permanent amusement area wtihin the grounds.

"All it takes," said Mr. Shaw, "is imagination, design and dollars."

'Secret' Pact Claimed Unfair To U.S. Firms

CHICAGO (AP)—A lawyer for the Automotive Service Industry Association said here that United States automotive products makers will ask Congress to reject the free-market agreement with Canada affecting the auto products industry.

Harold Halfpenny, the general counsel for the A.S.I.A., told the group's annual convention that the agreement to abolish tariffs on auto parts between the two nations, negotiated by Prime Minister Lester Pearson and President Johnson, threatens American firms and their employees.

"Conceived in secrecy," Halfpenny said, "it contains many surprises and is unfair to the American independent automotive products manufacturer."

'HAZARD' PICTURES SENT BY PGE MEN TO W.C.B.

Pacific Great Eastern Railway workers have sent the Workmen's Compensation Board photographs taken to back up claims of unsafe conditons on the B.C. government-owned line.

The pictures were accompanied by a typed catalogue of complaints compiled by two safety representatives for the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, on strike against the railway.

The catalogue says no basic safety instruction is given a man who enters train service.

Other pictures show lumber, garbage, scrap, ties and steel scattered beside tracks, sometimes spilling across rails into the path of trains.

The track is almost completely overgrown with weeds in some pictures, while in others uncropped vegetation obscures dangerous curves and signals.

'Keep Brightest Brains at Home'

ACUPULCO, Mexico (CP) — Timber magnate H. R. MacMillan gave $8,200,000 to the University of British Columbia because he believes B.C.'s brightest brains should remain in the province.

Mr. MacMillan's gift, the majority of which is for post-graduate work, was announced earlier this week.

In an interview with a Vancouver reporter here Mr. MacMillan said Canadian universities must compete with the United States in graduate studies "otherwise we will lose some of the brightest people in our population."

Mr. MacMillan, on a cruise on his yacht, was reluctant to grant the interview because too much publicity "only means more people will be coming after me for more money."

"I can assure them right now that they are not going to get any. I have made this grant to the university because that is where I believe the money is needed most."

The government provided primary and secondary education with the money it needed.

NEEDS SUPPORT

"But higher education does need support from private sources.

"British Columbia is the place where I made my money and I believe I should put it back into the province."

Mr. MacMillan founded the H. R. MacMillan Export Company in 1919. The company grew to MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Company, one of the largest pulp - timber - newsprint industries in North America.

Boost Widows Allowances, NDP Member Urges Gov't

An opposition member Thursday scored Premier Bennett's budget for proposing salary increases to the MLAs and cabinet while not boosting widows' allowances.

William Hartley (NDP—Yale) was the first House member to criticize the general increase which he said was the first time he received a wage boost without hard negotiations.

"It's rather an odd situation when Big Daddy can give us a bigger cheque and yet I see nothing in his budget that says the widows and children of men killed in the mines and the woods will have more too," he said.

Mr. Hartley said he felt that the MLAs' pay should be revised to reflect their varying costs—pointing out that undoubtedly more pay should go to members of huge northern ridings "than to the three members for Victoria who don't even have to pay a board bill" during the session.

He said the revisions should come in the form of recommendations from an all-party committee of the legislature.

Mr. Hartley said he also found it odd to see MLAs, who have bus passes and government-paid medicare, refuse to extend medicare to the whole population or provide free bus passes to the aged.

He pointed out that the government provides its own insurance plans for vehicles but refuses to set up a crown insurance agency and "lets the public be gouged" by private insurance rates.

"There is an insurance man from the east buying steaks for MLAs," said Mr. Hartley over a spate of interjections. "I can tell him right now that I'm not interested."

Mr. Hartley said the government's subsidy plan for private medical insurance premiums on a means test was "bringing medicare in by the backdoor."

He said it was merely a gesture to placate public pressure for a full medicare plan and if it was not improved quickly, the Socreds would be tossed out of power "just as the coalition was" for an unsatisfactory hospitalization insurance plan.

Burnaby Coliseum Bid Backed

Recreation Minister Kenneth Kiernan Thursday responded enthusiastically to Burnaby's bid to build a multi-million-dollar coliseum-stadium.

He promised Reeve Alan Emmott, at a private meeting here, to take the proposal to the cabinet to see if a federal-provincial capital grant could be arranged as a 1966 B.C. mainland-Vancouver Island centennial project.

Mr. Kiernan even suggested that Reeve Emmott's $6 million estimate was unrealistic and should be revised to at least $7 million.

After the meeting, Mr. Kiernan said the plan to build a 13,000-seat coliseum with ice surface facilities and a 40,000-seat covered stadium at the west end of Burnaby Lake "has considerable merit."

He said the location was central for the lower mainland. The vacant property would be provided free by the municipality. The new freeway passes close by and fully adequate parking could be provided.

Burnaby council is seeking support for its proposed sports complex as an alternative to a downtown coliseum debated by Vancouver council.

Reeve Emmott later said he would submit a brief within a week.

He said he would ask for a one-third grant from each of the federal and provincial governments.

The municipality would provide about 70 acres—estimated at about $1 million in value—and the final third of the cost would be provided by an incorporated society similar to the Pacific National Exhibition.

Radio-Phone Link

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia Telephone Company will build a 150-mile radio system from Terrace to Stewart, providing service to Kincolith, Aiyanish, Canyon City, Greenville and Alice Arm. The $700,000 system will provide new long-distance circuits, teletype and radio-telephone for the Nass River area communities.

KEEP TRANSIT SERVICE, SOCRED TELLS CABINET

The provincial government should not dump the transit services on to the municipalities when franchises run out, a northern riding backbencher said Thursday.

Dudley Little (SC—Skeena) told the legislature the buses would become a "pile of junk" quickly under civic administration so they should remain the responsibility of B.C. Hydro.

However, he argued that higher bus fares and not subsidies from electricity revenues should be used to keep the transit system solvent.

Mr. Little also said the government should "come to an understanding" with giant pulp and lumber firms that, after a development period in new ventures, the companies would have to allow the public to buy common stock.

He said private corporations "should be forced" to offer stock—after a time period enabling them to amortize new investments—as a condition of obtaining a tree farm licence.

'SEE YOU IN THE FINAL, I HOPE'

Good bets to be striking this pose (without the smiles) in battle for ball Saturday night during final of lower Vancouver Island high school girls' basketball tournament are Oak Bay's Lee Hagglund (left) and Marg Maysmith of Victoria High. Oaks and Vics are favored clubs among eight that start tourney tonight at 5 on Oak Bay High court. Action resumes Saturday at 10:30 a.m. and final is scheduled for 8:45 p.m. (Times photo by Bill Halkett.)

Standard Playoff Plan Appears Likely in CFL

Western Circuit Switches To Single-Game Semi-Final

OTTAWA (CP)—A standard playoff system for the Eastern and Western Football Conference is in the making.

The breakthrough came Thursday when the WFC voted unanimously at its annual meeting to switch its semi-final to a sudden-death affair, matching the EFC's.

Action was expected today from the EFC to close the rest of the gap by adopting a best-of-three final.

Under the old setup, the WFC had a two-game, total-points semi-final and a best-of-three final. In the EFC it was a sudden-death semi-final and a two-game, total-points final.

Main losers in the deal will be WFC fans. The five WFC clubs agreed to slap a surcharge on all playoff tickets to compensate themselves for the loss of a semi-final playoff game. The extra price will vary between cities but average 50 cents a ticket.

Both conferences held separate closed meetings Thursday. Today they launch the two-day annual meeting of the Canadian Football League.

WFC clubs have complained privately for years about the different playoff formulas.

In many years it meant that the WFC champion entered the Grey Cup national final after five bruising playoff games. Their EFC opponents were comparatively fresh after only two or three playoff contests within the same period of time.

Don McPherson of Regina Roughriders, new WFC president, said the ticket surcharge would not compensate fully for the lost playoff game but "should go quite a ways towards it."

Games May Not Reach Home TV Sets

Television issues dominated the EFC meeting, informants reported.

There is a prospect that football may not reach the country's TV screens this season. The EFC has had reports that neither CBC nor CTV will agree to Canadian football TV coverage because of a dispute over the control of pay-TV and black-out areas.

Both conferences have sold their public TV rights to a Montreal public relations firm. The deal doesn't include pay-TV or closed-circuit TV rights which are retained by individual clubs.

It is reported the Montreal firm is unable to obtain network time because the networks insist on a veto over other TV coverage. The football clubs hope to negotiate a settlement of the dispute and ensure TV coverage this year.

One of the issues for the CFL today will be the playoff bonus paid to players, an offshoot of the WFC playoff change.

Under the two-game semi-final, WFC players got a $500 bonus. Players in the EFC drew $350 for the single semi-final. The aim is to get together on a single one-game figure for both conferences.

The CFL meeting will have to forgo the usual recommendations it receives from the nine general managers—at least until Saturday.

The nine men met for more than five hours Thursday night without settling their schedule wrinkles, the first item on their agenda.

They'll try again at a second meeting tonight.

Leafs Hoping For 'Fat' Feb.

February is not traditionally "get fat" month in business, but Victoria Maple Leafs are hoping to pile up a buffer of profits against a March which could be a blockbuster or a giant fizz.

The idiosyncracies of Western Hockey League scheduling have Leafs playing only eight games in February's 28 days. In March the holiday gives way to a routine which has all the earmarks of life in a Sibernian slave camp.

The Victorians play 15 games in 21 days, 10 on the road where all ice surfaces are uphill, or so it seems.

Those are other days, days which won't matter if the Leafs cannot handle their immediate business affairs. These include a Friday-Saturday-Sunday series against the WHL's foremost tenants.

The Leafs are at Seattle tonight for a game with the second-place Totems.

All Leaf hands toiled splendidly Thursday. For extra conditioning defenceman Fred Hucul went horsebacking later with an overweight jockey, coach Rudy Pilous.

The Leafs host Portland (7-4 victims last time here) Saturday night at Memorial Arena, bus off to Portland for a Sunday night return game.

"We have to be good in these games," Allan "Buck" Houle, the Leafs' general manager was saying. "We need the buffer for March when things get hectic."

If the status of visiting teams is a yardstick of crowd appeal, the Leafs should play to inflated houses the rest of the month. All their home games are against the three top clubs, Portland, Seattle and Vancouver.

Maybe Boston Bruins should not have played at all.

The hapless Bruins postponed a scheduled Jan. 10 meeting with Montreal Canadiens because of an ice show in the Boston Garden. When it finally was played Thursday night, the Bruins would have liked to forget the whole thing.

Canadiens bombed the Bruins 7-1 and snapped their longest losing streak in 15 years—five losses that dropped them out of first place and saw them give up 23 goals while scoring only five.

The victory boosted the Canadiens into second place, two points ahead of Toronto Maple Leafs and two behind the leading Chicago Black Hawks. In the only other game played, Detroit Red Wings downed the Hawks 5-3.

Claude Provost scored twice for Canadiens and Claude Larose, Ralph Backstrom, Dave Balon, Henri Richard and Jim Roberts added singles. Defenceman Bob Woytowich was the only Bruin to beat Gump Worsley.

PAIR PLEASE BLAKE

But it was the work of Richard and Jean Beliveau that satisfied coach Toe Blake. Richard set up the winning and insurance goals and although Beliveau only had one assist, he paced the Habs with his driving performance.

Bruins rookie goalie Jack Norris faced 48 shots, while the Gumper stopped 20. He was informed two hours before game time that Charlie Hodge would return to the bench after a one-game comeback—a 6-2 loss in Toronto Wednesday night.

The Wings fired 49 shots at Chicago's Denis DeJordy but trailed Chicago until they fashioned a three-goal explosion within a three-minute span during the second period.

FIRST WAS TIED

Parker MacDonald and Doug Mohns scored in the first period to create a 1-1 tie and Camille Henry banged in his 23rd of the season while Detroit was shorthanded early in the second.

But between 6:41 and 9:23, Ted Lindsay, Gary Bergman and Gordie Howe connected to send the Wings ahead 4-2. Chico Maki added a Chicago goal four minutes later but Norm Ullman's 24th provided the Wings with a clincher in the finale.

SUSPICIOUS PATTERN

Dog Fix Feared; Race Called Off

LONDON (AP) — Officials called off a race at Stamford Bridge greyhound track Thursday after big-time bookmaking organizations reported a suspicious pattern of betting on the race.

The bookies were caught seven months ago in a betting coup that might have cost them $2,800,000 — but they never paid off the full amount. This time they took no chances when heavy betting developed on the forecast combinations of traps 2, 3 and 6 for the race.

The forecast betting requires the bettor to pick the first and second finishers in a race, not necessarily in order. Six dogs run in each race.

Track officials said:

"After taking samples of the dogs and having found a positive reaction, the stewards decided that the race should be cancelled."

McGinnis Playdowns

Civil Service edged Victoria Press 3-2 and Yarrows drubbed Mercury Marine 9-0 in Stuffy McGinnins Hockey League action at Memorial Arena this week.

League playoffs will get under way next Wednesday with the Servants meeting Yarrows and the Pressmen playing the Mercs.

METS—WHO ELSE?

Toughest Test Ever Faces Jesse Owens

NEW YORK (AP) — Jesse Owens won four Olympic gold medals and beat horses in exhibition races. Now, at 51, comes his toughest test — teaching New York Mets to run fast.

The Mets have sprinted home last in a field of 10 in the first three years of their National League existence.

George Weiss, the Mets' president, announced Wednesday that Owens was joining the club as a special running instructor for spring training. He plans calisthenics and sprints and hopes to have them doing push-ups out of last place.

Owens likes to talk about the times he ran against horses.

"First of all, no quarter horses," he said. "We'd get a thoroughbred and then try to get his owner, not a jockey to ride. We got the biggest gun we could find. It was 120 yards for the horse, 100 for me. When the gun went off, the horse would rear and I'd shoot out about 50 yards before he got started. With my seven-foot stride and the horse's 20-foot stride, it was exciting."

Owens lives in Chicago where he is active with the Illinois Youth Commission.

Island Tourneys At Cumberland

CUMBERLAND—Teams from Comox, Nanaimo, Saanich, Victoria and Cowichan will take part in the Vancouver Island bantam basketball finals here Feb. 27.

Winners of both boys and girls divisions will advance to the B.C. finals in Vancouver.

Cumberland will also host the Island juvenile boys' final March 13.

CLEVER FORWARD Henry Vanderhorst tests talents with Victoria and District Soccer League all-stars at Royal Athletic Park Saturday. Henry and stars will tackle Victoria United of Coast League in exhibition tussle at 2 p.m.

Shaky Tour Start For Victoria Pro

PANAMA CITY (AP)—Art Wall, Jr., is off to a flying start on the Caribbean golf circuit again this year.

Wall, the veteran from Pocona Manor, Pa., shot what he described as his finest round in years Thursday, posting a nine-under par 63 to take the first-round lead in the Panama Open.

The event is first stop on the Caribbean tour and Wall, defending over-all champion, jumped off to a five-stroke lead. Second place went to Mal Galletta Jr. of Hempstead, N.Y., who shot 34-34—68.

Wall, who holds eight Caribbean tour records, needed just 26 putts and missed only two greens despite a brisk breeze that hampered many of the golfers. Players from 11 countries are entered in the tourney which winds up Sunday.

LEADS CANADIANS

Adrien Bigras of Montreal led a field of 13 Canadians with a 33-36—69. Phil Brownlee of Toronto had a 72 made up of two nine-hole totals of 36.

Bob Breen of Woodbridge, Ont., and Wilf Homeniuk of Winnipeg had 73s. Breen had a 37 and 36 while Homeniuk reversed the scores.

Bob Panasiuk of Windsor, Ont., had a 74 from 37s.

Raymond Huot of Sorel, Que., and Jim Morton of Montreal each had 75s. Huot shot a 42 and a 33 while Morton had a 37 and 38.

Alf Huestis of Toronto shot 36-40—76. Eric St. George of St. John's, Newfoundland's first representative on the Caribbean tour, had a 36-41—77.

Ken Jacobs of Concord, Ont., Kenry McIlree of Toronto and Franco Sirianni of St. Basil Le Grand, Que., shot 78s. Jacobs and McIlree had identical rounds of 41 and 37 while Sirianni shot a 40 and a 38.

Bill Wakeham of Victoria had a 40 and a 39 for 79.

RIFLES LACK A BALL PARK

TORONTO (CP) — Quebec Rifles, Continental Football League entrants, had hoped to move to Toronto from Montreal. But they may not find a stadium.

University of Toronto's athletic directors have voted against negotiating the rental of Varsity Stadium to the Rifles.

BOWLER OF WEEK

Highest score recorded in distaff division this season has earned Dolly Milliken women's fivepin award in Times Bowler-of-the-Week competition. Mrs. Milliken barely missed 900 triple as she bowled 260-326-312—898 in Wednesday Morning Ladies' League at Town and Country Lanes. Dolly and husband, Ernie, have both been bowling for about seven years.

Pulled Muscles Sideline Bower

TORONTO (CP) — Goalie Johnny Bower of Toronto Maple Leafs won't play in Detroit Saturday or Boston Sunday.

Bower suffered pulled groin muscles when he kicked at a shot during a warmup before the Leafs' National Hockey League game against Montreal Canadiens Wednesday night.

Quick Seal Goals Sink Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — San Francisco Seals broke a 2-2 tie on two quick goals in the third period and went on to defeat Los Angeles Blades 6-3 in a Western Hockey League game before 7,444 fans Thursday night.

Gerry Odrowski broke the tie at the 10:02 mark of the third period before Len Haley slapped in two insurance goals. Dallas Smith and Wayne Connelly rounded out scoring for the winners.

For Los Angeles it was Leo LaBine, Brian Smith and Warren Hynes.

The win gave fifth-place Seals 45 points while Los Angeles remained in the cellar with 40.

Odrowski's tie-breaking goal came on a 25-foot shot that deflected off the stick of Los Angeles goalkeeper Jack McCartan.

Forty-one seconds later Len Haley banged in another. Hynes put Los Angeles back in contention with a goal at 19:01, but Haley's second goal with 13 seconds left to play put the finishing touches on the win.

San Francisco goalie Bob Perreault foiled any Los Angeles chances by kicking away 33 shots. McCartan stopped 24.

Colwood Par Test

Mrs. H. Thorburn, three down, won the silver division of a women's par competition at Royal Colwood Golf Club Thursday.

Bronze division winner was Mrs. M. Shook, one down.

"C" division winner was Mrs. D. Williamson, seven down.

Volleyball Tournament At Uvic Gym

Three major volleyball tournaments will be played at University of Victoria gym on Saturday.

The three-in-one meet will see teams from Vancouver, Seattle and Victoria vie for the Western Canada junior girls' championship, the B.C. junior boys' championship and the Canadian-American intercollegiate honors.

Abbotsford Tech, Universitly of Victoria and Vic High's team will compete in the girls' tournament with winners advancing to the Canadian finals to be played in Vancouver March 27.

Uvic, UBC Chiefs and Vic High will campaign for the junior boys' title while the intercollegiate playoffs will draw teams from Uvic, UBC and University of Washington.

SELF-PROPELLED SURFBOARD . . . . . . CAN REACH 40 MPH

Ski-Flee Can't Flee if You Fall Off

VANCOUVER (CP)—A self-propelled surfboard with a motor that automatically stops when you fall off is being offered to those who like to find their thrills on water.

It's a Ski-Flee, 12 feet long and of fibre construction, invented by Michael Sawchuk of Toronto.

It can reach speeds up to 40 m.p.h. depending on the outboard power used, can carry two persons at a time and is steered by shifting weight.

R. G. Scobie first saw it demonstrated on television and decided to bring it to West Coast thrill-seekers. He now is president of Ski-Fleet Boats of B.C. Ltd.

Scobie says Ski-Flee is also being marketed in the Maritimes, on the Prairies and in California. He picked the Marpole Rotary Boat Show here Feb. 8-13 to give it a send-off in British Columbia.

The first Ski-Flees to be sold here will be imports from Toronto but later they may be built here, Scobie says.

The little speedster has a sharp, boat-like bow section with a freeboard of about three feet. This tapers back to a water-level platform on which the operator stands, holding rein-like ropes to help him manoeuvre and manipulate the throttle.

The motor—Scobie says anything from six to 18 or 20 horsepower can be used—is mounted through the hull forward. With the propeller well down in the water, Ski-Flee doesn't plane high but simply skims along the surface, leaving little wake.

Scobie, in partnership with two other men in the venture, says:

"She's fast and handling her is tricky at high speed, but that's where the thrills come in. At slower speed anyone can handle her.

"She can also be used as a diving platform, for fishing or as a private sunbathing deck out on the lake or the saltchuck. She's ideal for car-topping."

Equipped with styro-foam floatation, Ski-Flee is virtually unsinkable.

SPORTS DIARY

By SHIRLEY POVICH

(The Washington Post)

WASHINGTON—Sonny Liston has beaten the rap in Denver and for his next trial is getting a change of venue to Boston. That is where he will face off against Cassius Clay again, in May, in his appeal from the case that went against him last February in Miami Beach, where he suddenly lost his enthusiasm for the battle plus his title.

Scarcely had Liston been returned the winner in a Denver courtroom over the Denver cops and the charges they brought against him and his 1965 Cadillac, when the Boston promoters announced that his fight with Clay was on again. This was the fight that was aborted three nights before the battle last November when Clay wound up in an ambulance, accompanied by a hernia.

The Denver acquittal on drunken driving charges was necessary for Liston, lest he be un-frocked as a licensed boxer. It seems that Liston wasn't drunk at all. That stagger the police said they noted when Sonny walked away from his car was in their own imagination, Liston claimed, successfully.

The Denver cops may know how to work a two-way radio and they may think they know a drunk when they see one, but Liston contended they know nothing about the art of terpsichore. That wasn't any stagger. Sonny was simply doing a little dance, he said. He likes to dance at odd hours and in odd places. Besides, he said, he hadn't even been the car's driver. He just happened to have a friend who was.

Clay Not As Easy As Denver Cops

In Boston in May, the prospect is that Liston will have to show even more fancier footwork to reclaim his heavyweight title from Clay. Sonny won't even be the biggest man in the ring this time, if he trains down to the shape he should have been in, in Miami, where he was a flabby hulk in his misunderstanding that Clay would not be hard to lick.

Clay himself has grown into a great big 220-pounder who, despite his blow-hard activities between fights, always seems to be in shape when the fight comes up. He did a job on Liston in Miami, was ahead on points when the fight ended, showed utterly no fear of Sonny or his reputation, and gave every indication he could beat Liston again, any time.

The man with the biggest rooting interest in Liston's latest brush with the law in Denver, aside from Sonny himself, was Clay. Liston represents to Clay, the biggest meal ticket in the history of boxing, with their re-match promising a 5-million-dollar gross, thanks to pay-TV, and Cassius cashing in this time on the champion's bigger percentage of the purse.

Durable, Fearless—That's Chuvalo

The whole boxing business appears to have turned the corner with its latest stimulant the Patterson-Chuvalo fight of last week. That one was adrenalin for the prize fight industry, the sell-out crowd demonstrating that there is a basic appetite among fight fans for a good brawl, or the prospect of one.

For Clay and Liston the Patterson-Chuvalo affair revived the prospect of more paydays at a time when it appeared there was nobody else to fight except each other. If Patterson's victory over Chuvalo was not classic, it nevertheless made fans aware that he is still around, and eager, and that his chin may not be pure Dresden after all. Patterson survived many a swat from Chuvalo.

Chuvalo, too, will still be around and in fact he lost nothing against Patterson except the decision. He won much, mostly the recognition that he is a durable, fearless, tireless plodder who can beat any fighter not in top shape and perhaps some who are. He appears definitely in the future of Clay and/or Liston.

Liston Will Have to Show Something

A Clay-Chuvalo bout, in hypothesis, offers the speculation that Chuvalo wouldn't last long. Not because Clay would knock the Canadian senseless, but because he would probably cut him up fiercely and leave him in his own gore. The Canadian fights like an open city and was an easy target for Patterson who drew blood from the first round.

But against Liston, Chuvalo would have a better chance, it appears. The same forcing tactics that could get him jabbed silly by Clay would take Chuvalo into enthusiastic battle with the slower Liston and once inside he deals out punishment. Chuvalo is a hard rock who perhaps could take Liston's punches and leave a fighter of Liston's type pretty discouraged about the whole thing.

In his own way, Clay left Liston pretty discouraged at Miami Beach last February. He was jabbing Sonny hard and belting him, too, and Liston discovered perhaps for the first time that he could bleed. Anyway, he didn't like it and preferred his corner stool when the bell sounded for the seventh round. But the same discretion, at Boston, will get him nothing.

United to Tackle District's Select

Victoria United has a rest from Pacific Coast Soccer League chores this weekend but they won't be idle.

The hottest team in the PCSL, United will meet the District League All-Stars in an exhibition benefit game Saturday at Royal Athletic Park at 2 p.m.

Proceeds will go to Juergen Stoessel, an all-star who suffered a leg fracture last fall, and the District League, which operates the concession at Athletic Park.

United will be missing only one regular for Saturday's game. Fullback Tony Quinn is recuperating from a pulled leg muscle and is not expected to dress.

THE SELECTED ONES

Named to Carl Pedersen's District League all-stars are Bruce Polland, Ernst Rober, Don McIntosh, Ian Holroyd, Gino Bressen, Barry Cosier, Henry Vanderhorst, Volker Stoldt, Jim Schultz, Maurice Bunyan and Bonny Egbonoli. Reserves are Dunc Campbell, Stossel, Marty Taylor, Al Metcalfe and Ernie Eastlake.

The District League has scheduled two games Sunday. Scottish will face Brodies at Heywood and Gorge plays Esquimalt at Topaz Park.

Three games will be played in the second division. Dunlops face University on Beacon Hill's small field at 12:45 while Wanderers and Sidney take the same pitch at 2:30. Oak Bay will play Gorge on the big field at 2 p.m.

Vikings Clash With Oak Bay

Although most of the attention will be on the McKechnie battle at Macdonald Park, one Victoria Rugby Union match will also be played Saturday.

Oak Bay and University Vikings are slated to tangle in a first division match at Windsor Park at 1 p.m.

Victoria Crimson Tide will open defence of the McKechnie Cup against University of B.C. Thunderbirds in a 2:30 match at Macdonald Park.

Two league matches are on tap at 2:30 Sunday.

James Bay and Cowichan meet in a first division clash at Macdonald Park and University hosts James Bay in a second division game at the Gordon Head campus.

PAR POINTS EVENT

Mrs. John Tribe and Mrs. J. Usher each finished with 35 points to tie for top honors in a par points competition at Uplands Golf Club this week. Mrs. W. Higgins finished third with 34 points.

Program Aimed At Improving Shooting Talent

A double-barrelled program to improve the calibre of shooting was agreed upon by 75 members of the Vancouver Island Shooting League at their first annual meeting at Nanaimo.

The group will increase its efforts to promote shooting in novice and marksmen classes, plans to introduce an instructors' qualification exam.

Before becoming instructors, club officials will have to pass an exam based on that of the National Rifle Association and the B.C. Federation of Fish and Game clubs.

Members re-elected Gary Williams as secretary-manager, named Ernest Foulser, Joseph Garner and Brian Adams directors.

Combination Loop Cards Four Games

All eight teams in the Combination Soccer League will be in action Saturday.

Starting the day's proceedings at 10 a.m. will be Island Tug and Rangers, who will meet on the upper pitch at Royal Roads.

At 2 p.m., Falcons and Hotspur will clash at Bullen Park, Royal Roads will host Navy at Royal Roads, and Malahat will tackle Duncan on the Duncan field.

Snell to Burn Indoors Last Time on Saturday

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The talent of Peter Snell, the world's top middle distance runner, will be seen indoors for the last time Saturday night.

The New Zealand sensation will be running in the Los Angeles Times indoor games. It's one of five distances in which he holds the world record.

And after it's over, says Snell, 26, he's through on the boards. Snell told a press conference Thurday he will retire from track completely after "one more fling" of outdoor competition next summer.

"I'm writing a book about track," he said, "and I guess that automatically will end my amateur career. But I want to quit this year anyhow. I can't give enough time to track and advance my work, too.

"Also, I want to develop more of a family life."

A competitor who writes a book about track is considered to be capitalizing on his specialty, and hence loses his amateur status.

In private life, Snell is a public relations executive, for a tobacco company in Auckland. He does not smoke.

HOLDS FIVE RECORDS

Snell, a double gold medal winner at the Tokyo Olympics last year, holds these world standards — 1:44.3 for 800 metres; 1:45.1 for 880 yards; 2:16.6 for 1,000 metres; 3:54.1 for the mile, and 2:06 for 1,000 yards.

The New Zealander plans to return home immediately after Saturday night's competition. But he said he hopes to come back to Southern California for the Compton Invitational in June. Then he will travel to Canada and Europe for other races on his final fling.

In the course of his last effort, Snell has two ambitions. "I'd like to have a go at 3:50 for the mile and I'd like to break the 1,500-metre record."

He listed five potential successors to himself as king of the milers—Dyrol Burleston, Tom O'Hara, Jim Ryun of the United States; Michel Jazy of France, and John Davies, a fellow New Zealander.

'NO EXCUSES'

Crothers Loses To His 'Patsy'

NEW YORK (CP)—Toronto's Bill Crothers of Markham, Ont., says he has no excuses for losing Thursday night to an American half-miler he has whipped regularly. Tom Farrell beat Crothers in world record time.

Crothers, 24, considered the second-best half-miler in the world next to New Zealand's Peter Snell, said after his loss in the 800-yard run at the New York Athletic Club track and field meet that he still plans to compete in the Los Angeles games Saturday.

Farrell, 24, of St. John's University, N.Y., ran the distance in 1:49.8, clipping 1-10th of a second off the old indoor mark of 1:49.9 set by Snell in Japan in 1962.

However, the world standard is unofficial since indoor records are not recognized by the International Athletic Federation.

"I have no excuses," said Crothers, who finished in 1:50.3. Dieter Bogatzki of Germany was third in 1:52.5.

CANADIANS LOSE

Nancy McCredie of Brampton, Ont., and Jenny Wingerson of Toronto were both beaten by world and Olympic champions.

In the women's shot put Miss McCredie finished second to Tamara Press of Russia, who set an American indoor record of 57 feet, 5¼ inches. Miss McCredie, 20, had a toss of 51.8. Earlene Brown of the U.S. set the old standard of 49.9.

Miss Wingerson, another Olympic team member, was third in the shot put with 41 feet, one-half inch.

Yolanda Balas of Romania, the world record-holder, set an indoor world mark in the women's high jump with a leap of five feet, 9½ inches.

Diane Gerace of Trail, B.C., set the old indoor world mark of five feet, nine inches in Cleveland in March, 1964.

James Crelle of Los Angeles won the mile in 4:07.1. Ergas Leps of Toronto was third in 4:08.4.

Nanaimo Juveniles Take Lead

Nanaimo stepped off to the best start Tuesday in the opening game of the Vancouver Island juvenile hockey final.

The Hub City stars, getting two goals from Kerry Kneen and Greg Gow, edged Victoria 6-4 in the first half of a total-goal series. Second game will be played Saturday at Nanaimo.

Ray Facer and Wayne Classen also scored for Nanaimo while Brian Whitten (2), Ross Swanton and Dunc McLean replied for the Victorians.

The Island midget and bantam finals will also be wrapped up Saturday.

Jim Marasco Defends Alberni 'Spiel Title

ALBERNI—"B.C.'s biggest little bonspiel" gets under way next Wednesday and the 48-rink limit was reached in December.

Exactly half of the rinks entered are from out-of-town.

Heading the hometown entries is youthful Jim Marasco, who last year skipped an Alberni rink to 11 straight victories and the aggregate title.

Opening draws:

Forbes Kennedy Out for Season

BOSTON (UPI)—The injury-riddled Boston Bruins announced today that forward Forbes Kennedy suffered a broken collarbone in Thursday's National Hockey League game with Montreal and will be lost for the rest of the season.

Kennedy slammed head first into a goal post in the third period of the game which Montreal won, 7-1. He had played in all 51 Bruin games this year.

Bout Called Off By Commissioner

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—State athletic commissioner Joseph S. Walker has ruled out a planned 10-round non-title bout March 29 between middleweight champion Joey Giardello and Charlie Cotton.

Walker said Cotton was not a fit opponent for Giardello.

Why is Gold Keg Beer a different colour?
It has to be.
We brew Gold Keg for its flavour. To get that flavour takes a special malt, and a unique strain of hops. These special ingredients make Gold Keg a stronger deeper amber than other beers.
It's another one of the differences that sets Gold Keg Beer apart.

PALMER OFFERS PLAN . . . . . . TO IMPROVE PRO GOLF

Too Many Pool-Table Courses

NEW YORK (AP)—Big-time tournament golf needs a new look and should be streamlined to fit the modern era, says Arnold Palmer.

"We're playing too many tournaments," the four-time Masters champion says in an article in Golf magazine. "We are playing on too many pool-table golf courses. And we have too many players who don't belong on the tour."

Palmer offers a four-point program for improving the pro tour. They are:

1. Limit the number of official tournaments to 30, those with purses of $100,000 or more. There could be a separate tour for less-experienced players, with lower-purse tournaments.

2. Set up tournaments on a five-year plan stretching from east to west to enable clubs to form a long-range program.

3. Rate players by money winnings and drop those who don't show reasonable progress.

4. Discourage the sponsoring of pros.

Palmer suggested that only the best courses be used.

Yancey Leads at Phoenix; Leonard Trails by Three

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Bert Yancey carried a one-stroke lead into the second round of the $67,500 Phoenix Open golf tournament today.

Yancey, a Philadelphian, shot a five-under par 67 Thursday. Tied for second at 68 were Al Geiberger and Frank Beard. Jerry Steelsmith and Walter Burkemo were just off the pace with 69s.

A foursome at 70 included defending champion Jack Nicklaus, Julius Boros, Peter Mazur and Stan Leonard of Vancouver.

Montreal's Al Johnston was one stroke behind Leonard with 37-34. George Knudson of Toronto was tied with 17 others with 73 on rounds of 37 and 37.

British Open champion Tony Lema carded a 73 and PGA champ Bobby Nichols had a 74.

Bill Casper, Jr., who won last week's $100,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic in Palm Springs, Calif., was even par 72.

Hornet Goalie Goes to Wings

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League are sending goalie Carl Wetzel to the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League.

The Hornets are to receive centre Eddie Joyal and goalie Bob Champoux from Detroit.

Bonded Stock is in the best shape ever.

Our whisky doesn't come in those old bottles anymore.
Those fine old bottles have launched their last sips. We've designed these new containers for Bonded Stock.
Plus matching new labels.
And we age Bonded Stock longer now as well. This makes every drop just a little more mellow.
One thing though. Bonded Stock's smooth lightness we don't change.
Our blenders know a good thing when they taste it.
Judging from the number of people who buy Bonded Stock, so does the rest of the country.

Province Increases Grant In Nursing Home Projects

The provincial government has increased its scale of construction grants for non-profit nursing homes to 50 per cent, Health Minister Eric Martin announced Thursday night in the legislature.

He said this was a "tremendous step" towards providing continuing care in acute hospitals as well as in separate nursing homes operated by religious and charitable societies.

"We have broken through and are now entering into the broad plain of continuing care," he said.

The old rate of assistance was a one-third grant.

The new 50 per cent grant—for construction and equipment of all new units and additions—brings the nursing home grant to the same level as that for acute hospitals.

In addition, Mr. Martin said, grants in aid of 33⅓ per cent will be given for purchasing movable equipment and alterations of existing nursing home facilities.

The grants could be instrumental in adding a new facet to general hospitals — continuing care wards providing the same facilities as nursing homes.

The first approval for such development was given while Mr. Martin spoke.

Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell wired the Campbell River Hospital board that approval in principle had been given for a 50 per cent government grant to a proposed 25-bed continuing care ward as well as completion of an unfinished addition to the acute wards.

It was understood that about 18 other hospitals in the province are considering continuing care wards and these would obtain the 50 per cent grant.

NURSING HOMES

In addition, existing nursing homes such as Mount St. Mary on Burdett and St. Mary's Priory at Langford could obtain 50 per cent government grants for any additions.

Several charitable societies here are understood to be considering construction of nursing homes to supplement low rental housing programs for senior citizens.

Mr. Martin also told the legislature he hoped to be able to announce soon that B.C. Hospital Insurance Service coverage would be extended to persons in the non-profit nursing homes.

"This program of extended hospital insurance coverage will become effective later in the year, when current negotiations with the federal government are concluded," he said.

DAM VIEWS OUTLINED

A Social Credit backbencher, J. F. Huhn (North Peace River) wants the lake behind the Peace River dams named "Williston Lake."

He made the request to the government in the legislature Thursday.

He would also like the Portage Dam named "Bennett Dam."

But after making his request he admitted that he was not making the second request seriously.

"Some people might change it around," he said.

Measles Vaccine

NEW YORK (AP)—A new one-shot vaccine against measles—reported to be 99 per cent effective in children—was put on the market Wednesday. The firm said its vaccine should eliminate the need and the discomfort of multiple injections to obtain immunity.

Retarded Facilities To Expand

Health Minister Eric Martin Thursday night announced a 100-bed $1.9 million addition to Tranquille School for mentally retarded children will be built this year.

"Plans have been finalized and it is hoped construction will commence within the very near future, with occupancy taking place later in the year," Mr. Martin said.

The addition will raise the capacity of the school, near Kamloops, to 680 beds.

Mr. Martin said this and the 1,400 beds at Woodlands School would be increased by another 400 beds in a third hospital school for retarded children planned for construction at Royal Oak. He gave no indication when it will be built.

Mr. Martin said opposition outcry about an 830-name waiting list for admission to Woodlands was disgraceful and irresponsible.

"Look at the action we got," interjected Leo Nimsick (NDP—Cranbrook).

Mr. Martin said the list was thoroughly analyzed last March after questionnaires were sent to each family. Out of the 830, 306 did not reply indicating no interest in admission, he said. The replies were analyzed and 77 were found inapplicable for a variety of reasons.

"In effect, this survey has established the fact that the actual waiting list at the Woodlands school—that is persons whose admission is sought as soon as possible—is about 200," he said.

"There are another 241 for whom admission may be required at some future date."

He said about 200 have been admitted since last March, partly through renovation of a building for the multi-handicapped which freed 104 beds.

Union Protests

VANCOUVER (CP) — William Stewart, secretary-treasurer of the Marine Workers and Boilermakers' Union (CLC) said last week his union has protested to Transport Minister Pickersgill the suspension of the federal government's shipbuilding subsidy.

PROBE LAWYERS:

Vital Facts Withheld

By KEN KELLY

OTTAWA (CP)—The RCMP went on the griddle Thursday at the Dorion inquiry after being accused of withholding vital facts from lawyers during earlier stages of the investigation.

The accusation came from Yves Fortier, counsel for Montreal lawyer Pierre Lamontagne, and Ross Drouin, counsel for the Progressive Conservative party

It was vehemently denied by RCMP counsel Norman Mathews, who maintained that unjustified criticism was being levelled at the force.

The sharp words were exchanged as Chief Justice Frederic Dorion began a new phase of the inquiry — the RCMP's conduct of an investigation into allegations of bribery and political pressure by ministerial aides.

Until now, the inquiry has concentrated on examining the allegations of Montreal lawyer Pierre Lamontagne that he was offered $20,000 July 14 by Raymond Denis, then executive assistant to Immigration Minister Tremblay, to agree to the release on bail of Lucien Rivard.

Rivard is wanted in the United States on charges he was a key figure in a huge international narcotics smuggling conspiracy. Mr. Lamontagne is counsel for the United States government in seeking Rivard's extradition to the U.S.

Full Information Not Given

Examination into the RCMP's conduct had hardly started when Mr. Fortier and Mr. Drouin protested to Chief Justice Dorion that they could not do their clients justice at earlier stages because the RCMP had not supplied them with full information.

They asked time to examine a new sheaf of RCMP reports which, they argued, contained information on which earlier witnesses should have been questioned. They served notice they may want to recall some witnesses heard earlier.

Chief Justice Dorion said any gaps which there may have been can be corrected in this way.

Mr. Fortier and Mr. Drouin listed three examples of information they said was withheld from them.

One concerned a lunch at the Chateau Laurier Hotel here with Denis, Andre Letendre, present executive assistant to Justice Minister Favreau, and Guy Masson, who called himself an errand boy for Rivard's friends in the Rivard case.

A second related to a telephone call placed to Mrs. Rivard while Masson and Denis were meeting at a motel in neighboring Hull, Que., June 22.

Another phone call—to Denis at his summer cottage from Raymond Daoust, a lawyer for Rivard, asking what Mr. Tremblay would reply to a letter from Mr. Daoust—was cited as the third.

Justice Overrules Objection

Mr. Mathews said deletions were made from RCMP reports supplied to the lawyers so that a witness could be questioned during the inquiry only about statements made by him and not statements made by someone else. He had "scrupulously complied with" instructions of Chief Justice Dorion in this respect.

Mr. Fortier said that by no stretch of the imagination could statements attributed by police to Mr. Letendre about the lunch with Denis and Masson be considered statements by anyone except Mr. Letendre who testified earlier this week.

Chief Justice Dorion overruled an objection by Mr. Mathews to the inquiry being given as an exhibit notes taken by RCMP Inspector J. R. R. Carriere when Mr. Lamontagne first went to police with complaints.

Commission Counsel Andre Desjardins said the RCMP is "implicated in this case." As an example, he said, RCMP Constable Gilles Poissant made notes of an important telephone conversation on the envelope of a gas bill and then lost them.

Insp. Carriere said he had kept his notes of his Aug. 11 conversation with Mr. Lamontagne in a drawer "in case something took place."

He had reported the chat to RCMP headquarters at Ottawa and two days later received a telephone call at home from Commissioner G. B. McLellan who asked him to get a full, written statement from Mr. Lamontagne.

"It is rather an exception to the rule for the commissioner to give direct orders in an investigation," he said.

'Investigation Run From Ottawa'

Insp. Carriere testified that the investigation was taken over Aug. 19 by Inspector J. P. Drapeau from the RCMP's protective division in Ottawa. Nothing was done after that without direct orders from Insp. Drapeau.

Insp. Carriere quoted Mr. Lamontagne as saying that Liberal MP Guy Rouleau, who resigned Nov. 24 as parliamentary secretary to Prime Minister Pearson, had tried to persuade him to "slow down" opposition to bail for Rivard.

Mr. Lamontagne had also said "some misfortune" might occur to him and has asked RCMP help He had said efforts might be made to blackmail him through "false witnesses."

Insp. Carriere also quoted Mr. Lamontagne as saying that Denis had said there would be money for the Liberal party, Denis and Mr. Lamontagne if Rivard was released on bail.

The inquiry also received as exhibits copies of letters and airline tickets which Insp. Carriere said were picked up at Rivard's home the day of his arrest June 15.

Two letters were from convict Bob Tremblay, now serving 20 years for attempted murder in a Vancouver narcotics case.

COMMEMORATION PROPOSED FOR FOUNDING OF RN BASE

WURTELE TO ASK COUNCIL STUDY

Esquimalt Expected to Circle June 29 for 100-Year Flashback

By PETE LOUDON

The hundredth anniversary of the founding of a naval base at Esquimalt is expected to be marked with civic and naval ceremonies this year.

Reeve A. C. Wurtele, a former navy commander, today said he will take the matter up with his council at an early date.

At the same time overtures are being made for observances by the navy, it was learned.

One proposal so far advanced is that the navy and the municipality combine for some form of celebration on June 29.

That was the date in 1865 when an order-in-council was passed in England creating an RN base here on a permanent footing, according to records in the Provincial Archives.

Esquimalt harbor had been used as a safe anchorage as early as 1792. At that time the Spaniards were bickering with Britain over the presence of a Spanish garrison at Nootka on Vancouver Island's west coast.

To improve relations with Britain, Spain proposed removing its base to the mainland, south of the Strait of Juan de Fuca. A party surveying a new boundary, headed by Dionisio Alcala Galiano and Cazento Valdez anchored at Esquimalt.

Royal Navy ships came here in 1846 to protect the new British settlement at Victoria. Among them were HMS Fisgard, Pandora and Constance, a frigate which also used the anchorage.

In 1854, when Britain went to war with Russia, Esquimalt became a base for operations of the Pacific Squadron. In 1855 three wooden "hospital" buildings were built at Duntze Head. But it was 10 years later before the shore establishment was formally created.

Wooden buildings were added until about 1890 when large repairs began to be carried out and brick buildings, some of them still in use, were added.

After the turn of the century the Canadian government began to assume greater responsibility for coastal protection.

Canada paid the base maintenance costs, provided some garrison troops and stationed HMCS Rainbow there in 1910 and the Royal Canadian Navy came into being.

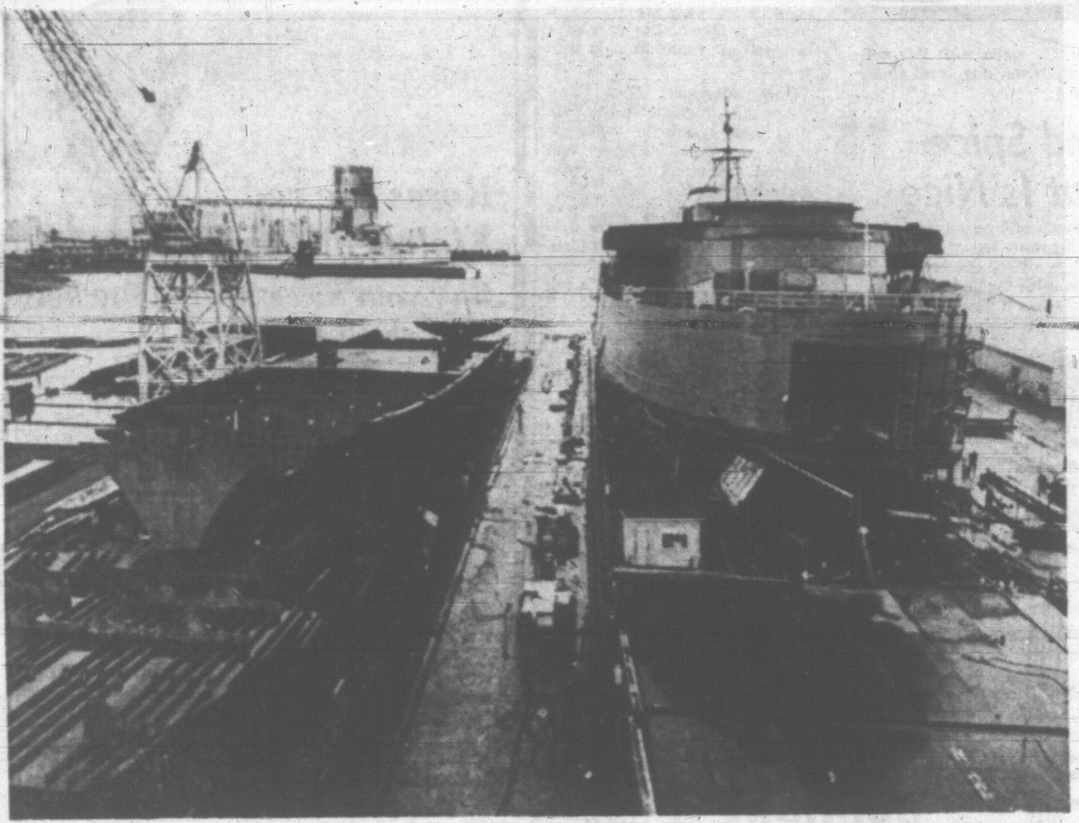
For three days in 1914, British Columbia had a navy based there also—two submarines hastily purchased from the U.S. for $1,150,000. War had just broken out with Germany. The citizenry was relieved to see the subs and the government didn't let on that we had no torpedoes at first.

The federal government took over the subs and found an ex-submariner of the RN at Toronto, Lieut. Adrian Keyes. He had no uniform and arrived here in a blue suit and a straw hat and sleeve braid he'd borrowed from train conductors.

The Royal Navy era had come to an end, but it left its mark — Race Rocks and Fisgard lighthouses (some of the stone was brought around the Horn from England) and the first drydock, built in 1887.

Cricket and rugger grounds were built and the streets of Esquimalt named to recall RN heroes—Nelson, Sturdee, Grenville, Drake and Admirals. Even after the Dominion Government Graving Dock was built in 1926, the largest ship ever to enter it was a British liner, the Queen Elizabeth in 1941.

Thousands of men learned seamanship at Esquimalt during the Second World War—and many of them still live in this area, assuring a huge interest in the proposed commemoration this year. Others, spread across Canada, will be with Esquimalt in spirit when the centenary falls due. It could even develop into a great reunion of ex-servicemen who once served here.



ELEVENTH QUEEN of provincial ferry fleet, Queen of Burnaby will be launched Monday at 1 p.m. at Victoria Machinery Depot. The $3.75 million ferry will be sponsored by Mrs. Charles MacSorley, wife of the Socred MLA for Burnaby. New ferry is a sister ship to the Queens of New Westminster and Nanaimo and will carry 1,000 passengers and 110 cars at a speed of 18 knots. VMD has built nine provincial ferries and has three more under contract. One of them is the Queen of Prince Rupert, pictured at left and due to be launched in October. (Jorgen Svendson photo.)

Two-Year Term Given To Toy Pistol Bandit

'Wish You Luck' Says Magistrate

The "toy pistol bandit" who held up two women in the Empress Hotel last Aug. 8 was sentenced to two years in jail this morning.

Geoffrey M. Hudart of Toronto earlier pleaded guilty to the charge and had been remanded for sentence by Magistrate William Ostler.

Hudart used a toy pistol to threaten two elderly U.S. tourists and steal $30 from them. He slapped the women in their room.

Hudart escaped but gave himself up to police in Toronto last month.

In court this morning Hudart told the magistrate that he had been walking "outside society" for some time and this "is the first really honest attempt in my life to realign myself."

The magistrate said it was "a telling indication" of Hudart's sincerity that he gave himself up when there was every possibility he would never have been caught.

But, he added, it was a serious crime and must be punished.

Hudart's case was a "classic example of alcoholism" said Magistrate Ostler.

He said the accused had the background, ability, intelligence and opportunity to be a very useful citizen but alcohol "ruined all that."

Magistrate Ostler suggested that Hudart accept the Alcoholics Anonymous philosophy while in prison and he added that "I wish you luck. I think you are sincere."

INSPECTORS

BREAK HINTED IN TALKS

Lumber inspectors and management bargainers met today for the fourth successive day this week in an attempt to avert a province-wide lumber industry tieup.

The 250 coast inspectors have set a strike deadline of Tuesday morning in their dispute with Pacific Lumber Inspection Bureau.

A union spokesman thought there might be a break later today in the stalemate between the two sides, who have been meeting with provincial government mediator E. P. Fisher in Vancouver.

OFFER FORTHCOMING

"The companies should come forth with an offer," said Rod Beaton, president of lumber inspectors Local 1-288, International Woodworkers of America.

"We would then take a look at it. We have gone as far as we can go. It is up to them to come forth."

Thursday, the IWA appealed directly to lumber companies who are members of the inspection bureau to review the issues because of the gravity of the situation.

STAMP LEASING

Chief point at issue is a bureau proposal to lease the inspectors exclusive stamp designating the grade of processed lumber to individual mills. The inspectors say this will cost them their jobs and give control of the stamp to mills.

The lumber industry could be shut down in a strike if other millworkers respect the inspectors picket lines.

D. M. BROWN and medals ready for the parade.

FIFTY YEARS ago he was ready for the fray.

Medal Comes 50 Years After War

A Victoria war veteran has just been awarded a medal for overseas service 50 years ago.

David M. Brown, a jeweller at 801 Yates, this week received his Territorial War Medal from the British Army. He'll wear it alongside his Victory Medal and the General Service (1914-18) Medal next Remembrance Day.

"I lost the two medals I had and I wrote to England for duplicates," said Mr. Brown. He forwarded £1 17s 6d to cover the replacement cost.

The Royal Army wrote back that Mr. Brown was also entitled to the third medal, which was awarded to men of the Territorial (home defence) Forces who were in service before the war and who later served overseas.

He enlisted when he was 17 while serving a watchmaker's apprenticeship in Glasgow. He was mainly with the First Battalion London Scottish.

Mr. Brown survived the horrors of the big battles of Ypres, Vimy and the Somme as a "full private."

He came to Canada in 1921, first to Saskatchewan, then to Victoria in 1940. He married in Canada and has two daughters.

He'll wear his three medals next Nov. 11 when he marches with the Britannia Branch, Royal Canadian Legion, and he won't draw attention to the 50-year oversight by the army.

"Nothing ever is strange in military circles," he says.

WINTER CLUB LIKELY

Club Takes Option On Curling Rink

By ERNIE FEDORUK

Preliminary steps have been taken to provide Victoria with a "winter club."

The Victoria Figure Skating Club has taken an option on the four-sheet Allan's Curling Club in Saanich, and if plans are followed through, the district soon may have its first family sports complex.

Roy Allan, who erected the commercial curling enterprise on Glanford Avenue, confirmed that the VFSC has an option on his property. The cement-block rink was built four years ago.

Allan's property includes about five acres of land and the skating club, looking to the future, has acquired an option on five adjoining acres.

PREMATURE

An official of the skating club declined to comment, adding "it is a little premature to release anything now."

The VFSC executive did confirm, however, that a meeting will be held March 24 at Allan's Rink "to discuss future plans."

The figure skating club now rents ice from both the Esquimalt Sports Centre and Memorial Arena. But it needs the use of more ice.

The VFSC's future plans include grass tennis courts, swimming pool and badminton courts in addition to curling and skating ice.

The VFSC would use the present rink until finances would permit expansion. The present rink would then be converted into a badminton hall and another six-sheet curling rink would be constructed alongside a full-sized skating arena with a few seats for spectators.

Man 'Fair' After Mishap In Shipyard

A shipyard accident sent a workman to hospital with "severe internal injuries" Thursday.

Robert Edwards, 41, of 3368 Kingsley Place, is reported in fair condition at St. Joseph's Hospital.

He was injured while working at Victoria Machinery Depot.

Shipyard officials would not comment today on the cause of the mishap.

A coroner's inquiry this week ruled that the death of another VMD employee this month was accidental.

The workman, T. J. Willoughby, 57, of 816 Tolmie, was injured Dec. 15 and died Feb. 2.

BURNS

Coroner Edmond Jorre de St. Jorre said cause of death was burns received by the man while he was using an acetylene torch on a new government ferry under construction.

Mr. St. Jorre said Mr. Willoughby was working in a confined space and was pulling the lines for the torch behind him. Fire from the torch apparently cut the line.

Mr. Willoughby's clothes caught fire and he had to crawl through more flame to escape from the double bottom of the vessel where he was working.

PROJECT COSTING $308,800

Campus Shop Centre Contract Awarded

A $308,800 contract was awarded today for construction of an on-campus shopping centre at University of Victoria.

Dr. Malcom G. Taylor, university president, announced contract has been made with Victoria contractor G. H. Wheaton Company Ltd. for a student services building at Gordon Head campus.

It is to be completed in time for the fall term which starts in September.

Dr. Taylor said the Wheaton bid was lowest of four submitted.

The new building will provide accommodation to a branch of the Bank of Montreal, a book store, a barber shop, beauty parlor, drug store and "college shop."

Arrangements have been completed with the bank and negotiations are under way with other possible lessees, it was announced.

GYRO CLUB SPEAKER next Monday will be Ross Smyth, chief of Air Canada speakers' bureau. Mr. Smyth is a veteran of 24 years in the airline business. He gives about 60 talks annually in Canada, Britain and the USA on travel, aviation, communications and related subjects. His talk to the local service club will be on "This Shrinking World." Mr. Smyth is from Montreal.

Windup Hearing On Feb. 23 In Merger Issue

Final hearing of a public inquiry into the amalgamation of a portion of View Royal with Esquimalt municipality will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 23.

The commission, appointed to look into the extent of the union, is expected to complete its report within a month following the final hearing.

The inquiry was launched after more than 60 per cent of residents in the panhandle district voted for amalgamation with the municipality.

Opposition to amalgamation has come mainly from people residing in the Christie Point area.

They want the western boundary of Esquimalt set at Admirals Road instead of Four-Mile-Hill bridge.

On the other hand, some residents have requested amalgamation of the whole of the unorganized district of View Royal with Esquimalt.

ESQUIMALT NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

HMCS Fraser and HMCS Qu'Appelle left Pearl Harbor today for Esquimalt and will arrive Feb. 19;

HMCS Mackenzie arrived in port today at 4 p.m.;

HMC ships Saskatchewan, Beacon Hill, Ste. Therese, Jonquiere and the submarine HMCS Grilse are due Saturday at 8 a.m. after a week of exercises in coastal waters;

Ocean escorts HMCS Sussexvale and HMCS New Glasgow will arrive in Balboe at 9 a.m. Feb. 22;

HMCS Ottawa arrived at Manzanilla early this morning and HMCS Yukon is due there Monday.

Committee To Select Travellers

District Superintendent John Gough said today he will form a committee soon to handle the Greater Victoria School Board's part of the Canadian Centennial Youth Travel Program.

Mr. Gough said his committee would be responsible for selecting the Greater Victoria school children who will be travelling during July and August in the know-Canada program.

Last year 48 B.C. students travelled to Eastern Canada in exchange visits.

Under the plan all travel costs are met by the federal government with the provincial governments participating.

Students will travel by train in "car lots" of 24 under the supervision of two adults. In most cases they will spend two weeks away from home.

By 1967 it is expected all regions of B.C. will have acted as hosts to the Eastern Canadian students.

Full details are still to be announced but it is expected almost every high school will be able to send at least one student.

It has been suggested the chosen students to be good scholars, but not necessarily top-ranking scholars.

Woman Charged With Harboring Runaway Girl

A woman was charged Thursday in Saanich magistrate's court with harboring a 15-year-old girl without her mother's consent, knowing the girl had run away from home.

Mrs. Velma Beecroft, 3229 Doncaster, pleaded not guilt.

The girl testified she ran away from home because her father said he would send her to welfare authorities.

She said she stayed at the Beecroft home from Jan. 15 to Jan. 19. She was a friend of the family.

The girl was reported missing by her mother and, following a police investigation, was found in the Beecroft home shortly after midnight, Jan. 18.

The hearing was adjourned to March 4.

Topics of the Day

Donations to the Freeman F. King Scholarship fund stand today at $2,099 it was reported by fund officials.

The fund, which is expected to grow to $5,000, was established to assist University of Victoria students in the natural sciences courses. It was named after Freeman "Skipper" King, well-known local naturalist and Times writer of the feature Nature Rambles.

Donations may be sent to Dr. John Chapman, chairman, Victoria Natural History Society, c/o Provincial Museum.

Regarding one of your Ask the Times answers, I lived in Alix, Alberta from 1943 to 1962 when I came to Victoria. I know for a fact the population of Alix, although it is a small town, it is far more than "less than 100" and to my knowledge is closer to 1,200 at present. R. N. H.

Ask the Times inadvertently gave the population of Alberta Beach, Alta. Alix population, according to the 1961 census, is 631.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to a dealer.

DEAR ABBY . . .

Further Proof

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You surely have heard the expression, "Great minds run in the same channel." Well, after a recent incident I think it can be said that "faithful minds" also run in the same channel.

I read your column in the local paper and when I came across the letter from the serviceman signed "JERSEY," who wanted to know what a normal, healthy married man is supposed to do about his "physical needs" during long separations from his wife, I clipped it and sent it to my husband, who is serving with the U.S. Army in Saigon.

A few days later (too soon for him to have received the clipping), HE sent me the very same column which HE had torn out of the SAIGON DAILY NEWS, which also carries DEAR ABBY. I am sure that article will help us both to remain faithful though separated for a long time. Thank you for your wise reply.

LONELY BUT LOYAL.

DEAR LONELY: And thank you for your kind letter. I would like to say here that I receive thousands of letters from servicemen and their wives. And today, while cynics eagerly point out that infidelity in modern marriage is on the rise, I am heartened by the obvious mutual trust and faithfulness between the serviceman and the wife he left behind.

DEAR ABBY: My 17-year-old daughter steps out of the bathtub leaving a dirty ring for the next person to clean out. There isn't a day that I don't find her clothes kicked under the bed. I almost have to force her to brush her teeth and wear shoes around the house. Her room is always a mess. If I punish her for these things she says she's embarrassed to tell her friends why she's being punished because it's ridiculous to be punished for such silly reasons. She claims her girl friends do the same things and get by with them. I have two other daughters and they are as neat as I am. All three girls were trained in the same way in the same house. Why do I have so much trouble with this one? She is kind and good-natured, but, oh, so sloppy! Am I expecting too much of her? Where have I failed?

WORN OUT.

DEAR WORN OUT: If you honestly tried to teach your daughter cleanliness and tidiness and she refused to learn, it is she who failed, not you. There is no accounting for the difference in children and their reactions to "training." Keep after her. It just might sink in one of these days.

DEAR ABBY: In your answer to a letter you implied that a barber would not know the difference between a blackhead, a mole or a wart. Miss Van Buren, please be advised that the science of barbering today is far more advanced than it was in years gone by. A barber is required to know all about the diseases of the skin, scalp and appendages. I thank you.

A UNION BARBER.

DEAR BARBER: I am aware that many barbers daily perform the important service of alerting their clients to suspicious-looking growths on their faces. However, even though a barber may recognize moles, warts and blackheads, he is not licensed to treat or remove them.

SHOPPING GUIDE

These Make Chocolate 'Chock Full' of Taste

By Penny Saver

Are you planning on baking a cake for your family on Valentine's Day?. . . a chocolate one? Penny has that idea in mind and she has found a new way to add rich, creamy chocolate flavor to the cake with little fuss, mess or time.

This easy way to prepare chocolate is in liquid form. The flavor-sealed bags keep the rich taste in and the chocolate pours into the cake batter with no mess to clean up. Squeeze the liquid out and throw the container away. There's no scraping involved and no measuring, either.

One package, selling at 60 cents, has eight envelopes of chocolate. Inside is a folder with recipes for brownies, frostings, squares and desserts.

Do not refrigerate the package or the chocolate may become firm.

While in the same store, I found some good salad ideas to use as a highlight to a Valentine Day dinner.

Tiny cherry tomatoes, firm and red, provide a delicious accent to a tossed salad, or alone, hollowed and then stuffed with potato salad. Price is 45 cents a pound.

Hawaiian pineapple, priced at 65 cents, tastes delightful atop an island of cottage cheese, set on crisp lettuce. Or chop the pineapple into squares and add fruit sections—bananas, mandarin oranges, grapes and apples—then mix with sour cream. This can be served as dessert or as a salad entree.

Valentine meals coming up? Then remember Penny at 382-3131.

BPW Club Hears Talk on Education

A thought-provoking speech on "Education or Disaster" highlighted the recent dinner meeting of the Oak Bay Business and Professional Women's Club held in the Oak Bay Beach Hotel.

Guest speaker, Dr. J. Beattie MacLean, queried the part education plays in easing the pressures in the world and the motives which back aid given to other countries. A discussion period followed. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. M. Seelinger and thanked by Mrs. K. Rawnsley.

At the meeting which followed seven new members were initiated in a candlelight service conducted by Miss Ruth Adams, a past president of the Victoria BPW.

Special guests included Miss Aletha Steick, Mrs. J. A. Galloway, Mrs. Helen Windrem, Mrs. Bernice Walls, Mrs. B. McElroy, Mrs. D. G. Taylor, Mrs. J. Woods and Miss Shirley Humphries.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

What's the Hurry? Slow Down Speed of Exercise

Q. Should exercise be done rapidly or slowly?

A. As a general rule, exercises should be done fairly rapidly, not jerkily or really fast, but with a medium-paced smooth rhythm. I would rather you did them too slowly than too briskly because you should take time for the stretch. Also, if you do them too rapidly you will not reach as far in each direction as you can. Speed may cause you to do the exercises incorrectly.

Lowman

The way you do an exercise makes all the difference in the world in the result you obtain. For instance, if you bend your knees when raising your legs upward or when bending your trunk forward you will never stretch your back leg muscles. Therefore, you should raise your legs and bend your trunk no further than you can with stiff knees. Gradually you will be able to go farther.

Q. I am 14 years old and have terrible looking legs. They look this way because of my knees. On the inside of my knees there is a big bulge of skin or something. This is very embarrassing. It sticks out further than my calves. Please help me because I want to be able to have fun this summer and wear shorts and bathing suits without worrying about how my legs look.

A. The shape of the knee depends on its bony structure and also on fatty deposits. You did not give me your weight and height but, from what you say, I wonder if you have fairly big bones and are underweight. If so, an increase in the size of your calves would minimize the large knee bones.

If you are overweight and the bulge on the inside of the knee comes from a pad of fat, then of course a loss of weight will help. Also massage these spots vigorously, kneading the flesh between your fingers and the heel of your hand.

Q. May I tell you a little trick I used to hold my weight down when I was pregnant, that is if you approve. Do you? I found that it helped if I drank milk before my meals, about 15 or 20 minutes before. This cut my appetite some. Then I ate my meat and vegetables and salad next. This left less room for carbohydrates.

A. I approve.

Add a little spice to your family's menu with this delicious cake that's bound to end up as the star at all dinner tables.

Try Oranges and Spice For a Cake That Is Nice

Fresh orange blossom spice cake almost makes itself with convenient package cake mix and golden navel oranges. This cake is so easy and so delicious. Don't wait for a party as an excuse to try it. The zesty peel, fresh juice and sweet pieces of fresh navel orange all help to make up the refreshing cream filling and topping that complements the moist, spicy cake layers.

Navel oranges are nature's own convenience food. They are easy-to-peel and have no seeds to worry about. They come smartly wrapped in tender golden peel, bursting with zest and designed to protect the virtual storehouse of nutrition and good eating packed inside.

FRESH ORANGE BLOSSOM SPICE CAKE

One package spice cake mix, 3 oranges (peeled sliced into cartwheels), 2 to 3 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, ½ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon grated orange peel, ½ cup fresh orange juice, ¼ cup water, 1 cup heavy cream (whipped), ¼ cup toasted slivered almonds.

Prepare spice cake mix according to package directions, or use your favorite spice cake recipe. Bake in two nine-inch layer pans. Cool on racks. Cut cartwheel slices from two oranges into bite-size pieces; sweeten with 2 to 3 tablespoons sugar.

In saucepan, combine cornstarch, ½ cup sugar, salt, grated orange peel, orange juice and water; cook over medium heat until thickened, three to four minutes, stirring frequently. Cool. Fold undrained orange pieces into sauce; fold in whipped cream. Spread between layers and on top of cake.

Garnish top of cake with orange slices, cut in half. Sprinkle with toasted almonds.

Makes a nine-inch layer cake.

George-Elwood Vows Exchanged In Recent Candlelight Ceremony

Dean Brian Whitlow officiated at the recent candlelight ceremony in the Lady Chapel of Christ Church Cathedral that united Lois Laverty Elwood and Sub-Lt. Robert Earl George, RCN.

The chapel was decorated with forsythia, white gladioli and pink carnations for the late-afternoon ceremony. Soloist, Stanley Martin, sang "Panis Angelicus" during the signing of the register.

Parents of the principals are Mrs. G. J. Elwood, 1426 Newport Avenue, Victoria, and Mrs. M. George, North Vancouver, who travelled here for the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her mother, wore a street-length gown and matching jacket of heavy white French silk. The gown was styled with an A-line skirt and the jacket featured three-quarter-length sleeves. Her headpiece was a white lace mantilla and only jewelry was a crystal necklace. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and hyacinths.

Only attendant, Miss Carol Bloomquist, highlighted her pink silk linen suit with matching shoes and bow headpiece and carried a bouquet of gardenias and white hyacinth bells.

Sub-Lt. Dennis Reilley was best man and guests were ushered to their pews by Sub-Lieutenants John Anderson and Gary Mitchell, the groom's fellow officers.

Waldo Skillings proposed the toast to the bride at a reception that followed in the Rockland Avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. Evan S. Jones.

A wedding cake, flanked by candelabra, centred the bride's table. Arrangements of candles, forsythia, white gladioli and daffodils completed the decorations.

Leaving on a honeymoon trip to Harrison Hot Springs and Seattle, the bride donned a coral-toned dress topped with a black and white tweed coat accented with a velvet collar. A matching velvet "My Fair Lady" hat and black patent accessories completed the ensemble.

Of Personal Interest

AT THE TEA HOUR

New members of the University Women's Club of Victoria will be honored this Saturday at a tea to be held in the Foul Bay Road home of publicity convener, Mrs. A. H. Cameron. The refreshment table will be decorated with a Valentine motif of red and white flowers. Presiding at the table will be Mrs. J. E. Browne and Mrs. A. H. Gunning, past president. Guests will be greeted by president, Mrs. J. L. Andrews, and vice-president, Mrs. R. A. Fraser. Serviteurs will be Mrs. J. W. McCammon, Mrs. J. F. Muir, Mrs. P. H. Thomas, Mrs. A. W. Hobbs, Mrs. D. M. Cox, Mrs. F. M. P. Warren and Miss Margaret Love.

Among those being honored are Mrs. R. C. Anderson, Mrs. W. Bailey, Mrs. R. E. Cottingham, Mrs. T. C. Evans, Mrs. R. B. Gates, Mrs. E. Harrison, Mrs. Isobel Knight, Mrs. J. F. A. Lister, Mrs. D. Loy, Mrs. J. Nemeth, Mrs. G. W. Provins, Mrs. Doreen Radcliff, Mrs. R. W. Sinclair, Dr. Ann Saddlemyer, Mrs. A. F. Smith, Mrs. F. W. Skinner, Mrs. J. E. Travis, Mrs. J. A. Taylor, the Misses Joanna Curtis, Norma Fieldhouse, Charlotte Girard, Mildred Lawson, Faith Maidment, Maria-Rose Mathieu, Jean Moore, Mildred Orr, Cecily Richardson, Muriel Thompson and Miss M. P. M. Henry.

Surprise

Members of the First Tillicum Brownie Pack gathered in St. Martin's Church Hall recently for a surprise shower honoring their Grey Owl, bride-elect, Miss Ivy Mancor. Mrs. R. Johnson was in charge of the party. The guest of honor was made to walk down an aisle formed by Brownies holding cupcakes with lighted candles. Gifts for the kitchen were presented to the honor guest and she also received an apron made by Mrs. Johnson, bearing the names of all the Brownies. Also present at the party were Miss Mancor's mother, Mrs. C. A. Mancor, Brown Owl, and her sister, Miss Cheryl Mancor, Tawny Owl.

Valentine Motif

A heart-shaped shower cake centred the refreshment table at a shower given by Mrs. D. S. Wilson and Miss Sharron Wilson in their West Maddock Avenue home in honor of bride-elect Miss Marla Hickling. Adding to the Valentine theme was a red and white decorated laundry basket containing gifts. A white carnation corsage was given to the bride-elect and red carnations were presented to her mother, Mrs. L. Hickling. The groom-elect's mother, Mrs. A. Abbott, received pink carnations en corsage. Guests included Mrs. R. Ainscough, Mrs. G. Ball, Mrs. C. Blatchford, Mrs. G. Conway, Mrs. S. Eden, Mrs. R. Feldon, Mrs. D. Hendra, Mrs. R. Hill, Mrs. L. Harmon, Mrs. F. Hurley, Mrs. R. A. Mercer, Mrs. B. Sedgman, Mrs. A. Southall, Mrs. K. Tomlinson, Mrs. L. Westby, Mrs. K. Wilson and Miss Peggy Green.

Tropical Theme

The cocktail lounge of the Victoria Racquet Club will be decorated in an Hawaiian theme with tropical flowers and palm trees, Saturday evening for the club's Hawaiian evening. Fred Usher's orchestra will play Hawaiian music, and a floor show will round out the evening's entertainment. Among those planning to attend are Mr. and Mrs. John Austin, Mr. and Mrs. George Evans, Mr. A. W. E. Pitkethley, Miss Carol Stewart, Mr. Art Lees, Mrs. Dinah Schjoldborg, Miss Dana McLaren, Mr. Sid Hicks, Miss Heather Telfer, Mr. William Benzie, Mr. William Mahon, Miss Tommy Elmsley, Mr. Greg Harvey, Miss Libby Boak, Miss Diana Lawrence, Mr. Ed Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Crampton, Miss Bernice Parrish and Mr. Larry McRae.

Hospital Group Has Bridge Tea At Residence

Red and white felt hearts and flowers highlighting a red paper background, covered the front door of the nurses' residence, Thursday afternoon, when the Ladies' Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital held a Valentine bridge and tea.

Adding to the theme were large arrangements of red and white carnations decorating the tea and bridge rooms.

The refreshment table in the tea room was centred with a similar arrangement in a huge silver bowl, flanked by white candles. Presiding at the table were Mrs. Thomas Atkinson, Mrs. J. A. McLellan, Mrs. P. Sallaway, and Miss Emilia Kobelsky.

The theme was carried out in the home-cooking stall, too, convened by Mrs. R. Girard, who was assisted by Mrs. R. Brand and Mrs. R. Lindsay. Heart-shaped cakes and cookies covered with red and white icing vied for top honors at this sell-out stall.

RED AND WHITE

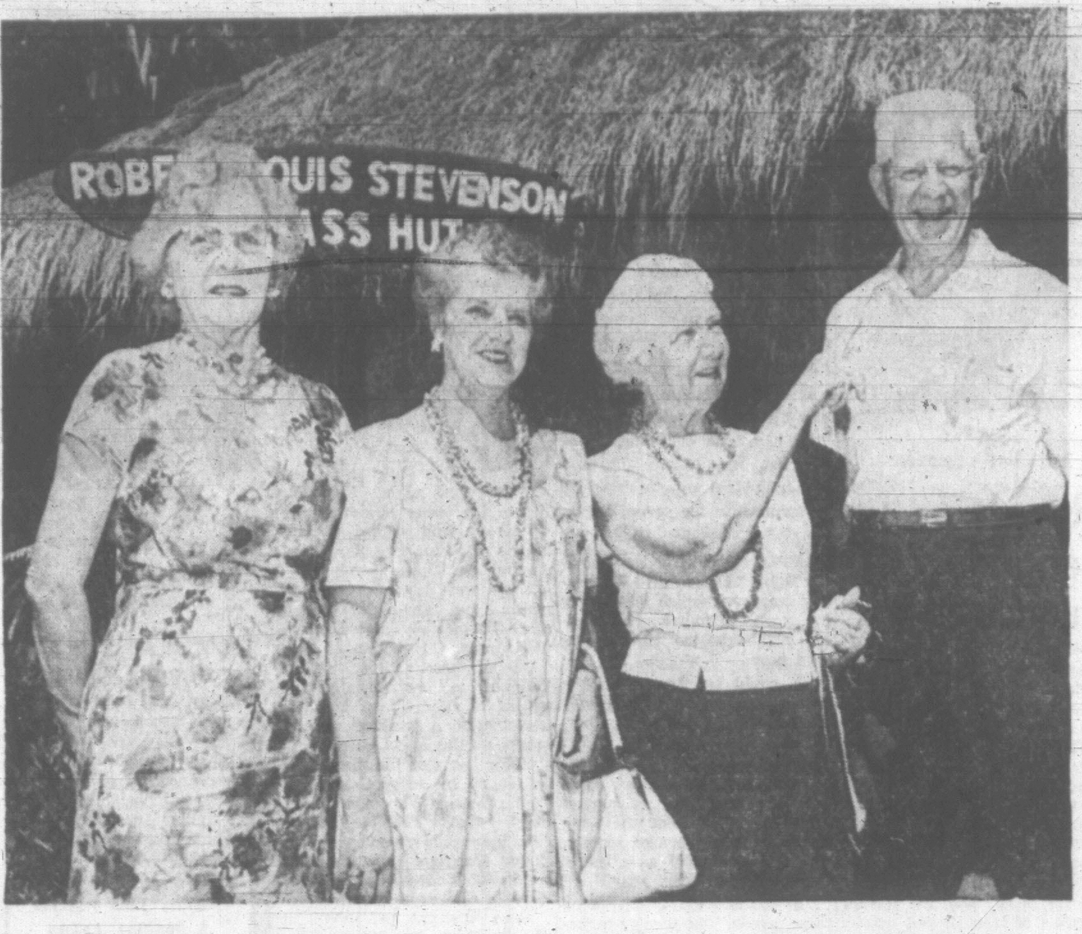
The bride-room was decorated with arrangements of red and white carnations and paper hearts. Guests at the 36 tables were served by Mrs. W. Shipley, Mrs. G. Bowes, Mrs. A. D. Blair, Mrs. A. L. Robinson, Mrs. H. Jackh, Mrs. R. Atkinson, Mrs. W. H. Hayward, Mrs. G. Norrie, Mrs. W. R. Critchley, Mrs. M. Steele, Mrs. R. G. Hebron, Mrs. H. O'Neill and Mrs. M. Adkinsson.

President Mrs. Connie Baker welcomed the guests. Convenor was Mrs. P. W. Semenchuk, assisted by Mrs. E. H. Michaux.

In charge of decorations was Mrs. Ralph Adams. She was assisted by Mrs. M. Adkinsson.

Other convenors included Mrs. W. Rogers, tea; Mrs. B. G. Ryan and Mrs. T. C. Rogers, raffles; Mrs. A. Cownden, Mrs. G. DeCorte, Mrs. C. Rose and Mrs. W. Coldwell, receipts; and lounge serviteurs, Mrs. R. Adams, Mrs. T. J. Pye, Mrs. B. A. Goodwin, Mrs. C. M. Kilgour, Mrs. P. Greenwood, and Mrs. M. Beasley.

Proceeds amounted to $365.



Drawing the attention of fellow Victorians to an interesting Hawaiian scene is Mrs. Edna Critchley, third from left. Pictured with her on a recent "pioneer tour" of Hawaii are, left to right, Mrs. G. E. Dunlop, Mrs. A. W. Whittingham and Mr. F. H. Griffin. The vacationers were photographed following a luncheon at Waioli Tearoom in the Manoa Valley near Honolulu. Behind them is Stevenson's grass hut where the famous author and poet stayed while writing his book, "Master of Ballantree". During their tour, the Victorians attended the Polynesian water ballet at the Reef Hotel, the "Hawaii Calls" at the Manoa Hotel, toured Mount Tantalus and attended an Hawaiian dinner at the Tahitian Lanai. They returned home earlier this month.

Responsible for Many Organizations

THE GOLD RUSH STARTED IT ALL

"Society's problems do not change basically—it is only the circumstances that alter."

This was emphasized by Willard E. Ireland, provincial librarian and archivist, when he spoke to the board of management of the Greater Victoria Branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses at the annual meeting held in the St. John Ambulance auditorium Thursday afternoon.

In addressing the meeting on "Reminiscences of Early Public Service in Victoria," Mr. Ireland maintained that "the influx of people with the gold rush and their peculiar distribution created a number of problems which resulted in the formation of various organizations."

Many of these organizations were inter-racial such as the Jewish, Hebrew and French Benevolent Societies. Their objective was to minister to the relief of fellow countrymen who were without funds or work.

The speaker noted that it is intriguing how the French Society came to be. He related it as a result of the French revolution of 1848 for the founders of the society were not French-Canadian but rather Le Francaise de France.

SMALL FEES

"For the fee of $1 a month, they provided free hospitalization in their own hospital which was on the present site of Rose Manor. They manned it themselves and even had a resident doctor who would visit in your home if you were a member of society."

He added that the return of the founders to their homeland in the mid-1870s saw the hospital become an integral part of Royal Jubilee Hospital.

"It was discovered when hospitalization came into being that two Victorians were not required to pay due to the fact that they had become life members of Royal Jubilee Hospital at the time of the society's formation."

BEGAN IN 1890s

The first actual service similar to the VON was launched in the 1890s when the development of a maternity home brought into being the Home Nursing Society whose purpose was to aid in the relief of indigents.

This home service was the actual start of district nursing and it provided a "remarkable free nursing service to maternity patients."

Mr. Ireland quoted from reports that were submitted by the organization at that time: "The 1903 treasurer's report showed receipts of $781.87 and in a president's report it was stated the days have gone when district nursing is considered unnecessary.

"This organization," he pointed out, "offered a similar service to that of the VON today for only one per cent of the present day cost."

Working in conjunction with the home nursing service were "friendly help societies" organized by the Local Council of Women.

Through them, Victoria was divided into 27 districts for visitation, aid of the needy and procuring work for the unemployed.

In concluding the speaker remarked that development of the Victorian Order of Nurses was hardly more than a change in name because of the similarity in their objectives.

A special guest at the meeting was Mrs. George R. Pearkes. The speaker was introduced by W. A. R. Hadley and thanked by Mrs. H. Smith.

Bursaries and Trophies Given By IODE Chapter

A total of $229.60 was spent on bursaries and trophies during the past year by the Esquimalt Chapter IODE. Mrs. J. T. Jones, educational secretary, gave this amount in her report at the annual meeting, held in the Old Esquimalt Road home of Mrs. A. G. Fulmer.

Miss Trudie White, a student at Esquimalt Senior Secondary School, was awarded the chapter's $100 bursary and Lampson Street elementary school student, Kenneth Gardiner, received the Hugh Creelman trophy. A total of 45 IODE calendars, valued at $22.50, were distributed to schools in the district.

A donation of $75 was presented to the municipal scholarship fund.

Services at home and abroad secretary, Mrs. J. A. Brown, announced that much of the funds for this service went to Sunshine Camp at Sooke. The sum of $188.54 was spent on adding a porch, steps and hand-railing, refinishing tables and repairing broken windows.

A total of $373.73 was used for hampers to be distributed among the needy, Sunshine Camp, books for servicemen in Germany and the Korean project.

Health kits, valued at $42.90 were sent to the North West Territories.

Receipts from projects, bazaars and a tea, and supplies, membership fees and donations amounted to $815.70, reported treasurer Mrs. V. Green. Disbursements, with donations to Commonwealth relations, IODE Centennial Fund, Korean project, Peace Garden, education funds, and immigration and citizenship, were $831.99. She announced that balance on hand is $108.21.

Secretary, Mrs. Fulmer, reported that the chapter's candy and parcel post stalls at the IODE festival raised $146.45. The group realized a share of $280 from the festival.

Municipal regent, Mrs. Elsie Lowthian, conducted the installation of officers. They are Mrs. C. A. Dodimead, regent; Mrs. O. B. Ormand, first vice-regent; Mrs. T. G. Clarke, second; Mrs. A. G. Fulmer, secretary; Mrs. C. C. Corneille, treasurer; Mrs. M. H. Saar, educational secretary; Mrs. J. C. MacDonald, Echoes; Mrs. J. A. Brown, services at home and abroad; and Mrs. A. Hatch, standard bearer.

A buffet supper of casseroles prepared by the members preceded the meeting.

WRITERS COMPETE FOR $250 PRIZE

TORONTO (CP) — A national competition for one-act plays, open to both amateur and professional writers, is being sponsored by the National Council of Jewish Women.

The 6,000-member organization is offering a $250 prize for the play that best dramatizes the concept of International Co-operative Year.

The United Nations selected 1965 as I.C.Y., inspired by a 1961 speech to the General Assembly in which the late Indian prime minister Nehru said that instead of focusing on "every point of conflict," the world might be better if it concentrated on "the co-operating elements."

The winning play will be chosen by a panel of judges. It must be 30 to 40 minutes in length. Deadline is May 1 and the script will be made available soon after for production by council branches and other groups across Canada.

Entries may be sent to the National Council of Jewish Women, 4700 Bathurst Street, Willowdale, Ont.

Queen Skits Feature 'The Week That Was'

A British revue containing "one or two skits on the Queen" will be shown at the Royal Theatre March 27.

The revue, That Was the Week That Was, will be presented here by Mrs. Inge Baber, the Montreal impressario, who visited Victoria this week.

Mrs. Baber said the presentation is "all good, clean fun," but it will show the Queen swimming for her life as the royal barge sinks in the Thames.

It will also show her being auctioned off to the highest-bidding state to solve Britain's economic problems.

Members of the original London cast of That Was the Week That Was will be seen in two Victoria performances, concluding a three-week tour of Canada starting in Montreal March 6.

SORAYA
. . . lavish premiere

'Regal . . . Beautiful But Cold'

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Critics agreed today that Princess Soraya is a beauty, but they disagreed over the acting ability she displayed in her first movie.

The movie, three episodes called The Three Faces of a Woman, was given a lavish world premiere here Thursday night.

After the movie most of the applause from the audience of 2,000 was for Italian comedian Alberto Sordi, and the former empress of Iran slipped quietly out of the theatre.

Beautiful as Soraya is, "she is still far from being an actress," wrote Corriere d'Informazione.

John Checkley of the London Daily Mirror wrote: "She is regal, beautiful . . . but cold. Her eyes register no emotion."

VARIETY PROGRAM

Theatre Opening To Be Dazzling

The razzle-dazzle opening of Victoria civic theatre in less than two weeks includes Canada's biggest variety show west of the Canadian National Exhibition.

It also holds promise of a new theatrical movement in the city, based on co-operation for the first time of some 20 groups and individual acts totalling 150 performers in the revue, Lights Up.

McPherson Playhouse manager Robert Ellison said Wednesday the revue which takes over the second of four special opening nights is the first of its kind here.

"It could be the start of a new movement in the city for all groups to work together, striving for better work," Mr. Ellison said.

He suggested the show could be developed into an annual event, perhaps under the wing of the Festival Theatre Society, which is producing a series of plays beginning this year

"It will develop spirit among these people," the theatre manager said. "They get a lot of fun out of it and they compete with each other, knocking themselves out to be the best.

"The chief beneficiary is the guy who pays his way in at the door."

Opening week has "something for everybody," from slapstick to sophisticated drama, symphony to solo sketch.

Actress Elsa Lanchester goes on the first night, Feb. 26; Lights Up opens March 1; the symphony and choral society March 5, and the play Ring Around the Moon March 6.

After each of these opening nights the first-nighters and some 250 specially invited guests will attend a reception.

One of these will be "Queen Victoria," symbolically portrayed by Mrs. Clara McCaul, who bears a striking resemblance to the city's patron.

Major parts of the revue will be played by Jerry Gosley, as Capt. George Vancouver; Art Budd, music hall comedian; Fred Usher and his entertainers; singer Margaret Hall and University of Victoria director Carl Hare in Shakespeare extracts; Allan Husband and members of choral groups singing Tonight; folk dancing by Vivian Briggs and Adeline Duncan groups, both modern and traditional.

AN ART SPECIALIST from France, Madame Jacqueline Leiner, will lecture at the University of Victoria at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday in room 167 of the Elliot Building on the Gordon Head Campus. She will speak at 8:15 p.m. the same day in the Students' Union Building.

Discotheque Opens

VANCOUVER (CP)—The first teen-age discotheque club in Greater Vancouver was scheduled to open tonight in suburban North Vancouver. Officials of the company said Wednesday that similar operations are planned for Burnaby.

Oral Contraceptives Near 100% Effective

TORONTO (CP)—All five oral contraceptives licensed for sale in Canada provide "virtually 100 per cent" protection against pregnancy, says Dr. F. E. Bryans of Vancouver.

Dr. Bryans, head of the obstetrics and gynaecology department at the University of British Columbia, has published an article on oral contraception in the Canadian Medical Journal.

He identifies the contraceptives as enovid, enovid e, two forms of ortho-novum, and norlestrin—all of which may cause slight weight gain, nausea, headaches, dizziness, depression or apathy among some women using them.

SOME CAUTIONED

The contraceptives do not impair future pregnancy, he said, and "there is no evidence that the menopause is delayed or that years of fertility are prolonged."

However, Dr. Bryans cautioned women suffering from liver impairment, epilepsy, diabetes, cardiac or kidney disorders to seek their doctors' advice before using oral contraceptives.

CHINESE POPULATION

China's 700,000,000 inhabitants constitute one-fourth of the world's total population.

QUEEN of Quebec winter carnival is Carole Belleau, 20, seen as she was crowned before crowd of 15,000 at Quebec City Thursday night. A stenotypist, Carole will reign over festivities which run to March 2.

The Wild Duck In Extra Show

Due to sell-outs for Friday and Saturday performances of The Wild Duck by University of Victoria Players Club, an extra performance will be presented.

This will take place Monday at the Gordon Head Theatre Workshop at 8:15 p.m.

Ticket inquiries can be made at the Student Union Building, Finerty Road, or at Munro's Book Shop, Yates Street.

Nursing Home Wins Approval

The green light has been given for construction of a 25-bed nursing home addition to Campbell River Hospital.

Municipal Affairs Minister Campbell, MLA for the area, informed the hospital's board of directors Thursday, the government will pay half the cost of building the wing for persons needing continuing care, pay the cost of operating the wing, and foot half the cost of completing the unfinished acute-care areas of the hospital.

FIRST IN B.C.

The hospital will be the first in B.C. to benefit from two new policies announced in the legislature Thursday by Health Minister Eric Martin.

Mr. Martin said the government has boosted its construction grants for non-profit nursing homes to 50 per cent from one-tihrd and plans to extend coverage under the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service to the chronically ill.

Teachers To Huddle At Sidney

A new idea in teachers' conventions will be tried Feb. 26 when Vancouver Island teachers meet in Sidney's Sanscha Hall.

The convention, sponsored by the Sooke and Saanich School districts, will have main speakers address all the teachers instead of breaking up into small groups.

Teachers from Qualicum, the Gulf Islands, Cowichan, Ladysmith and Nanaimo are expected.

Convention chairman is Harold N. Parrott of Belmont Secondary School.

OVANS TO SPEAK

Speaking on the theme International Co-operation Through Education will be Charles D. Ovans, general secretary of the B.C. Teachers' Federation.

Expanding the theme will be Mrs. Hazel Huckvale, a member of the team of B.C. teachers who participated in an Africa project in 1964.

An address on program learning and instruction will be given by Mrs. Nancy Peter of Burnaby Central Secondary School.

Inquest Monday In Death Of Operator

An inquest will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. into the death of Herbert Winship who died Wednesday afternoon when crushed by a 10-ton bulldozer.

The inquest will be held at McCall Bros. on Johnson St.

Mr. Winship, 43, of 653 Strandlund, was backing the bulldozer off a flat deck truck when the left tread of the tractor slipped off the edge.

The bulldozer came to rest upside down and the operator was pinned underneath the steel canopy.

Cost-Saving Plan Tested At Pulp Mill

CROFTON—A new cost-saving process for bleaching kraft pulp is now being tested at the Crofton mill of B.C. Forest Products Ltd.

Alex Hamilton, president of BCFP, says it will be at least another three or four months before the mill tests have been concluded and evaluated to determine whether the process is economically and technically feasible in actual operation.

Developed by Dr. W. Howard Rapson, University of Toronto, the process uses sodium chlorate, salt and sulphuric acid instead of the conventional chlorine, caustic soda and sodium sulphate.

Mr. Hamilton has described as "somewhat enthusiastic" eastern reports indicating the new system could reduce production costs of kraft pulp by from $3 to $6 a ton or from 20 to 35 per cent in present bleaching costs.

ISLAND DIGEST

CAMPBELL RIVER

$100,000 Home Planned by Lions

CAMPBELL RIVER — The Lions Club has unveiled a proposal to build a $100,000 senior citizens' home here if council will donate suitable property.

Proposal was contained in a letter to council from club president Mike Bewza.

The provincial government will cover 33⅓ per cent of the total cost, the Lions Club putting up $10,000.

Balance would be provided by a 40-year mortgage from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Before the club can embark on the project, council was told, suitable land must be found.

Reeve Jack Lee appointed Coun. Isobel Sandberg to look into possible sites and report

TOASTS will be drunk at a special dinner tonight in honor of two long-serving members of Cowichan School board. The testimonial dinner, in the Tzouhalem Hotel, is for Mrs. Isabel Tarlton, who served on the board 10 years and W. P. (Pat) Mason, eight years. Both retired last year.

STORK EDGES ALBATROSS

COMOX (CP) — An RCAF Albatross raced north toward a boat carrying an expectant mother Thursday but the stork got there first.

A girl was born to the wife of LAC John Scott aboard the RCAF crash boat Nimpkish, en route from RCAF station Holberg at the north end of Vancouver Island to Port Hardy.

A doctor and nurse were aboard the crash boat to deliver Mrs. Scott's first baby, and the aircraft was ordered to return to base here.

The mother, Jean, 25, and baby were taken on by boat to hospital in Port Hardy.

Extension Asked On Winter Works

DUNCAN—Cowichan Winter Employment Committee will ask Ottawa to postpone to the end of April the deadline for the completion of homes being built under the winter works program.

The committee accepted Harold Whitfield's idea to send out 600 questionnaires asking employers' views on the effectiveness of the incentive program.

Quocksister Elected

CAMPBELL RIVER—George Quocksister has been elected chief councillor of Campbell River Indian band.

Tony Roberts and Sam Quatell were named councillors. All were elected for two-year terms.

NO INTENTION TO MAIM MEN

Pushed Wrong Button Says Accused

A 23-year-old Sooke logger claimed in Victoria County Court Thursday afternoon that it was an accident which caused him to drive his car into a group of men outside the Port Renfrew community hall in the early morning of Nov. 22.

Robert Stanley Nelson said he intended to push the reverse button on the dashboard of his car but mistakenly pushed the forward button so that it plowed into a group of men in front.

"I started the car and reached for the reverse button," Nelson said. "Then everything happened so fast I can't really remember what happened.

"The car just jumped ahead and then I heard the boys screaming and yelling underneath it."

BROKE DOWN, CRIED

Nelson said he was so upset over the accident he broke down and cried.

He pleaded not guilty to four charges of:

Driving his car with intent to "wound, maim or disfigure" James Rupert Ballandine of Port Renfrew; driving with intent to endanger the life of Ballandine; causing him bodily harm by driving with criminal negligence, and driving while impaired by alcohol or a drug.

Under examination by his counsel, Jack E. Gatehouse of Victoria, Nelson said he pushed the forward button by mistake.

ONCE BEFORE

"Had you ever made that mistake before?" asked Mr. Gatehouse.

"Yes, once before in front of the Sooke Post Office," Nelson replied. "I went to push the reverse button and hit the low and nearly drove into the post office."

Nelson said he had no quarrel with Ballandine or his friend, Scott Robinson, of Otter Point, who was also injured by his car.

"Did you have any intention to maim or endanger the life of Ballandine?", asked Mr. Gatehouse.

"I did not," Nelson replied.

Mr. Gatehouse: "What was your condition?"

Nelson: "I wouldn't say I was as sober as I am now, but I wouldn't say I was impaired."

NO CONVICTIONS

Further questioned, Nelson said he had never been convicted of any criminal offence.

Donald Levy, caretaker of the Port Renfrew community hall, and a former RCMP officer, testified that he was one of four or five men who were struck by Nelson's car around 5 a.m. on Nov. 22.

He told of seeing Nelson involved in several fights at a dance preceding the quarrel outside the hall.

Levy said he told Nelson to leave the premises and there was "more pushing and shoving". Nelson took a swing at him and he hit him on the jaw.

"TIRED OF HIM"

"Were you pushing and shoving?" Levy was asked.

"No, I hit him—I was pretty tired of him by that time."

"Were you mad with him?"

"No, I wasn't really mad—I just wanted to get rid of him."

Levy said Nelson returned to the dance hall later and said he was hungry.

"I gave him a plate of sandwiches and he ate them," Levy testified.

Some time later, around 5 a.m., he noticed that Nelson had returned to his car and that four people were scuffling around it.

One of them, Donald Boyd, was shouting, "Get out of here!"

"I heard the car start up and the motor roar. I was struck in the back by the car and went flying against the building," Levy said.

"There were four men underneath the car, all yelling and hollering."

Levy was still on the witness stand when the hearing adjourned at 5 p.m. It continued today.

BRIDGE LESSON

By OSWALD JACOBY

Give an expert a chance to make a brilliant play and he is very likely to come up with it.

West's one no-trump was the unusual no-trump designed to show length in the unbid suits. It couldn't be a real no-trump since he had passed to start with.

Opening lead—♦A

The jump to four spades by Jack Howell of Toronto was a slight overbid, but most of the other South players in the World Championship trials also reached that contract and, while most of them went down two tricks, Jack actually made it.

West opened the ace of diamonds and continued with the king. This lead showed a doubleton diamond since, with more diamonds, he would have led the king first. Then West shifted to the eight of hearts.

East won with the king and Jack dropped the queen. There was no reason for this false card to work; but the play of the nine spot would have been no better. However, East had one of those brainstorms that sometimes affect even the best players. Instead of cashing a second heart, he led a low diamond.

Now Jack went into a long huddle. He reviewed the bidding and decided that West would hold five cards each in clubs and hearts for his unusual no-trump bid. Then Jack ruffed with the eight of trumps.

When that held he was ready to mop up. He led a spade to dummy's ace, returned to his own hand by ruffing a diamond with the nine of trumps, drew trumps and claimed the balance.

"RANCH-PANEL"

The handsome new siding designed to give "NEW" natural beauty to your home, inside and out!

ONE LOOK— and you'll want to "RANCHPANEL" RIGHT AWAY!

You'll want to be first to "RANCHPANEL" your home the very moment you get your first look at this distinctive new siding. Sawn from specially selected cedar logs and graded to accentuate the naturally beautiful markings of British Columbia cedar, new "RANCHPANEL" provides a delightfully different, unmistakably modern look wherever it's used.

63 MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

MUSIC LOVERS . . . PLEASE HELP ME!

I could be so great! But not without your help. Just think of it! Me—a concert grand upright piano, complete with my own bench—waiting to bring the pleasure of music into your lives. The American Piano Company styled me in rich mahogany, created me with excellent tone, too! I could be so useful to your club or organization . . . so helpful to up-and-coming pianists. I'm probably just what you've been looking for. Why don't you drop down to the Bay's major appliance department, 3rd—see and hear for yourself. I'm only $295—available at payments less than rent would be. And there are lots of other used items here, too.

MONEY BURIED IN YOUR HOUSE?
Use It to Consolidate Your Debts
Through
CORONATION MORTGAGE CORPORATION

Take the value of your house—subtract the balance owing on your mortgage—and the resulting figure is called "home equity," or the investment you have made so far in your home. You can borrow against this equity to settle your debts or make a major purchase. Take up to 15 years to repay at exceptionally low interest rates — no hidden charges, no appraisal fees. Consolidate your debts now in one low monthly payment—there's no more economical way to borrow money!

COMMERCIAL HIGHWAY CORNER
We are selling the best location on Trans-Canada No. 1 Highway for development. We have been using this corner for a trailer sales lot and dispensing propane gas, too. We now want to cut our activities so as to be free in the winter.

This corner of Trans-Canada No. 1 Highway and Millstream Cross Road, about 7 miles from town, is now a busy corner and with the future U.S.A. to Alaska via B.C. ferry loop to open, the traffic will be greatly increased.

This is outside the municipalities (lowest taxes, minimum building restrictions bother). We have ample room to do what we want beside the corner portion. A woman or big child can tend to the propane gas service. If the husband wishes he can hold another job, or you could add gasoline pumps, or put up a grocery-hardware store. There is not on Trans-Canada from Douglas Street to the Malahat, a store on this Highway. It is hard to find any property for commercial use anymore. We have been established for many years as commercial and offer this ideal corner at a price including the propane sales (net approximately $300 a month steady-like) and tanks, pumps and spare cylinders for $20,000. Will sell on terms, $6,000 down.

We have the capital to finance the installation of gasoline pumps or a store building. You put up 25% of their cost and we will finance the other 75%. If you want to use a mobile home on the lot for living quarters, we will also sell and finance it to you. This is a real opportunity. Call us before it is too late. You may not have another chance.

3-BEDROOM HOME
$18,500

Here is an attractive and immaculately-kept home with handsome yellow cedar and stucco exterior. A gracious cathedral entrance leads to a combined living and dining room with centre fireplace, to a spacious, bright and modern kitchen, to three bedrooms with wide closets, and to a full bathroom with vanity.

The front window offers you a secluded view of trees and rock. The rear view provides freedom with the mountain range on the horizon.

Easy steps lead down from the entrance hall to the lower floor, comprising of a large family room with a wide picture window in the front and French doors opening onto a covered patio in the rear. In addition to this you find a storage room, a utility room, an extra washroom, and a drive-in garage with workspace in the back.

The layout of the property would enable the two-car owner to provide for an extra parking space.

Andy Stephen Looks at TV

The mention of CBC-TV's coverage of the illness, death and funeral of Sir Winston Churchill brought quick reaction from the CTV Television Network.

Stephen

The network's Toronto offices announced its affiliate stations were provided with 11 hours of continuous and complete coverage. Except for NBC-TV (which matched CTV's program length) this was longer continuous coverage than was given by other North American networks.

Although it was 4 a.m. PST in Vancouver when the program began, all CTV stations, including Channel 8, Vancouver, through to Halifax went on the air for the full eleven-hour telecast. This also included transmissions from the circling satellite Telstar, the electronic wonder.

That's all. Let's agree all networks did a superb job in the coverage of this historic moment.

* * *

CHANNEL CHIT CHAT: NBC-TV's award-winning series "Profiles in Courage," based on the late President Kennedy's Pulitzer Prize book, will be offered for U.S. syndication by NBC Films. It is now being seen in 10 countries other than the U.S. and Canada. 15 other countries, including some behind the Iron Curtain, are expressing interest.

Two new half-hour situation comedies are slated for NBC-TV next season. "Camp Runamuck" will spoof life in a boys' and girls' camp. Sounds ugh! "I Dream of Jeannie" will feature the adventures of a genie named Jeannie who has befriended an astronaut. What else is new? . . . Judy Garland is currently scheduled to perform on ABC-TV's Academy Award show April 5, singing a medley of songs by the late Cole Porter.

Norddeutscher Rundfunk, the West German television network, has purchased the 60-minute Easter allegory The Open Grave from CBC-TV . . . How does a man learn to accept the fact he will never see again? The subject is examined in the film "Blindness" to be telecast in the NFB Presents series on CBC-TV, Wednesday, Feb. 17, 10:30 p.m.

The Count Basie orchestra and Tony Bennett are guests on the Andy Williams show March 1 . . . Dick Van Dyke, whose series is on CBS-TV, admits his favorite new comedy show is "Bewitched," on ABC-TV . . . Viveca Lindfors goes into a segment of "Ben Casey" soon . . . ABC-TV has cleared time for 10 new shows next season while CBS-TV has firmed up plans for 9 newies.

Hour-long series planned for CBS-TV include: "The Wild West," starring Bob Conrad and Ross Martin; "Trials of O'Brien," starring Peter Falk; "Hogan's Heroes," with Bob Crane; "Lost in Space," a science-fiction series, and "Haunted," produced by former Outer Limits creator Joe Stefano. Half-hour shows are "Selena Mead" with Polly Bergen; "The Barbara Rush Show"; "McGhee" with Jeremey Slate, and "Who Goes There" with Ben Blue.

ABC-TV will clear time for 10 new shows next season and only 25 per cent of the network's prime-time shows will have to move. The temporary new show lineup will be available next week.

Staff Salaries Considered Key To Hospitals

The quality of hospital care in western Canada could depend on the proper distribution of funds, Dr. Ralph Adams, medical administrator of St. Joseph's Hospital, said Thursday.

The hospital which pours its money into staff is the hospital which provides the best care, he said, and in this regard western hospitals are far below those of eastern Canada.

Dr. Adams was speaking to members of the Rotary Club of Victoria.

"People are much more interested in the quality and cost of care they get as patients in a hospital now," said Dr. Adams.

He said several methods have been worked out to determine the value of the care.

The "satisfied customer" approach is hardly valid because it is known that a man's judgment is altered, sometimes to the level of a child, when he enters hospital as a patient.

Some react strongly to stresses and others have been known to take their illnesses symbolically.

The best method, he said, is by means of slides which illustrate question forms used in assessing hospital performance and performance of staff and achievement.

Another method, used extensively, is feeding certain information into computers which turn out evaluations of doctors.

PTA Backs Cigarette Ad Ban

What's good for liquor advertising is good for cigarette ads, provincial Parent-Teacher Federation president Mrs. H. L. Steves said here today.

The Richmond woman supported a stand made in the legislature by Cyril Shelford (SC—Omineca) to have B.C. press Ottawa to ban cigarette ads on television.

"I felt we should stress the point that at last year's PTA convention we passed a resolution asking for a restriction of advertising on cigarettes and presented it to the government," Mrs. Steves said.

"Our 36,000 members are backing this completely and I felt the general public should know this," she added.

"If the government can control liquor advertising, we definitely felt they can do it for cigarettes."

Mrs. Steves said the Canadian Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation accepted the resolution last year and were to present it to the federal government this year.

The provincial president is here partly to make plans with Mrs. A. B. Thompson, 1965 convention chairman, for the annual gathering to be held in Victoria in April.

Soft Fruit Crop Hit

KELOWNA (CP)—John Smith, provincial government horticulturalist here, says this year's Okanagan soft-fruit crop is probably a total loss due to frost.

He said two sub-zero nights in mid-December ruined the entire 1965 soft-fruit crop of apricots, cherries and peaches.

He said the temperature dropped to 15-below-zero on Dec. 15 and 16 and the freeze ruined the forming buds.

Mr. Smith said the Okanagan apple crop will be almost unaffected but the only peaches, cherries or apricots this year will be a scant few that might be sold at roadside stands.

He said there will be no commercial crop.

Last year Okanagan growers produced more than 1,000,000 packs of apricots, 1,500,000 packs of peaches, and more than 500,000 20-pound lugs of cherries.

PGE Strike Talks End in Deadlock

VANCOUVER (CP) — The strike by nearly 200 trainmen against the Pacific Great Eastern Railway will continue "indefinitely," Labor Minister Leslie Peterson said early today.

Mr. Peterson emerged shortly before midnight Thursday from day-long negotiations between the company and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen (CLC) to announce that negotiations were deadlocked.

He said no compromise proposals had been advanced by either side. The negotiations resumed Wednesday for the first time since the strike began more than a week ago.

Mr. Peterson said he offered to stay all night in an attempt to work out a settlement, but it would have been "an exercise in futility."

He said the government-owned railway was willing to accept the recommendations contained in a report by industrial inquiry commissioner Dr. G. Neil Perry.

However, the union rejected Mr. Perry's report Wednesday, saying it was merely a carbon copy of previous agreements and disagreements.

Meanwhile, some CPR switchmen failed to report for work today in apparent support for five men disciplined for supporting PGE strikers.

Plant Opposition Defended by Lee

Metro health has consistently favored elimination of pollution and that is why it recommended against plans to dump treated effluent into Colquitz Creek, the board chairman said today.

The board's basic policy is to oppose pollution where some pollution is already evident, said Reeve Gordon Lee of Central Saanich.

He was replying to comments by Reeve Hugh Curtis of Saanich, who criticized the board for recommending against a plan to double the capacity of a treatment plant serving the Northridge subdivision.

"If we approve this plan, it would only have the effect of adding to that pollution," said Mr. Lee.

While it was no doubt true, as Mr. Curtis said, that the effluent would be almost-pure water, "that still leaves some margin for pollution."

If an exception was made, the board's policy could not be justified in the future.

HONEST OPINION

Mr. Lee said Metro health officer, Dr. J. L. M. Whitbread, only gave his honest opinion "and that is his job."

The board's recommendation was made by the board itself and any criticism should be directed at it.

In any event, the decision on the matter would be made by the provincial government's Pollution Control Board. At its meeting Thursday, the board made no decision on Saanich's application and it will be considered again later this month.

Reeve Curtis said Dr. Whitbread would be better advised to look at the only alternative to extension of the treatment plant—septic tanks.

But Reeve Lee said Dr. Whitbread gave his opinion that the septic tank idea was the least desirable alternative.

LEAVES FOR LONDON

Queen Winds Up Tour After Mixed Shouts

KHARTOUM (Reuters) — Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip today wound up a four-day visit to Sudan after a day in which triumphal cheers for the couple were marred by anti-British incidents.

The Queen left for London shortly before her husband took off for Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, on the start of a six-week tour of the Middle East and Asia.

On their last full day in Khartoum Thursday the Queen and her husband were loudly cheered as they drove to Khartoum's Technical Institute, which will shortly receive a £10,000 ($30,000) British donation for equipment.

The drive was marred by two brief incidents, both involving students.

THREW A TOMATO

As the Queen's motorcade drove by, a Sudanese student threw a tomato which sailed harmlessly past a motorcycle escort.

A few minutes later, as the motorcade passed the Khartoum branch of Cairo University, a group of students standing outside shouted "down with the British."

Police arrested the student who threw the tomato.

Both incidents occurred only a day after the Queen was greeted by anti-British slogans shouted by a group of students in El Obeid, in the western Sudan, which she and her husband visited Wednesday.

Breakthrough For Indians?

The Port Simpson pilot study in assisting Indian community development could provide a breakthrough for the entire B.C. Indian population, the provincial legislature was told Tuesday.

William Speare (SC—Cariboo) said he thoroughly endorsed the three-year experiment begun this month "and I would earnestly ask that thought be given to further such programs."

He said Indians in the Cariboo live in hardship and deplorable conditions and these could be eased by a community development program there which would help the Indians to help themselves.

UNFAIR

Mr. Speare said nursing homes should be put on the same footing as hospitals with a board deciding what rates they should charge in order to ensure there was a connection between prices and service.

The present blanket rate is not fair because it makes it possible for "a patient not getting the proper care, not getting the proper diet paying just the same as others getting better care and better diet."

MORE EQUIPMENT

W. F. Jefcoat (SC—Salmon Arm) praised conservation officers and said it was time that they were supplied with more and better equipment.

"The forestry service have four-wheel-drive vehicles which are idle some of the time and yet the conservation officers can't seem to get any even in an emergency."

Masks Banned

PASSAIC, N.J. (AP)—Mask-wearing by anyone more than 12 years of age has been outlawed in this city of 54,000. The city commission adopted the ban unanimously Tuesday night after Commissioner Joseph A. Stanek said it would curb young thugs and vandals who roam the streets in masks, especially around Halloween time.

Three Die In Fire

AGASSIZ, B.C. (CP)—Three persons died early Sunday in a fire that swept through a village home on the remote Fort Douglas Indian reserve about 60 miles northeast of Vancouver. The fire is believed to have been started by an oil lantern. Killed were Mr. and Mrs. Dick Jacob Peters and Antoine James, 34, who was visiting the Peters at the time.

Vegetarian Lectures Attract 200 Persons

More than 200 men and women—young and old—are attending a series of five lecture-demonstrations on vegetarian cooking in Central Junior Secondary School.

"We believe people enjoy better health on a vegetarian diet," said Mrs. Kathleen Piper, who is conducting the course for Victoria Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

"There is actually a higher protein content in fruit and vegetable dishes than in animal products. We do not exclude dairy products, such as eggs, butter and cheese, but we do not regard them as essential.

"We recommend no more than three eggs a week for a balanced diet, and we believe they should be cooked in vegetable oils, not animal fats."

Mrs. Piper said two-thirds of the men and women taking her course are not members of Seventh-Day Adventist Church. They are of all age groups from 18 to 65.

"An increasing number of people are interested in vegetarian dishes because they are concerned over the number of ailments attributed to meat-eating."

In the first of her lectures, Mrs. Piper demonstrated how appetizing breakfasts can be cooked with fruit and vegetables.

Next Monday at 8 p.m. she will speak on the preparation of high-protein entre dishes.

Pastor A. M. Spenst of Victoria Seventh-Day Adventist Church said the cooking school is part of a world-wide health program sponsored by Adventists.

Last August the Victoria church conducted a clinic in the Empress Hotel for persons wishing to give up smoking.

Both Parties Get Blame In Fatality

A corner's jury Thursday night blamed both driver and pedestrian in the traffic death Feb. 4 of Mrs. Margaret Barber, 554 Dupplin, a 75-year-old widow.

The jury said the mishap was a result of "a lack of caution on the part of both parties involved."

Driver of the car which struck Mrs. Barber was Sidney Coward, 73, of 986 Ambassador, Sidney. The accident occurred Feb. 3 at Douglas St. and Cloverdale.

Mrs. Barber died three hours later at St. Joseph's Hospital of hemorrhages to the brain stem which connects the brain to the spinal cord.

Testifying Tuesday evening under the protection of the Canada Evidence Act and the B.C. Evidence Act, Mr. Coward said "It appeared to me the lady stepped right in front of the car."

He struck her while turning left from Cloverdale onto Douglas. He estimated his speed at between 15-20 miles per hour.

Const. Joseph Ferguson said Mrs. Barber's body was found 28 feet south of the crosswalk.

The crosswalk is controlled by a 23-second push-button light.

Mrs. Barber was walking home from church at the time of the accident. Mr. Coward was going to town to purchase postage stamps.

The inquest had been adjourned from Tuesday evening and city coroner Edmond Jorre de St. Jorre summed up the evidence and instructed the five-man, one-woman jury for 56 minutes in the Saanich courtroom.

The jury deliberated 30 minutes.

Airliner Wreck Found By Divers

NEW YORK (AP)—A massive tangle of aircraft wreckage was found on the ocean floor Thursday in the area off Jones Beach where an Eastern Air Lines DC-7B went down with 84 persons Monday night. Among the victims were three Canadians.

There was no immediate word whether any bodies had been found. Most have yet to be recovered.

Divers reported seeing "tons and tons of wreckage strewn around in small pieces."

Timber Auction Bid Fees Said Hurting Competition

Several MLAs Thursday showed concern that two measures introduced to save small loggers from suicidal competition at timber auctions may kill off all competition to the detriment of the provincial treasury.

The fears were raised in the legislature's forestry committee. It was suggested that competition has been sharply reduced in the provincial timber sales and that "trafficking in quotas" has shrunk the number of loggers operating in public working circles by 118 in the past year.

Attention centred on the quota system developed since 1956 to make logging more orderly and the bidding fees introduced last year at the committee's own suggestion as a method of stopping "blackmail" bids in timber auctions.

COMPETITION GONE

Gordon Gibson (L—North Vancouver) said "competition has gone" from timber auctions, pointing out statistics showed only 173 out of 1,896 completed timber sales last year drew more than one bid.

He argued this inevitably would mean that public auctions would not bring prices as high as they should and would lower the proportionate share of provincial revenues from exploitation of B.C.'s forests.

Deputy forests minister R. G. McKee said some lessening of competition resulted from last year's introduction of bidding fees to stop the "spite" or "blackmail" bids that forced quota-holders to pay "suicidal" prices for timber cutting rights.

MATCH BID

The new system requires a non-quota bidder at a timber auction to deposit 5 per cent of his tender or a minimum of $100 for the privilege of bidding. The quota holder, who has the right to match the highest bid to protect his vested interests, does not have to pay a fee.

Mr. McKee said the fees have "stopped some suicidal bidding" but he agreed with Mr. Gibson's contention it was eliminating some competition from the smaller loggers as a side-effect.

"The small operator gets the short end of the stick," he said. "That's the evil of the bidding fee but against that you have the value of stopping stupid bids" which created marked instability in the industry.

However, Mr. McKee maintained the bidding fee system was not hurting provincial revenues from timber sales, pointing out that "last year our revenues went up $8 million."

INSUFFICIENT

Mr. Gibson countered that total value of the timber sold went up by $150 million at the same time so the provincial share of $8 million "represents less than 5 per cent" and this was an insufficient royalty.

Committee chairman Cyril Shelford (SC—Omineca) expressed concern that large companies are buying out smaller quota holders, particularly in the north, and this "trafficking" was creating speculation and a trend towards monopoly control which was unsettling.

He said it was time regulations placed "obligations" on big quota holders operating in public working circles similar to those placed on the avowedly-monopolistic tree farm licences in order to protect the public interest.

Statistics showed that while 247 new quota holders were established last year in the province, 365 were cancelled out—mostly by purchases—for a net loss of 118 in the competitive business.

Mr. Shelford asked if the department could supply an accurate chart showing this trend towards monopoly control but Mr. McKee said it would be almost impossible because new companies could have links with large firms that would not be apparent without considerable investigation.

ONE DOMINATES

Mr. McKee said that about 20 per cent of the public working circles in the Prince George area, for an example, were dominated by one logging firm in each case.

To illustrate the difficulty of tracing ultimate ownership of quota rights in any given public working circle, Mr. McKee took a known recent case in the Prince Rupert area where Northern Stud, a company holding quota rights, was bought out by newcomer Flavelle Timber.

The latter, it turned out, was owned by Canadian Collieries "and if you didn't happen to know that Canadian Collieries is owned by Weldwood (a giant integrated firm) then you can't know what's what."

Forests Minister Ray Williston said it was impossible to ensure that excess profits made by speculators selling provincial quota rights would go into the B.C. treasury because an elaborate system of independent appraisals would have to be set up to investigate every sale and this could easily be circumvented by simply selling the speculating company's shares instead of the quota rights themselves.

Edward Knight, chief appraisal officer for the forestry department, told the committee that "gentlemen's agreements" always have characterized the logging industry and pre-date quotas so it would be unfair to blame the system for under-counter deals on public-granted privileges.

Superannuates Hold Election For New Slate

The federal superannuates have elected an executive for 1965.

Re-elected president was W. G. Stone with W. R. McLaren as vice-president and H. A. Kathrens, secretary-treasurer.

Elected to the executive committee were Miss Mary T. Roberts, A. L. Robinson, Fred Godsalve, J. H. Hedley, Charles F. Wall and Godfrey Argument.

Reports were given at the meeting by F. W. Whitehouse, national secretary-treasurer and W. R. McLaren, national vice-president. They appeared before the special committee of the Canada pension plan and presented a brief on behalf of the retired federal civil servants of Canada.

The federal superannuates have the support of the Canadian Congress of Labor.

SOLUTION MONDAY

Movie Ban Reversed

NEW YORK (AP)—A court ban on the showing of the movie, John Goldfarb, Please Come Home, was reversed Tuesday. The Univeristy of Notre Dame sought the ban because of references in the story to the university's football team.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Jeffrey Aquilante, age 11, of Bridgeport, Conn., for his question:

How is leather treated?

Most of our leather shoes are made from the skins of cattle, but there is a big difference between a glossy black boot and the velvety coat of a cow. The difference involves a series of leather treatments, the most important of which is a process called leather tanning.

The most durable leathers are made from the hides of horses and cattle, sharks and camels. Softer leathers are made from the skin of a doe or chamois, sheep or goat. The work of changing the animal skin into lasting leather is done in a plant called a tannery. The actual tanning is just one operation in the treatment, and almost every tannery has its own methods and recipes for performing the various operations.

There are, however, certain basic chores that must be done in the treatment of all leathers. The skin, of course, must be removed from its original owner with as little damage to it as possible. Its hair, bristles and the bits of flesh clinging to it must be removed. The dried hides are then soaked in some kind of tanning solution that changes the skin into leather. The leather must then be softened and surfaced.

The fresh skins are cured in salt solutions to prevent decay and then tied in great bundles to be sent to the tannery. In the first step of the treatment, rollers or scrapers or whirling knives are used to remove the fleshy fat clinging to the underside of the hides. The next step requires a vat of lime solution with perhaps some dissolved sodium sulphide. Here the hides are soaked from three to seven days. This softens the hair which then can be removed by blunt blades and scrapers. The skins are then washed to remove the lime, and new substances may be added to the wash water to neutralize the other hair-softening chemicals.

Tanning An Ancient Art

The clean hides are then steeped in a vat of tanning chemicals. Many of these chemicals are tannins soaked from the wood, leaves and barks of various plants. Many tanneries also use tanning baths of mineral chemicals, such as alum and salty compounds of chromium. The tanning may take weeks, and when it is done the hides and skins have been transformed into durable, pliable, waterproof leather.

The leather hides must be softened with oils or grease, pounded with hammers and squeezed through rollers. Some will be given glossy surfaces, and others will be scuffed with gritty rollers to give velvety suede finishes.

Leather tanning is an ancient art, and dozens of different methods have been used through the ages. Chemical salts were introduced in modern times, and in the past only natural tannin chemicals were used. Most plants contain the bitter, rot-preventing chemicals called tannins. We soak them from the leaves and nuts, wood and bark of oak and hemlock, sumac and chestnut. In the tropics, tannin is soaked from the bark of the mangrove tree, and Australian leather is tanned with tannins from the acacia wattle.

EARTHQUAKE EFFECTS

Alaska's Good Friday earthquake in 1964 caused the bottom to drop out of two harbors—Valdez and Seward's — where channels were deepened by up to 300 feet.

VOICE OF BROADWAY

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

BROADWAY BULLETIN BOARD . . . Lew Wasserman, genius president of MCA, is up for a post in President Johnson's cabinet . . . Julie Andrews may make headlines that have nothing to do with her hit films . . . Tin Pan Alley's hotest gossip concerns the lengthy interrogation of a famous singer by the FBI. The quizzing took place in the skyscraper office of the vocalist's business manager, and naturally everyone "in the biz" is dying to know what it's all about. (This is a singer who's never even been kidnapped) . . . Leonard Bernstein and the Philharmonic are a good bet to accompany Barbara Streisand in her April 28 special, "Hi, I'm Barbara!" It's reported that maestro Bernstein is enchanted with Barbara's talent—as who isn't—and they would make a rating-grabbing combination . . .

One of the most famous of all jazz bandleaders is in the hospital undergoing shock treatments . . . Princess Ashraf, sister of the Shah of Iran, is expecting a baby. And the way they feel in that family, it had better be a boy . . . Previewers who have seen "In Harm's Way" say John Wayne's performance in it is the best of his career. They're even talking about an Academy Award nomination . . . The Waldorf Astoria will reopen its Starlight Roof around prom time if it can snag Paul Anka as the headliner . . . Brigitte Bardot has expressed a "serious desire" to co-star with Audrey Hepburn in a film. In fact, she said she would be thrilled. However, anyone knowing the dignified Audrey would advise you not to hold your breath.

Some producers do read Broadway columns. Joe Levine admits he cast Red Buttons as the agent in "Harlow" as a direct result of an offbeat item in this space, and he's delighted with the idea. Red, who dashed off a handwritten note the minute the deal was made, is even more ecstatic . . . John Lewis, pianist and musical director of the Modern Jazz Quartet, says that American jazz is falling behind European jazz at an alarming rate. To quote him:

"The days of Europeans copying Americans is all over. Now there are more new things going on in jazz overseas than there are in the U.S." Okay, John. What's going on, and where? We get some pretty tunes from Italy now and then, but they can't be classified as jazz, so where can we buy these avant-garde European records?

Ray Stark may say "hello dere" to Marty Allen for an important role in the cinema edition of "Oh Dad, Poor Dad." . . . Friends of a fine actor are shivering with fear at what might happen because he's deeply depressed and is combining alcohol with sleeping pills. The one chum who could help—and would give a great deal to save him—is 3,000 miles away.

Watch for this new fashion flash for the fellows: Churchill coats. They're deep blue, in British naval style, with 16 buttons down the front—a topper favored by the late Sir Winston. Some of the smart men's shops here are showing them at $80 a clip and can scarcely keep them in stock . . . Everyone flipped at Loretta Young's youthful beauty when she turned up to see Mabel Mercer at the Upstairs at the Downstairs. Loretta's a grandmother, but she didn't look 32 . . . Tony Bennett, packing 'em in Florida, apparently affects other stars as he does Mr. and Mrs. Joe Doakes. Peggy Lee delayed her return to California for 24 hours just to attend Tony's opening, and enjoyed his performance so much she cancelled her plane reservations the next day so she could catch his second night. No need to send out search warrants, however; she's winged home, only three days late . . .

Local merchants are startled because a famous star in more than one area of show business simply doesn't pay his bills. It's even more incomprehensible to them because his wife's so rich . . . Gina Lollobrigida's husband, Milko Skofic, was honored by having an audience with Pope Paul VI the other day. His Holiness expressed his compliments about a book on St. Thomas Aquinas which Milko's firm recently published.

Stan Z. Burns, who will substitute for Murray the K's show on March 1, will make martial news in June when he takes Edith Perez, a UN guide, as his bride . . . No wonder the Hollywood diehards are weeping. More than 65 per cent of the films being considered for Oscars were shot abroad.

BUCK TELLS STUDENTS

Communists Avoid Clashes With NDP

By BOB DONAHUE

Canadian Communist Party honorary national chairman Tim Buck Thursday vowed his party's support for the New Democrats in the next federal election.

The former Communist national leader told University of Victoria students that socialism is a step towards communism.

"We (the Communists) are only going to run 16 or 17 candidates but we will be very careful not to run a candidate in a riding where it would jeopardize the election of an NDP party member."

(Meanwhile, the same day Canadian Communist Party national leader W. Kashtan said from Toronto that the Communists would make a concerted effort to elect one or two Communist candidates in the next federal election.

(He predicted that Communist party candidates would be elected "when the political climate changes.")

Mr. Buck at Uvic said the Communist Party will concentrate on helping the NDP win the balance of power at Ottawa.

Mr. Buck did not refer to himself as a communist but as a socialist during his speech to the students.

During the question period, Mr. Buck was asked to explain why he avoided calling himself a communist.

He said:

"What we are fighting for is recognition that socialism is the next step forward for mankind. The higher alternative is socialism.

"You cannot advance to communism until socialism is established. The Communist Manifesto itself states that socialism is the first step and the evolution to communism is the next natural step.

"In Canada we have taken the position that because of the regional character of Canadian interests it is quite logical to work on the basis of parliamentary action in establishing socialism," said Mr. Buck.

CHINA INVOLVED

On Viet Nam Mr. Buck said if the United States becomes involved in war in that country, it is also in a war with China.

"It will be self-defence if China aids the North Vietnamese. It is the same as any country defending its military borders.

"Unless the present actions are stopped it will ping-pong into a general war in southeast Asia," warned Mr. Buck.

He said the U.S. should pull out of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia immediately and allow a free vote of the people to decide which type of government they want.

"The Vietnamese people were promised a free vote on the type of government they wanted in 1954," said Mr. Buck. "They have never been given that vote because the multiplicity of governments has not allowed it.

"Is there anything wrong if the people of Viet Nam prefer the Communist system?" questioned Mr. Buck.

He said Canada's role should be to see that neutrality is observed in Viet Nam.

And in a final barb aimed at Canada's relations with the U.S., he asked: "Are we content to be dragged along by the tail in an attempt to stop a world change in the system of governments?"

Ex-Premier 'Personal Friend'

Former Soviet Premier Khrushchev was politically exhumed and re-buried here Thursday by Tim Buck, the honorary national chairman of the Communist Party of Canada.

"Nikita was a wonderful guy," he told University of Victoria students, "and a personal friend of mine."

"He did a fine thing when he exposed Stalin and in travelling throughout the Soviet Union arousing the people into realizing changes were needed.

"But in the process of these battles, his own personal authority and popularity became too great.

"He then allowed the ideological conflict with China to take on the flavor of a personal quarrel between him and Mao."

This was his undoing, said Mr. Buck.

"It colored his judgment and got in the way of co-operation between Communist states. There was a further sharp deterioration of co-operation when he asserted his quarrel as though it was a policy of the government," said Mr. Buck.

LAST REPORT

"When he submitted his last report, and staked his job on it, it was not accepted by the government.

"He is still a member of the Soviet parliament, but otherwise he is retired.

"He is a wonderful guy but he was getting old and cranky and becoming stubborn."

Poster Campaign Aimed at Curbing Venereal Disease

The provincial government is stepping up its campaign to curb veneral disease.

Health Minister Eric Martin told the legislature Thursday night that posters showing a pretty girl in provocative pose and bearing the caption "four out of every five pickups have VD" will soon be posted in all public washrooms.

"I would like to add that it isn't wise to take a chance on that fifth pickup," the minister said as he displayed the new poster to the house.

Latest statistics show Victoria and district as having 171 out of the 5,186 gonorrhea cases in B.C. and eight of the 304 provincial cases of syphilis.

He said the government will continue to do everything possible to mount a massive attack on the problem.

Mr. Martin said VD is found most often in the 25 to 34 age group but that 15 per cent of all cases were found in teenagers.

Ten years ago B.C. reported 2,494 cases of gonorrhea. Last year 5,816 cases were reported.

In 1956 only 14 cases of syphilis were reported in the province. Last year 304 cases were treated.

PATROL SHIP NABS 10 ARMED INDONESIANS

SINGAPORE (AP)—A Malaysian patrol ship captured 10 armed Indonesian guerrillas aboard a sampan before dawn today off the southwestern coast of the Malayan mainland, police reported.

The capture was said to have taken place near Kukup Island, 25 miles west of Singapore and along the coast of Johore State, scene of several Indonesian raids in the past six months. No fighting was reported.

Rights Worker 'Chained' to Bed

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—A Negro civil rights leader who became ill in jail was taken to hospital and chained to his bed, but a doctor protested and the chain was removed Thursday night.

Rev. James Bevel, an associate of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was moved to Burwell Infirmary earlier in the day from the county jail where he was serving a five-day sentence on a contempt of court conviction growing out of a demonstration here Monday.

Dr. E. A. Maddox said the civil rights leader was suffering from a virus condition and had a temperature of 102 degrees.

The doctor said Bevel was shackled to his bed by a chain attached to his ankle and that a guard was posted on the door outside the room.

The chain was removed after the doctor addressed a written request to Sheriff James Clark. The letter to Clark said Bevel was suffering from what appeared to be virus pneumonia, needed as much rest as possible and couldn't get the needed rest shackled to the bed.

Bevel was sentenced to five days in jail and fined $50 last Monday during an adult voter registration march to the court house. He and other Negroes were charged with violating a state court injunction prohibiting courthouse demonstrations.

In Our HOUSE

By Arthur Mayse

Gallery visitors who trooped out when Health Minister Martin had concluded his Thursday night speech should have stayed put. Mr. Martin's sonorous account of his stewardship was only the preliminary; the main event of the day was still to come.

At the afternoon sitting, it was plain that the five Liberals of the Legislative Assembly were cooking something. They whispered and conferred. Occasionally one or other slipped out, was absent a while, then returned to his seat with the slight bow which parliamentary tradition requires for Mr. Speaker.

A buzz began to circulate that the minor opposition might ginger up a hitherto quiet session during the night sitting.

We were not disappointed.

Oak Bay Liberal Alan Macfarlane got to his feet while the government side was still applauding the health minister's speech with a round of desk-slapping.

Mr. Macfarlane ripped into Socred health policies with the vim which this urbane lawyer displays in such encounters.

But rebuttals are routine, part of the normal give-and-take of legislative debate.

That chiding done with, Mr. Macfarlane beat a bastinado on government for asserted failure to recognize municipal needs with revised per capita grants.

That, too, is no new ploy. The devil of municipal grants gets chased around the stump a score of times each session.

★ ★ ★

Then . . .

Liberal Macfarlane reached to his desk for a typed statement.

"Several members," he intoned, "have spoken in this debate about the mysterious Stonehill letter."

From that point, the hush in the chamber was all but complete.

There was no heckling. In such quiet as rarely rules in this amphitheatre, Mr. Macfarlane proceeded with his statement, making no direct charge.

Then, in a stern conclusion which lifted the House to its most dramatic moment in a hitherto quiet session:

"We know who manufactured this letter . . . The attorney-general has a duty to this House and to the public to name this person and to make a full disclosure. We demand he do so forthwith. Our next speaker is on Tuesday next, the member from Fernie (Harry McKay). If the attorney-general has not done his duty by then, our next speaker will do it for him, and name the man."

★ ★ ★

Attorney-General Bonner interrupted but once, to suggest grimly that in this mater, Mr. Macfarlane was trespassing upon his position as a member.

At the end, he sat nibbling a pen while opposition cries of "Stand up and tell us!" were heard above a wild exchange of cross-floor shouting.

Second deputy speaker Herbert Bruch (SC—Esquimalt) restored order with voice and gavel.

Only then did Mr. Bonner rise.

"Being all in good humor," he declared, in a sardonic borrowing from an absent premier, "I move we now adjourn."

WRECKING CREW pulls three-ton van from waters of Goldstream River which claimed the life of Duncan chicken farmer Eino Suominen. The truck apparently teetered over side of bridge and plunged into river.

Duncan Man Dies In Bridge Crash

By RON SUDLOW

The body of a Duncan man was found this morning trapped inside his cab-over-engine truck which apparently teetered over the side of a bridge in Goldstream Park.

It landed in five feet of swirling water.

He was identified as Eion Olavi Suominen, 37, of 2507 Inverarity Road, Duncan.

His panel delivery truck is believed to have come too close to the left side of the narrow bridge at the foot of a twisting, steep incline leading over the Goldstream River. There was no guard rail on that side.

Police believe the accident occurred sometime Thursday evening as Mr. Suominen's watch was stopped at 11:25.

GUSHED INTO CAB

His body was found partially submerged in water which gushed into the cab of the truck.

The mishap was discovered this morning by a sports fisherman.

The truck was overturned, with the van slanting down the river bank and the cab in the water.

The park road provides a short-cut from the Trans-Canada Highway to Golden Gate Road which runs from the highway at Goldstream.

The truck apparently partially missed the wooden bridge, then teetered on a six-inch beam on the edge of the bridge, before toppling into the river.

BECOME SCRAPED

The beam was scraped by the van's undercarriage and wood splinters appeared on the truck's tie-rod half-way between the front wheels.

There is a three-foot high guard rail on the opposite side of the bridge.

Empty egg cartons were found inside the van and some were floating downstream.

KNOCKED OUT

The cab of the truck was relatively undamaged and it is speculated Mr. Suominen was knocked out by the truck's 10-foot fall, and drowned.

Mr. Suominen's remains were taken to Sands funeral chapel at Colwood.

He had been a Duncan egg-producer and chicken farmer for about five years and dealt in Victoria with Golden Yolk Farms.

Mr. Suominen is of Finnish extraction and it is believed he was born in Canada. He came to the Duncan area from Alberta.

He leaves the widow and two children.

Civilians Dig In; Fear Raid

(Times News Services)

SAIGON — Civilians in Saigon began digging shelters today against any possible Communist air raid following massive U.S.-South Vietnamese air strikes Thursday on military targets in North Viet Nam.

Saigon authorities also tested air raid sirens.

U.S. officials called the raid highly successful. A spokesman said anti-aircraft activity was no heavier than on the Sunday or Monday raids and that the new raid might have come as more of a surprise.

It brought bitter new denunciations and charges of aggression from the Communist regimes in Hanoi, Peking and Moscow.

Reports said the bombs, rockets and gunfire left smoke columns surging up through broken clouds over the target areas.

Chap Le, 8½ miles north of the border between North and South Viet Nam, was softened up by 28 U.S. Air Force F-100 Sabre-jet fighters, then pounded by 28 propeller-driven South Vietnamese fighter-bombers.

Chan Hoa, 50 miles north of the border and four miles northwest of Dong Hoi, scene of a previous strike, was hit by more than 100 navy jets from the 7th Fleet carriers Hancock, Ranger and Coral Sea.

Military authorities announced the recovery of bodies of three of four U.S. Army advisers reported missing when the Viet Cong overran the town of Duc Phong, north of Saigon, Wednesday.

Since the step-up of American activity in Viet Nam in December, 1961, a total of 273 American lives have been lost in combat.

The evacuation of American dependents from South Viet Nam continued today.

Saigon's student union headquarters was rocked Thursday night by the explosion of two grenades.

Wilson Supports U.S. Raids

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson pledged British support for U.S. policy in Viet Nam in a personal call over the Washington-London hot line to President Johnson, government sources said today.

Wilson conferred with the president Thursday night on the explosive situation in southeast Asia and re-affirmed British support for the American policy of "measured, relevant response" to Communist Viet Cong guerrilla attacks, the sources said.

Government sources made it clear that Britain does not plan to lend military support to the United States action in Viet Nam.

But they said token help may be increased through the British military mission, already on the spot for training South Vietnamese in jungle warfare.

LONGSHOREMEN REJECT BID; ORDERED BACK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The International Longshoremen's Association rejected a bid today for a complete settlement of the U.S. dock strike which began 33 days ago, but ordered longshoremen back to work Saturday in all but two ports, Miami and Galveston.

Agreement has been reached in all ports but Miami and Galveston.

Shippers accepted the federal mediator's proposal, which called for an over-all back-to-work movement while negotiations continued under a mediator.

Pearson Shifts Tremblay Post

By JOYCE FAIRBAIRN
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Postmaster-General John Nicholson has been named immigration minister in a cabinet change prompted by the resignation of Public Works Minister Jean Paul Deschatelets.

Prime Minister Pearson today announced that Nicholson would exchange portfolios with the present immigration minister Tremblay.

Deschatelets' portfolio will be filled by Associate Defence Minister Lucien Cardin. A Quebec backbencher Leo Cadieux will become associate defence minister.

Pearson did not fill the vacancy of minister without portfolio created when he requested the resignation last month of Yvon Dupuis.

Pearson would not comment on the exchange between Tremblay and Nicholson other than to say "switches are normal in any government."

It is the third cabinet post for Nicholson since the Liberal government came to power in April, 1963. He represents Vancouver Centre.

THREE POSTS

He first held the portfolio of forestry minister and became postmaster general a year ago when his predecessor, Azellus Denis, was named to the Senate. As postmaster general he also administered Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation following the death of revenue minister John Garland.

He will be in charge of overseeing major changes now being planned in the immigration department.

Tremblay has experienced difficulty as immigration minister almost since he took the portfolio last year.

His involvement with the recent furniture controversy added further to his difficulties.

Deschatelets' resignation was prompted by personal reasons believed involving the recent tragic death of his daughter shortly before her wedding.

Pearson said he talked with Deschatelets Sunday and tried to persuade him to remain in the cabinet in a less onerous post than public works.

Pearson expressed pleasure that Deschatelets would continue to sit as member for the Montreal riding of Maisonneuve-Rosemount. He sent "grateful thanks" for Deschatelets' services "which have been both efficient and devoted and for which we owe you a real debt of gratitude."

Deschatelets, one of the most quiet and steady ministers, entered Parliament in 1953 and was returned in four subsequent elections.

Cardin, a 45-year-old lawyer representing Richelieu-Vercheres, has been in parliament since 1952. He has gained a responsible reputation as associate to Defence Minister Paul Hellyer and was a key figure in recent re-organization programs in the development.

Cadieux's appointment to the associate defence portfolio was somewhat of a surprise as he has been a relatively obscure member on the Liberal benches.

He was first elected in 1962 and is a former mayor of St. Antoine des Laurenteides, north of Montreal.

Pearson said he had planned to hold off cabinet changes until the Dorion inquiry had completed its work, but Deschatelets' resignation made it necessary to act immediately.

Thant Seeks Negotiations On Viet Nam

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — United Nations Secretary-General U Thant proposed today that both sides in the Vietnamese conflict enter into talks aimed at preparing the ground for formal negotiations on a settlement.

Thant made the proposal in appealing to "all parties concerned" to refrain from any new actions which could lead to an escalation of warfare in Viet Nam.

He did not refer by name to the United States, the Soviet Union, China, North Viet Nam or any other powers which have interests in Southeast Asia.

He said he was making the appeal "in the interest of the peace and well-being of the people of Viet Nam and of the world at large."

Has Letter Writer Been Gagged?-MLA

By JOHN MIKA
Times Legislative Reporter

Liberal MLA Alan Macfarlane today dropped a second bombshell in the "mystery letter" case.

He suggested the unidentified author might have been silenced to prevent an explanation coming out.

Late Thursday night he told a tense legislature that Vancouver public relations man Al Williamson "seems to know more about this case than any other man" and demanded that Attorney-General Robert Bonner reveal whether he has been interrogated by police.

While Mr. Macfarlane continued his attack on the attorney-general's silence this morning, Mr. Bonner held a press conference in which it was revealed for the first time possibilities of a charge by his department are being actively studied.

Mr. Macfarlane told the house at 11 p.m. Thursday that if the attorney-general "has not done his duty by Tuesday next" a Liberal MLA would identify the author of the famous letter bearing the purported signature of Premier Bennett and apparently intended to influence the Harry Stonehill application for immigrant status.

KNOWN FRIDAY

Mr. Bonner replied this morning he would "not bow to ultimatums of this kind" but said that the government's position would be known by next Friday.

However, Mr. Macfarlane's speech appeared to have prompted some activity. Mr. Bonner said he would hold a full-scale conference later to-visers and RCMP officials to visers and RMCP officials to decide whether charges would be laid in Vancouver by the province.

Previous statements by Mr. Bonner indicated he felt Ottawa should take the next step because it was not up to B.C. to take "unilateral" action.

But Mr. Bonner said he would continue his silence on the identity of the Vancouver man he has said told RCMP "how the letter came into being without the premier's permission and without the premier's knowledge."

Mr. Macfarlane said continuation of the silence "just means the continuation of besmirching the reputations of innocent people" who are in the spotlight of suspicion.

NO BEARING

He said revealing the identity of the author had no bearing on any possible charges or their prosecution and should not be withheld "while the attorney-general dithers as to which course he should take.

"The unidentified man himself

REST OF CREW RESCUED

Ship Explosion Kills Three

HONOLULU (AP) — Three men were reported killed Thursday night in an engine-room explosion aboard the Danish freighter Margit, about 1,100 miles southwest of here.

Twenty-four other persons—including one woman—took to lifeboats and were rescued Friday by a U.S. Navy cargo ship after abandoning their burning freighter.

The rescue ship, the Greenville Victory, after picking up survivors, messaged the U.S. Coast Guard in Honolulu:

"The survivors reported that at least three men are known to be lost from the blast in the engine room."

The freighter blast injured at least three other crew members.

One of those rescued had burns over 70 per cent of his body. Another had a possible leg fracture. A third "suffered a sharp blow to the stomach and is in pain," the Greenville Victory radioed. trained medical personnel. Efforts were pressed to reach a ship with a doctor aboard.

The rescue was made about 11 hours after the Margit radioed she was afire.

A coast guard plane circling the Margit radioed that the ship was "burning out of control."

The 4,967-ton Margit, carrying a cargo of flour, asbestos and cast iron from San Francisco and Los Angeles for Calcutta, India, sent out an SOS Thursday night asking for immediate assistance.

The Margit sailed from San Francisco Feb. 1, calling at Los Angeles and then heading out across the Pacific.

See Page 16

OTTAWA (CP) — RCMP Inspector J. R. R. Carriere testified today that Pierre Lamontagne told him he had been advised by his employer in his law firm not to do anything about attempted bribery and coercion to which the Montreal lawyer said he had been subjected.

The officer was replying at the Dorion judicial inquiry to questions concerning the delay between the time Mr. Lamontagne was allegedly offered a bribe July 14 and when he first reported it to Insp. Carriere Aug. 10.

Insp. Carriere said he asked Mr. Lamontagne why he had not reported the alleged bribe offer immediately.

Mr. Lamontagne, acting for the U.S. government in the extradition hearing of narcotics conspiracy suspect Lucien Rivard, had explained he rejected the alleged offer immediately it was made July 14 and that he thought that would be the end of the matter.

Gilles Godin, counsel for Andre Letendre, executive assistant to Justice Minister Guy Favreau, asked why Mr. Lamontagne hadn't gone to the police after receiving threatening telephone calls the night of July 20-21.

ASKED BOSS

Insp. Carriere said Mr. Lamontagne told him he had gone to his employer, Antoine Geoffrion, and related the circumstances to him.

Mr. Geoffrion had advised him to take no further action but that if further calls were made he (Geoffrion) would take action.

There has been previous testimony at the inquiry that Lionel Chevrier, former Liberal justice minister and now high commissioner in London, was a member of the same Montreal law firm as Mr. Geoffrion.

Insp. Carriere said Mr. Lamontagne was fully familiar with the Rivard file. He might have received the impression that if people thought he had received a bribe "some misfortune might catch up to him."

The inspector said Mr. Lamontagne had apparently decided there were rumors around the courts that he had accepted a bribe and that this would prejudice his position as a Canadian and U.S. government lawyer.

Earlier Friday, the inquiry recessed briefly to permit Chief Justice Frederic Dorion and lawyers to discuss the extent of

MacPowell 'Still Interested' In Building Mill at Kitimat

VANCOUVER (CP) — MacMillan, Bloedel & Powell River, Ltd., is still interested in building a pulp mill at Kitimat, a spokesman said Thursday.

His remarks followed a statement by Kitimat Reeve Sam Lindsay expressing concern that the northern city would be eliminated from MBPR expansion plans.

Last week, the Kitimat Chamber of Commerce issued a statement urging the provincial government to review a recent allocation of timber to the forest industry giant because the company could not build a proposed pulp and newsprint mill with the amount promised.

But the company spokesman said the situation with Kitimat is the same as it was three months ago. It has asked Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston to hold the tree farm licence while it prepares working plans for a revised pulp and paper mill.

The original MBPR plan called for a $150,000,00 pulp project with a 740-ton mill at Kitimat.

Reeve Lindsay said the company's $90,000,000 expansion plans at Powell River "indicates there is an extreme danger that original plans for a pulp mill in this region will pass us by".

He suggested every possible pressure be brought to bear on Skeena MLA Dudley Little, the provincial government and the company.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Upward Trend Noted Among Major Issues

Prices of shares of many major companies, buffeted for two days on North American stock exchanges following uneasiness caused by the situation in South Viet Nam, recovered sharply today.

Investors today started buying heavily. Brokers claim the buying surge was to take advantage of lowered prices.

AT TORONTO Bank of Montreal and Bank of Nova Scotia each advanced ½ while CPR gained a point at 66¾ and Algoma Steel 1 to 77¾. Aluminium and Bell Telephone each gained ⅝.

Abitibi and John Labatt, B.C. Forest Products and Alberta Gas Trunk A gained ¼ each.

Golds were strong with Dome up 1⅞ and Giant Yelowknife and Campbell Red Lake up ½ each.

AT NEW YORK volume for the day was estimated at 5,100,000 shares compared with 5,830,000 Thursday.

After three sharp declines this week on the Viet Nam crisis, many leading issues looked attractive to traders and investors and the market snapped back some of its losses, brokers said.

Standard Oil (New Jersey), weak in recent sessions, was bought so insistently that it looked like the most active stock, showing a fractional gain.

Airlines and gold mining issues were strong.

As the golds rallied, Homestake and American - South African Investment rose about 2 each. Dome Mines and Campbell Red Lake more than a point each.

AT MONTREAL utilities were up with Bell Telephone adding ¾ and CPR ⅝.

Papers were easier with Price Bros. up ¾.

Banks and industrials were also up.

Among speculative mines Kiena Gold added 30 cents and Patricia Silver four cents.

AT LONDON a slightly easier tone was evident in stock markets today, reflecting disappointment with British trade figures. But prices soon steadied and the market turned mixed. Gilt-edged were easier.

Dollar stocks were dull in reflection of Thursday's decline on Wall Street. Leading Canadian issues which shed up to 2¾ points included Abitibi, Algoma, Aluminium, BA Oil, Consolidated Paper, Consolidated Mining, Hudson's Bay Oil and Gas, Imperial Oil, International Nickel, Noranda and Trans-Canada Pipe. Massey-Ferguson and Brazilian Traction managed fractional improvements.

AT VANCOUVER mining stocks made gains on the Vancouver Stock Exchange at noon.

Continental Potash rose three to 62 cents on 54,600 shares. New Imperial moved up eight cents to $2.08 and Silver Standard gained seven cents to $1.28.

Texmont sold actively with 95,900 shares trading to rise two cents to $1.40. Utica increased 11 cents to $2.47 and Torwest put on seven cents to $1.05.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Chicago recessions brought generally lower prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Declines were due to disappointment at unsettled labor troubles on the docks and an unchanged international situation.

Flax and rapeseed declined with Chicago soybean recessions. Shipping and export interests bought on declines. Trade reports confirmed sale of 2,000 tons of rapeseed to Japan Thursday and 3,000 tons of flax to France.

COMMEMORATION PROPOSED FOR FOUNDING OF RN BASE

WURTELE TO ASK COUNCIL STUDY

Esquimalt, Navy Officials Circle June 29 for 100-Year Flashback

By PETE LOUDON

The hundredth anniversary of the founding of a naval base at Esquimalt is expected to be marked with civic and naval ceremonies this year.

Reeve A. C. Wurtele, a former navy commander, today said he will take the matter up with his council at an early date.

At the same time consideration is being given to the observance by senior naval officials, it was learned.

One proposal so far advanced is that the navy and the municipality combine for some form of celebration on June 29.

That was the date in 1865 when an order-in-council was passed in England creating an RN base here on a permanent footing, according to records in the Provincial Archives.

Esquimalt harbor had been used as a safe anchorage as early as 1792. At that time the Spaniards were bickering with Britain over the presence of a Spanish garrison at Nootka on Vancouver Island's west coast.

To improve relations with Britain, Spain proposed removing its base to the mainland, south of the Strait of Juan de Fuca. A party surveying a new boundary, headed by Dionisio Alcala Galiano and Cazento Valdez anchored at Esquimalt.

Royal Navy ships came here in 1846 to protect the new British settlement at Victoria. Among them were HMS Fisgard, Pandora and Constance, a frigate which also used the anchorage.

In 1854, when Britain went to war with Russia, Esquimalt became a base for operations of the Pacific Squadron. In 1855 three wooden "hospital" buildings were built at Duntze Head. But it was 10 years later before the shore establishment was formally created.

Wooden buildings were added until about 1890 when large repairs began to be carried out and brick buildings, some of them still in use, were added.

After the turn of the century the Canadian government began to assume greater responsibility for coastal protection.

Canada paid the base maintenance costs, provided some garrison troops and stationed HMCS Rainbow there in 1910 and the Royal Canadian Navy came into being.

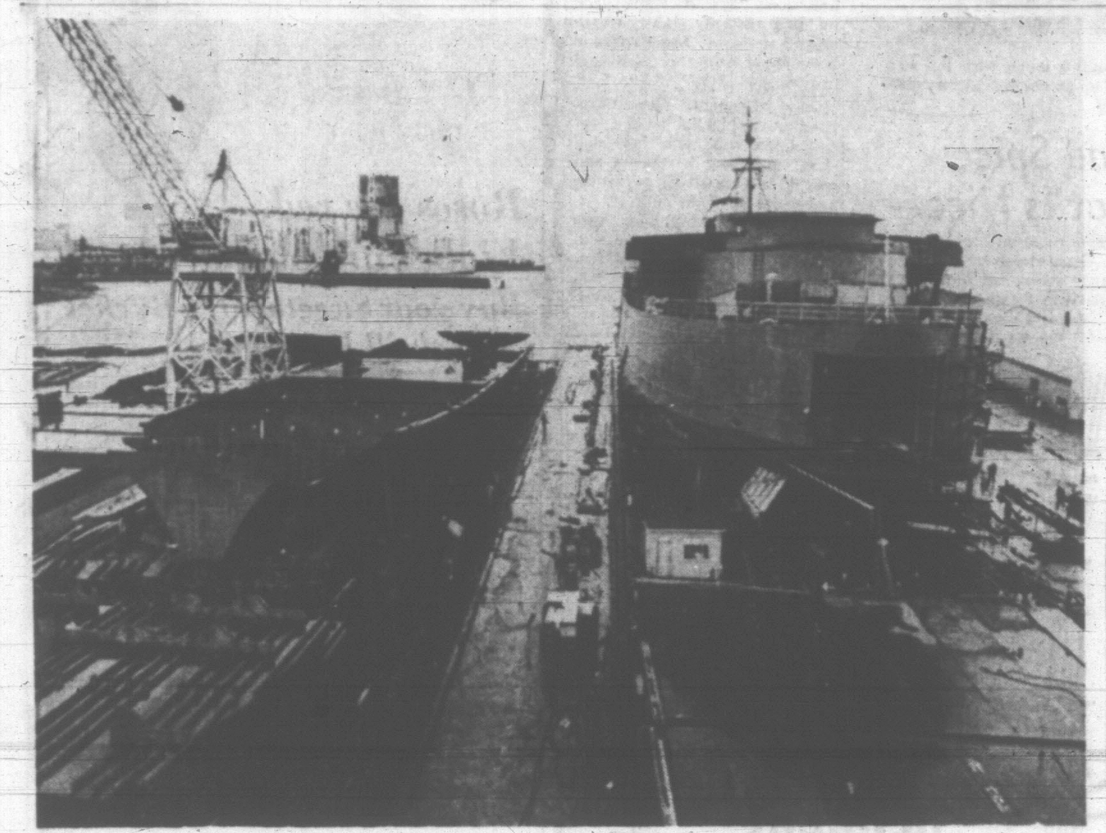
For three days in 1914, British Columbia had a navy based there also—three submarines hastily purchased from the U.S. for $1,150,000. War had just broken out with Germany. The citizenry was relieved to see the subs and the government didn't let on that we had no torpedoes at first.

The federal government took over the subs and found an ex-submariner of the RN at Toronto, Lieut. Adrian Keyes. He had no uniform and arrived here in a blue suit and a straw hat and sleeve braid he'd borrowed from train conductors.

The Royal Navy era had come to an end, but it left its mark — Race Rocks and Fisgard lighthouses (some of the stone was brought around the Horn from England) and the first drydock, built in 1887.

Cricket and rugger grounds were built and the streets of Esquimalt named to recall RN heroes—Nelson, Sturdee, Grenville, Drake and Admirals. Even after the Dominion Government Graving Dock was built in 1926, the largest ship ever to enter it was a British liner, the Queen Elizabeth in 1941.

Thousands of men learned seamanship at Esquimalt during the Second World War—and many of them still live in this area, assuring a huge interest in the proposed commemoration this year. Others, spread across Canada, will be with Esquimalt in spirit when the centenary falls due. It could even develop into a great reunion of ex-servicemen who once served here.



ELEVENTH QUEEN of provincial ferry fleet, Queen of Burnaby will be launched Monday at 1 p.m. at Victoria Machinery Depot. The $3.75 million ferry will be sponsored by Mrs. Charles MacSorley, wife of the Socred MLA for Burnaby. New ferry is a sister ship to the Queens of New Westminster and Nanaimo and will carry 1,000 passengers and 110 cars at a speed of 18 knots. VMD has built nine provincial ferries and has three more under contract. One of them is the Queen of Prince Rupert, pictured at left and due to be launched in October. (Jorgen Svendson photo.)

WINTER CLUB LIKELY

Club Takes Option On Curling Rink

By ERNIE FEDORUK

Preliminary steps have been taken to provide Victoria with a "winter club."

The Victoria Figure Skating Club has taken an option on the four-sheet Allan's Curling Club in Saanich, and if plans are followed through, the district soon may have its first family sports complex.

Roy Allan, who erected the commercial curling enterprise on Glanford Avenue, confirmed that the VFSC has an option on his property. The cement-block rink was built four years ago.

Allan's property includes about five acres of land and the skating club, looking to the future, has acquired an option on five adjoining acres.

PREMATURE

An official of the skating club declined to comment, adding "it is a little premature to release anything now."

The VFSC executive did confirm, however, that a meeting will be held March 24 at Allan's Rink "to discuss future plans."

The figure skating club now rents ice from both the Esquimalt Sports Centre and Memorial Arena. But it needs the use of more ice.

Thde VFSC's future plans include grass tennis courts, swimming pool and badminton courts in addition to curling and skating ice.

The VFSC would use the present rink until finances would permit expansion. The present rink would then be converted into a badminton hall and another six-sheet curling rink would be constructed alongside a full-sized skating arena with a few seats for spectators.

Man 'Fair' After Mishap In Shipyard

A shipyard accident sent a workman to hospital with "severe internal injuries" Thursday.

Robert Edwards, 41, of 3368 Kingsley Place, is reported in fair condition at St. Joseph's Hospital.

He was injured while working at Victoria Machinery Depot.

Shipyard officials would not comment today on the cause of the mishap.

A coroner's inquiry this week ruled that the death of another VMD employee this month was accidental.

The workman, T. J. Willoughby, 57, of 816 Tolmie, was injured Dec. 15 and died Feb. 2.

BURNS

Coroner Edmond Jorre de St. Jorre said cause of death was burns received by the man while he was using an acetylene torch on a new government ferry under construction.

Mr. St. Jorre said Mr. Willoughby was working in a confined space and was pulling the lines for the torch behind him. Fire from the torch apparently cut the line.

Mr. Willoughby's clothes caught fire and he had to crawl through more flame to escape from the double bottom of the vessel where he was working.

PROJECT COSTING $308,800

Campus Shop Centre Contract Awarded

A $308,800 contract was awarded today for construction of an on-campus shopping centre at University of Victoria.

Dr. Malcom G. Taylor, university president, announced contract has been made with Victoria contractor G. H. Wheaton Company Ltd. for a student services building at Gordon Head campus.

It is to be completed in time for the fall term which starts in September.

Dr. Taylor said the Wheaton bid was lowest of four submitted.

The new building will provide accommodation to a branch of the Bank of Montreal, a book store, a barber shop, beauty parlor, drug store and "college shop."

Arrangements have been completed with the bank and negotiations are under way with other possible lessees, it was announced.

GYRO CLUB SPEAKER next Monday will be Ross Smyth, chief of Air Canada speakers' bureau. Mr. Smyth is a veteran of 24 years in the airline business. He gives about 60 talks annually in Canada, Britain and the USA on travel, aviation, communications and related subjects. His talk to the local service club will be on "This Shrinking World." Mr. Smyth is from Montreal.

Windup Hearing On Feb. 23 In Merger Issue

Final hearing of a public inquiry into hte amalgamation of a portion of View Royal with Esquimalt municipality will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 23.

The commission, appoinetd to look into the extent of the union, is expected to complete its report within a month following the final hearing.

The inquiry was launched after more than 60 per cent of residents in the panhandle district voted for amalgamation with the municipality.

Opposition to amalgamation has come mainly from people residing in the Christie Point area.

They want the western boundary of Esquimalt set at Admirals Road instead of Four-Mile-Hill bridge.

On the other hand, some residents have requested amalgamation of the whole of the unorganized district of View Royal with Esquimalt.

ESQUIMALT NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

HMCS Fraser and HMCS Qu'Appelle left Pearl Harbor today for Esquimalt and will arrive Feb. 19;

HMCS Mackenzie arrived in port today at 4 p.m.;

HMC ships Saskatchewan, Beacon Hill, Ste. Therese, Jonquiere and the submarine HMCS Grilse are due Saturday at 8 a.m. after a week of exercises in coastal waters;

Ocean escorts HMCS Sussexvale and HMCS New Glasgow will arrive in Balboe at 9 a.m. Feb. 22;

HMCS Ottawa arrived at Manzanilla early this morning and HMCS Yukon is due there Monday.

Committee To Select Travellers

District Superintendent John Gough said today he would be forming a committee in the near future to handle the Greater Victoria School Board's part of the Canadian Centennial Youth Travel Program.

Mr. Gough said his committee would be responsible for selecting the Greater Victoria school children who will be travelling during July and August in the know-Canada program.

Last year 48 B.C. students travelled to Eastern Canada in exchange visits.

Under the plan all travel costs are met by the federal government with the provincial governments participating.

Students will travel by train in "car lots" of 24 under the supervision of two adults. In most cases they will spend two weeks away from home.

By 1967 it is expected all regions of B.C. will have acted as hosts to the Eastern Canadian students.

Full details are still to be announced but it is expected almost every high school will be able to send at least one student.

It has been suggested the chosen students to be good scholars, but not necessarily top-ranking scholars.

Two-Year Term Given To Toy Pistol Bandit

'Wish You Luck' Says Magistrate

The "toy pistol bandit" who held up two women in the Empress Hotel last Aug. 8 was sentenced to two years in jail this morning.

Geoffrey M. Hudart of Toronto earlier pleaded guilty to the charge and had been remanded for sentence by Magistrate William Ostler.

Hudart used a toy pistol to threaten two elderly U.S. tourists and steal $30 from them. He slapped the women in their room.

Hudart escaped but gave himself up to police in Toronto last month.

In court this moring Hudart told the magistrate that he had been walking "outside society" for some time and this "is the first really honest attempt in my life to realign myself."

The magistrate said it was "a telling indication" of Hudart's sincerity that he gave himself up when there was every possibility he would never have been caught.

But, he added, it was a serious crime and must be punished.

Hudart's case was a "classic example of alcoholism" said Magistrate Ostler.

He said the accused had the background, ability, intelligence and opportunity to be a very useful citizen but alcohol "ruined all that."

Magistrate Ostler suggested that Hudart accept the Alcoholics Anonymous philosophy while in prison and he added that "I wish you luck. I think you are sincere."

INSPECTORS

BREAK HINTED IN TALKS

Lumber inspectors and management bargainers met today for the fourth successive day this week in an attempt to avert a province-wide lumber industry tieup.

The 250 coast inspectors have set a strike deadline of Tuesday morning in their dispute with Pacific Lumber Inspection Bureau.

A union spokesman thought there might be a break later today in the stalemate between the two sides, who have been meeting with provincial government mediator E. P. Fisher in Vancouver.

OFFER FORTHCOMING

"The companies should come forth with an offer," said Rod Beaton, president of lumber inspectors Local 1-288, International Woodworkers of America.

"We would then take a look at it. We have gone as far as we can go. It is up to them to come forth."

Thursday, the IWA appealed directly to lumber companies who are members of the inspection bureau to review the issues because of the gravity of the situation.

STAMP LEASING

Chief point at issue is a bureau proposal to lease the inspectors exclusive stamp designating the grade of processed lumber to individual mills. The inspectors say this will cost them their jobs and give control of the stamp to mills.

The lumber industry could be shut down in a strike if other millworkers respect the inspectors picket lines.

Woman Charged With Harboring Runaway Girl

A woman was charged Thursday in Saanich magistrate's court with harboring a 15-year-old girl without her mother's consent, knowing the girl had run away from home.

Mrs. Velma Beecroft, 3229 Doncaster, pleaded not guilt.

The girl testified she ran away from home because her father said he would send her to welfare authorities.

She said she stayed at the Beecroft home from Jan. 15 to Jan. 19. She was a friend of the family.

The girl was reported missing by her mother and, following a police investigation, was found in the Beecroft home shortly after midnight, Jan. 18.

The hearing was adjourned to March 4.

D. M. BROWN and medals ready for the parade.

FIFTY YEARS ago he was ready for the fray.

Medal Comes 50 Years After War

A Victoria war veteran has just been awarded a medal for overseas service 50 years ago.

David M. Brown, a jeweller at 801 Yates, this week received his Territorial War Medal from the British Army. He'll wear it alongside his Victory Medal and the General Service (1914-18) Medal next Remembrance Day.

"I lost the two medals I had and I wrote to England for duplicates," said Mr. Brown. He forwarded £1 17s 6d to cover the replacement cost.

The Royal Army wrote back that Mr. Brown was also entitled to the third medal, which was awarded to men of the Territorial (home defence) Forces who were in service before the war and who later served overseas.

He enlisted when he was 17 while serving a watchmaker's apprenticeship in Glasgow. He was mainly with the First Battalion London Scottish.

Mr. Brown survived the horrors of the big battles of Ypres, Vimy and the Somme as a "full private."

He came to Canada in 1921, first to Saskatchewan, then to Victoria in 1940. He married in Canada and has two daughters.

He'll wear his three medals next Nov. 11 when he marches with the Britannia Branch, Royal Canadian Legion, and he won't draw attention to the 50-year oversight by the army.

"Nothing ever is strange in military circles," he says.

A. Annie Elizabeth May Richards.

Regarding one of your Ask the Times answers, I lived in Alix, Alberta from 1943 to 1962 when I came to Victoria. I know for a fact the population of Alix, although it is a small town, it is far more than "less than 100" and to my knowledge is closer to 1,200 at present. R. N. H.

Ask the Times inadvertently gave the population of Alberta Beach, Alta. Alix population, according to the 1961 census, is 631.

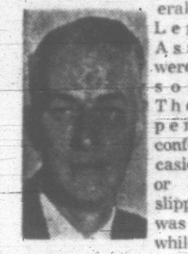
In Our HOUSE

By Arthur Mayse

Gallery visitors who trooped out when Health Minister Martin had concluded his Thursday night speech should have stayed put. Mr. Martin's sonorous account of his stewardship was only the preliminary; the main event of the day was still to come.

At the afternoon sitting, it was plain that the five Liberals of the Legislative Assembly were cooking something. They whispered and conferred. Occasionally one or other slipped out, was absent a while, then returned to his seat with the slight bow which parliamentary tradition requires for Mr. Speaker.



A buzz began to circulate that the minor opposition might ginger up a hitherto quiet session during the night sitting.

We were not disappointed.

Oak Bay Liberal Alan Macfarlane got to his feet while the government side was still applauding the health minister's speech with a round of desk-slapping.

Mr. Macfarlane ripped into Socred health policies with the vim which this urbane lawyer displays in such encounters.

But rebuttals are routine, part of the normal give-and-take of legislative debate.

That chiding done with, Mr. Macfarlane beat a bastinado on government for asserted failure to recognize municipal needs with revised per capita grants.

That, too, is no new ploy. The devil of municipal grants gets chased around the stump a score of times each session.

★ ★ ★

Then . . .

Liberal Macfarlane reached to his desk for a typed statement.

"Several members," he intoned, "have spoken in this debate about the mysterious Stonehill letter."

From that point, the hush in the chamber was all but complete.

There was no heckling. In such quiet as rarely rules in this amphitheatre, Mr. Macfarlane proceeded with his statement, making no direct charge.

Then, in a stern conclusion which lifted the House to its most dramatic moment in a hitherto quiet session:

"We know who manufactured this letter . . . The attorney-general has a duty to this House and to the public to name this person and to make a full disclosure. We demand he do so forthwith. Our next speaker is on Tuesday next, the member from Fernie (Harry McKay). If the attorney-general has not done his duty by then, our next speaker will do it for him, and name the man."

★ ★ ★

Attorney-General Bonner interrupted but once, to suggest grimly that in this matter, Mr. Macfarlane was trespassing upon his position as a member.

At the end, he sat nibbling a pen while opposition cries of "Stand up and tell us!" were heard above a wild exchange of cross-floor shouting.

Second deputy speaker Herbert Bruch (SC—Esquimalt) restored order with voice and gavel.

Only then did Mr. Bonner rise.

"Being all in good humor," he declared, in a sardonic borrowing from an absent premier, "I move we now adjourn."

Has Letter Writer Been Gagged?-MLA

By JOHN MIKA
Times Legislative Reporter

Liberal MLA Alan Macfarlane today dropped a second bombshell in the "mystery letter" case.

He suggested the unidentified author might have been silenced to prevent an explanation coming out.

Late Thursday night he told a tense legislature that Vancouver public relations man Al Williamson "seems to know more about this case than any other man" and demanded that Attorney-General Robert Bonner reveal whether he has been interrogated by police.

While Mr. Macfarlane continued his attack on the attorney-general's silence this morning, Mr. Bonner held a press conference in which it was revealed for the first time possibilities of a charge by his department are being actively studied.

Mr. Macfarlane told the house at 11 p.m. Thursday that if the attorney-general "has not done his duty by Tuesday next" a Liberal MLA would identify the author of the famous letter bearing the purported signature of Premier Bennett and apparently intended to influence the Harry Stonehill application for immigrant status.

KNOWN FRIDAY

Mr. Bonner replied this morning he would "not bow to ultimatums of this kind" but said that the government's position would be known by next Friday.

However, Mr. Macfarlane's speech appeared to have prompted some activity. Mr. Bonner said he would hold a full-scale conference later today with his department advisers and RCMP officials to decide whether charges would be laid in Vancouver by the province.

Previous statements by Mr. Bonner indicated he felt Ottawa should take the next step because it was not up to B.C. to take "unilateral" action.

But Mr. Bonner said he would continue his silence on the identity of the Vancouver man he has said told RCMP "how the letter came into being without the premier's permission and without the premier's knowledge."

Mr. Macfarlane said continuation of the silence "just means the continuation of besmirching the reputations of innocent people" who are in the spotlight of suspicion.

NO BEARING

He said revealing the identity of the author had no bearing on any possible charges or their prosecution and should not be withheld "while the attorney-general dithers as to which course he should take.

"The unidentified man himself

REST OF CREW RESCUED

Ship Explosion Kills Three

HONOLULU (AP) — Three men were reported killed Thursday night in an engine-room explosion aboard the Danish freighter Margit, about 1,100 miles southwest of here.

Twenty-four other persons —including one woman—took to lifeboats and were rescued Friday by a U.S. Navy cargo ship after abandoning their burning freighter.

The rescue ship, the Greenville Victory, after picking up survivors, messaged the U.S. Coast Guard in Honolulu:

"The survivors reported that at least three men are known to be lost from the blast in the engine room."

The freighter blast injured at least three other crew members.

One of those rescued had burns over 70 per cent of his body. Another had a possible leg fracture. A third "suffered a sharp blow to the stomach and is in pain," the Greenville Victory radioed.

The rescue vessel contained no trained medical personnel. Efforts were pressed to reach a ship with a doctor aboard.

The rescue was made about 11 hours after the Margit radioed she was afire.

A coast guard plane circling the Margit radioed that the ship was "burning out of control."

The 4,967-ton Margit, carrying a cargo of flour, asbestos and cast iron from San Francisco and Los Angeles for Calcutta, India, sent out an SOS Thursday night asking for immediate assistance.

The Margit sailed from San Francisco Feb. 1, calling at Los Angeles and then heading out across the Pacific.

Duncan Man Dies In Bridge Crash

By RON SUDLOW

The body of a Duncan man was found this morning trapped inside his cab-over-engine truck which apparently teetered over the side of a bridge in Goldstream Park.

It landed in five feet of swirling water.

He was identified as Eion Olavi Suominen, 37, of 2507 Inverarity Road, Duncan.

His panel delivery truck is believed to have come too close to the left side of the narrow bridge at the foot of a twisting, steep incline leading over the Goldstream River. There was no guard rail on that side.

Police believe the accident occurred sometime Thursday evening as Mr. Suominen's watch was stopped at 11:25.

GUSHED INTO CAB

His body was found partially submerged in water which gushed into the cab of the truck.

The mishap was discovered this morning by a sports fisherman.

The truck was overturned, with the van slanting down the river bank and the cab in the water.

The park road provides a short-cut from the Trans-Canada Highway to Golden Gate Road which runs from the highway at Goldstream.

The truck apparently partially missed the wooden bridge, then teetered on a six-inch beam on the edge of the bridge, before toppling into the river.

BEAM SCRAPED

The beam was scraped by the van's undercarriage and wood splinters appeared on the truck's tie-rod half-way between the front wheels.

There is a three-foot high guard rail on the opposite side of the bridge.

Empty egg cartons were found inside the van and some were floating downstream.

KNOCKED OUT

The cab of the truck was relatively undamaged and it is speculated Mr. Suominen was knocked out by the truck's 10-foot fall, and drowned.

Mr. Suominen's remains were taken to Sands funeral chapel at Colwood.

He had been a Duncan egg-producer and chicken farmer for about five years and dealt in Victoria with Golden Yolk Farms.

Mr. Suominen is of Finnish extraction and it is believed he was born in Canada. He came to the Duncan area from Alberta.

He leaves the widow and two children.

SAIGON

Civilians Dig In; Fear Raid

(Times News Services)

SAIGON — Civilians in Saigon began digging shelters today against any possible Communist air raid following massive U.S.-South Vietnamese air strikes Thursday on military targets in North Viet Nam.

Saigon authorities also tested air raid sirens.

U.S. officials called the raid highly successful. A spokesman said anti-aircraft activity was no heavier than on the Sunday or Monday raids and that the new raid might have come as more of a surprise.

It brought bitter new denunciations and charges of aggression from the Communist regimes in Hanoi, Peking and Moscow.

Reports said the bombs, rockets and gunfire left smoke columns surging up through broken clouds over the target areas.

Chap Le, 8½ miles north of the border between North and South Viet Nam, was softened up by 28 U.S. Air Force F-100 Sabre-jet fighters, then pounded by 28 propeller-driven South Vietnamese fighter-bombers.

Chan Hoa, 50 miles north of the border and four miles northwest of Dong Hoi, scene of a previous strike, was hit by more than 100 navy jets from the 7th Fleet carriers Hancock, Ranger and Coral Sea.

Military authorities announced the recovery of bodies of three of four U.S. Army advisers reported missing when the Viet Cong overran the town of Duc Phong, north of Saigon, Wednesday.

Since the step-up of American activity in Viet Nam in December, 1961, a total of 273 American lives have been lost in combat.

The evacuation of American dependents from South Viet Nam continued today.

Saigon's student union headquarters was rocked Thursday night by the explosion of two grenades.

Wilson Supports U.S. Raids

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson pledged British support for U.S. policy in Viet Nam in a personal call over the Washington-London hot line to President Johnson, government sources said today.

Wilson conferred with the president Thursday night on the explosive situation in southeast Asia and re-affirmed British support for the American policy of "measured, relevant response" to Communist Viet Cong guerrilla attacks, the sources said.

Government sources made it clear that Britain does not plan to lend military support to the United States action in Viet Nam.

But they said token help may be increased through the British military mission, already on the spot for training South Vietnamese in jungle warfare.

LONGSHOREMEN REJECT BID; ORDERED BACK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The International Longshoremen's Association rejected a bid today for a complete settlement of the U.S. dock strike which began 33 days ago, but ordered longshoremen back to work Saturday in all but two ports, Miami and Galveston.

Agreement has been reached in all ports but Miami and Galveston.

Shippers accepted the federal mediator's proposal, which called for an over-all back-to-work movement while negotiations continued under a mediator.

NICHOLSON IN TRADE

Pearson Shifts Tremblay Post

By JOYCE FAIRBAIRN
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Postmaster-General John Nicholson has been named immigration minister in a cabinet change prompted by the resignation of Public Works Minister Jean Paul Deschatelets.

Prime Minister Pearson today announced that Nicholson would exchange portfolios with the present immigration minister Tremblay.

Deschatelets' portfolio will be filled by Associate Defence Minister Lucien Cardin. A Quebec backbencher Leo Cadieux will become associate defence minister.

Pearson did not fill the vacancy of minister without portfolio created when he requested the resignation last month of Yvon Dupuis.

Pearson would not comment on the exchange between Tremblay and Nicholson other than to say "switches are normal in any government."

It is the third cabinet post for Nicholson since the Liberal government came to power in April, 1963. He represents Vancouver Centre.

THREE POSTS

He first held the portfolio of forestry minister and became postmaster general a year ago when his predecessor, Azellus Denis, was named to the Senate. As postmaster general he also administered Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation following the death of revenue minister John Garland.

He will be in charge of overseeing major changes now being planned in the immigration department.

Tremblay has experienced difficulty as immigration minister almost since he took the portfolio last year.

His involvement with the recent furniture controversy added further to his difficulties.

Deschatelets' resignation was prompted by personal reasons believed involving the recent tragic death of his daughter shortly before her wedding.

Pearson said he talked with Deschatelets Sunday and tried to persuade him to remain in the cabinet in a less onerous post than public works.

Pearson expressed pleasure that Deschatelets would continue to sit as member for the Montreal riding of Maisonneuve-Rosemount. He sent "grateful thanks" for Deschatelets' services "which have been both efficient and devoted and for which we owe you a real debt of gratitude."

Deschatelets, one of the most quiet and steady ministers, entered Parliament in 1953 and was returned in four subsequent elections.

Cardin, a 45-year-old lawyer representing Richelieu-Vercheres, has been in parliament since 1952. He has gained a responsible reputation as associate to Defence Minister Paul Hellyer and was a key figure in recent re-organization programs in the development.

Cadieux's appointment to the associate defence portfolio was somewhat of a surprise as he has been a relatively obscure member on the Liberal benches.

He was first elected in 1962 and is a former mayor of St. Antoine des Laurenteides, north of Montreal.

Pearson said he had planned to hold off cabinet changes until the Dorion inquiry had completed its work, but Deschatelets' resignation made it necessary to act immediately.

Thant Seeks Negotiations On Viet Nam

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — United Nations Secretary-General U Thant proposed today that both sides in the Vietnamese conflict enter into talks aimed at preparing the ground for formal negotiations on a settlement.

Thant made the proposal in appealing to "all parties concerned" to refrain from any new actions which could lead to an escalation of warfare in Viet Nam.

He did not refer by name to the United States, the Soviet Union, China, North Viet Nam or any other powers which have interests in Southeast Asia.

He said he was making the appeal "in the interest of the peace and well-being of the people of Viet Nam and of the world at large."

See Page 16

OTTAWA (CP) — RCMP Inspector J. R. R. Carriere testified today that Pierre Lamontagne told him he had been advised by his employer in his law firm not to do anything about attempted bribery and coercion to which the Montreal lawyer said he had been subjected.

The officer was replying at the Dorion judicial inquiry to questions concerning the delay between the time Mr. Lamontagne was allegedly offered a bribe July 14 and when he first reported it to Insp. Carriere Aug. 10.

Insp. Carriere said he asked Mr. Lamontagne why he had not reported the alleged bribe offer immediately.

Mr. Lamontagne, acting for the U.S. government in the extradition hearing of narcotics conspiracy suspect Lucien Rivard, had explained he rejected the alleged offer immediately it was made July 14 and that he thought that would be the end of the matter.

Gilles Godin, counsel for Andre Letendre, executive assistant to Justice Minister Guy Favreau, asked why Mr. Lamontagne hadn't gone to the police after receiving threatening telephone calls the night of July 20-21.

ASKED BOSS

Insp. Carriere said Mr. Lamontagne told him he had gone to his employer, Antoine Geoffrion, and related the circumstances to him.

Mr. Geoffrion had advised him to take no further action but that if further calls were made he (Geoffrion) would take action.

There has been previous testimony at the inquiry that Lionel Chevrier, former Liberal justice minister and now high commissioner in London, was a member of the same Montreal law firm as Mr. Geoffrion.

Insp. Carriere said Mr. Lamontagne was fully familiar with the Rivard file. He might have received the impression that if people thought he had received a bribe "some misfortune might catch up to him."

The inspector said Mr. Lamontagne had apparently decided there were rumors around the courts that he had accepted a bribe and that this would prejudice his position as a Canadian and U.S. government lawyer.

Earlier Friday, the inquiry recessed briefly to permit Chief Justice Frederic Dorion and lawyers to discuss the extent of

BUCK TELLS STUDENTS

Communists Avoid Clashes With NDP

By BOB DONAHGE

Canadian Communist Party honorary national chairman Tim Buck Thursday vowed his party's support for the New Democrats in the next federal election.

The former Communist national leader told University of Victoria students that socialism is a step towards communism.

"We (the Communists) are only going to run 16 or 17 candidates but we will be very careful not to run a candidate in a riding where it would jeopardize the election of an NDP party member."

(Meanwhile, the same day Canadian Communist Party national leader W. Kashtan said from Toronto that the Communists would make a concerted effort to elect one or two Communist candidates in the next federal election.

(He predicted that Communist party candidates would be elected "when the political climate changes.")

Mr. Buck at Uvic said the Communist Party will concentrate on helping the NDP win the balance of power at Ottawa.

During the question period, Mr. Buck was asked to explain why he used the term socialist instead of communist to refer to Iron Curtain countries.

He said:

"What we are fighting for is recognition that socialism is the next step forward for mankind. The higher alternative is socialism.

"You cannot advance to communism until socialism is established. The Communist Manifesto itself states that socialism is the first step and the evolution to communism is the next natural step.

"In Canada we have taken the position that because of the regional character of Canadian interests it is quite logical to work on the basis of parliamentary action in establishing socialism," said Mr. Buck.

CHINA INVOLVED

On Viet Nam Mr. Buck said if the United States becomes involved in war in that country, it is also in a war with China.

"It will be self-defence if China aids the North Vietnamese. It is the same as any country defending its military borders.

"Unless the present actions are stopped it will ping-pong into a general war in southeast Asia," warned Mr. Buck.

He said the U.S. should pull out of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia immediately and allow a free vote of the people to decide which type of government they want.

"The Vietnamese people were promised a free vote on the type of government they wanted in 1954," said Mr. Buck. "They have never been given that vote because the multiplicity of governments has not allowed it.

"Is there anything wrong if the people of Viet Nam prefer the Communist system?" questioned Mr. Buck.

He said Canada's role should be to see that neutrality is observed in Viet Nam.

And in a final barb aimed at Canada's relations with the U.S., he asked: "Are we content to be dragged along by the tail in an attempt to stop a world change in the system of governments?"

Ex-Premier 'Personal Friend'

Former Soviet Premier Khrushchev was politically exhumed and re-buried here Thursday by Tim Buck, the honorary national chairman of the Communist Party of Canada.

"Nikita was a wonderful guy," he told University of Victoria students, "and a personal friend of mine."

"He did a fine thing when he exposed Stalin and in travelling throughout the Soviet Union arousing the people into realizing changes were needed.

"But in the process of these battles, his own personal authority and popularity became too great.

"He then allowed the ideological conflict with China to take on the flavor of a personal quarrel between him and Mao."

This was his undoing, said Mr. Buck.

"It colored his judgment and got in the way of co-operation between Communist states. There was a further sharp deterioration of co-operation when he asserted his quarrel as though it was a policy of the government," said Mr. Buck.

LAST REPORT

"When he submitted his last report, and staked his job on it, it was not accepted by the government.

"He is still a member of the Soviet parliament, but otherwise he is retired.

"He is a wonderful guy but he was getting old and cranky and becoming stubborn."

Poster Campaign Aimed at Curbing Venereal Disease

The provincial government is stepping up its campaign to curb veneral disease.

Health Minister Eric Martin told the legislature Thursday night that posters showing a pretty girl in provocative pose and bearing the caption "four out of every five pickups have VD" will soon be posted in all public washrooms.

"I would like to add that it isn't wise to take a chance on that fifth pickup," the minister said as he displayed the new poster to the house.

Latest statistics show Victoria and district as having 171 out of the 5,186 gonorrhea cases in B.C. and eight of the 304 provincial cases of syphilis.

He said the government will continue to do everything possible to mount a massive attack on the problem.

Mr. Martin said VD is found most often in the 25 to 34 age group but that 15 per cent of all cases were found in teenagers.

Ten years ago B.C. reported 2,494 cases of gonorrhea. Last year 5,816 cases were reported.

In 1956 only 14 cases of syphilis were reported in the province. Last year 304 cases were treated.

PATROL SHIP NABS 10 ARMED INDONESIANS

SINGAPORE (AP)—A Malaysian patrol ship captured 10 armed Indonesian guerrillas aboard a sampan before dawn today off the southwestern coast of the Malayan mainland, police reported.

The capture was said to have taken place near Kukup Island, 25 miles west of Singapore and along the coast of Johore State, scene of several Indonesian raids in the past six months. No fighting was reported.

Rights Worker 'Chained' to Bed

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—A Negro civil rights leader who became ill in jail was taken to hospital and chained to his bed but a doctor protested and the chain was removed Thursday night.

Rev. James Bevel, an associate of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was moved to Burwell Infirmary earlier in the day from the county jail where he was serving a five-day sentence on a contempt of court conviction growing out of a demonstration here Monday.

Dr. E. A. Maddox said the civil rights leader was suffering from a virus condition and had a temperature of 102 degrees.

The doctor said Bevel was shackled to his bed by a chain attached to his ankle and that a guard was posted on the door outside the room.

The chain was removed after the doctor addressed a written request to Sheriff James Clark. The letter to Clark said Bevel was suffering from what appeared to be virus pneumonia, needed as much rest as possible and couldn't get the needed rest shackled to the bed.

Bevel was sentenced to five days in jail and fined $50 last Monday during an adult voter registration march to the court house. He and other Negroes were charged with violating a state court injunction prohibiting courthouse demonstrations.

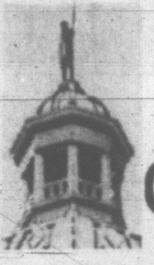
MAN DROWNS IN TRUCK CAB AT GOLDSTREAM PARK



In Our HOUSE

By Arthur Mayse

Gallery visitors who trooped out when Health Minister Martin had concluded his Thursday night speech should have stayed put. Mr. Martin's sonorous account of his stewardship was only the preliminary; the main event of the day was still to come.

At the afternoon sitting, it was plain that the five Liberals of the Legislative Assembly were cooking something. They whispered and conferred. Occasionally one or other slipped out, was absent a while, then returned to his seat with the slight bow which parliamentary tradition requires for Mr. Speaker.

A buzz began to circulate that the minor opposition might ginger up a hitherto quiet session during the night sitting.

We were not disappointed.

Oak Bay Liberal Alan Macfarlane got to his feet while the government side was still applauding the health minister's speech with a round of desk-slapping.

Mr. Macfarlane ripped into Socred health policies with the vim which this urbane lawyer displays in such encounters.

But rebuttals are routine, part of the normal give-and-take of legislative debate.

That chiding done with, Mr. Macfarlane beat a bastinado on government for asserted failure to recognize municipal needs with revised per capita grants.

That, too, is no new ploy. The devil of municipal grants gets chased around the stump a score of times each session.

* * *

Then . . .

Liberal Macfarlane reached to his desk for a typed statement.

"Several members," he intoned, "have spoken in this debate about the mysterious Stonehill letter."

From that point, the hush in the chamber was all but complete.

There was no heckling. In such quiet as rarely rules in this amphitheatre, Mr. Macfarlane proceeded with his statement, making no direct charge.

Then, in a stern conclusion which lifted the House to its most dramatic moment in a hitherto quiet session:

"We know who manufactured this letter . . . The attorney-general has a duty to this House and to the public to name this person and to make a full disclosure. We demand he do so forthwith. Our next speaker is on Tuesday next, the member from Fernie (Harry McKay). If the attorney-general has not done his duty by then, our next speaker will do it for him, and name the man."

Attorney-General Bonner interrupted but once, to suggest grimly that in this matter, Mr. Macfarlane was trespassing upon his position as a member.

At the end, he sat nibbling a pen while opposition cries of

Has Letter Writer Been Gagged?-MLA

By JOHN MIKA
Times Legislative Reporter

Liberal MLA Alan Macfarlane today dropped a second bombshell in the "mystery letter" case.

He suggested the unidentified author might have been silenced to prevent an explanation coming out.

Late Thursday night he told a tense legislature that Vancouver public relations man Al Williamson "seems to know more about this case than any other man" and demanded that Attorney-General Robert Bonner reveal whether he has been interrogated by police.

While Mr. Macfarlane continued his attack on the attorney-general's silence this morning, Mr. Bonner held a press conference in which it was revealed for the first time possibilities of a charge by his department are being actively studied.

Mr. Macfarlane told the house at 11 p.m. Thursday that if the attorney-general "has not done his duty by Tuesday next" a Liberal MLA would identify the author of the famous letter bearing the purported signature of Premier Bennett and apparently intended to influence the Harry Stonehill application for immigrant status.

KNOWN FRIDAY

Mr. Bonner replied this morning he would "not bow to ultimatums of this kind" but said that the government's position would be known by next Friday.

However, Mr. Macfarlane's speech appeared to have prompted some activity. Mr. Bonner said he would hold a full-scale conference later today with his department advisers and RCMP officials to decide whether charges would be laid in Vancouver by the province.

Previous statements by Mr. Bonner indicated he felt Ottawa should take the next step because it was not up to B.C. to take "unilateral" action.

But Mr. Bonner said he would continue his silence on the identity of the Vancouver man he has said told RCMP "how the letter came into being without the premier's permission and without the premier's knowledge."

Mr. Macfarlane said continuation of the silence "just means the continuation of besmirching the reputations of innocent people" who are in the spotlight of suspicion.

NO BEARING

He said revealing the identity of the author had no bearing on any possible charges or their prosecution and should not be withheld "while the attorney-general dithers as to which course he should take.

Fisherman Discovers Duncan Egg Producer

By RON SUDLOW

The body of a Duncan man was found this morning trapped inside his cab-over-engine truck which apparently teetered over the side of a bridge in Goldstream Park.

It landed in five feet of swirling water.

He was identified as Elon Olavi Suominen, 37, of 2507 Inverarity Road, Duncan.

His panel delivery truck is believed to have come too close to the left side of the narrow bridge at the foot of a twisting, steep incline leading over the Goldstream River. There was no guard rail on that side.

Police believe the accident occurred sometime Thursday evening as Mr. Suominen's watch was stopped at 11:25.

GUSHED INTO CAB

His body was found partially submerged in water which gushed into the cab of the truck.

The mishap was discovered this morning by a sports fisherman.

The truck was overturned, with the van slanting down the river bank and the cab in the water.

The park road provides a short-cut from the Trans-Canada Highway to Golden Gate Road which runs from the highway at Goldstream.

The truck apparently partially missed the wooden bridge, then teetered on a six-inch beam on the edge of the bridge, before toppling into the river.

BEAM SCRAPED

The beam was scraped by the van's undercarriage, and wood splinters appeared on the truck's tie-rod half-way between the front wheels.

There is a three-foot high guard rail on the opposite side of the bridge.

Empty egg cartons were found inside the van and some were floating downstream.

KNOCKED OUT

The cab of the truck was relatively undamaged and it is speculated Mr. Suominen was knocked out by the truck's 10-foot fall, and drowned.

Mr. Suominen's remains were taken to Sands funeral chapel at Colwood.

He had been a Duncan egg-producer and chicken farmer for about five years and dealt in Victoria with Golden Yolk Farms.

Mr. Suominen is of Finnish extraction and it is believed he was born in Canada. He came to the Duncan area from Alberta.

He leaves the widow and two children.

Civilians Dig In; Fear Raid

(Times News Services)

SAIGON — Civilians in Saigon began digging shelters today against any possible Communist air raid following massive U.S.-South Vietnamese air strikes Thursday on military targets in North Viet Nam.

Saigon authorities also tested air raid sirens.

U.S. officials called the raid highly successful. A spokesman said anti-aircraft activity was no heavier than on the Sunday or Monday raids and that the new raid might have come as more of a surprise.

It brought bitter new denunciations and charges of aggression from the Communist regimes in Hanoi, Peking and Moscow.

Reports said the bombs, rockets and gunfire left smoke columns surging up through broken clouds over the target areas.

Chap Le, 8½ miles north of the border between North and South Viet Nam, was softened up by 28 U.S. Air Force F-100 Sabre-jet fighters, then pounded by 28 propeller-driven South Vietnamese fighter-bombers.

Chan Hoa, 50 miles north of the border and four miles northwest of Dong Hoi, scene of a previous strike, was hit by more than 100 navy jets from the 7th Fleet carriers Hancock, Ranger and Coral Sea.

Military authorities announced the recovery of bodies of three of four U.S. Army advisers reported missing when the Viet Cong overran the town of Duc Phong, north of Saigon, Wednesday.

Since the step-up of American activity in Viet Nam in December, 1961, a total of 273 American lives have been lost in combat.

The evacuation of American dependents from South Viet Nam continued today.

Saigon's student union headquarters was rocked Thursday night by the explosion of two grenades.

Pearson Shifts Tremblay Post

By JOYCE FAIRBAIRN
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Postmaster-General John Nicholso has been named immigration minister in a cabine change prompted by the resignation of Public Work Minister Jean Paul Deschatelets.

Prime Minister Pearson today announced that Nicholson would exchange portfolios with the present immigration minister Tremblay.

Deschatelets' portfolio will be filled by Associate Defence Minister Lucien Cardin. A Quebec backbencher Leo Cadieux will become associate defence minister.

Pearson did not fill the vacancy of minister without portfolio created when he requested the resignation last month of Yvon Dupuis.

Pearson would not comment on the exchange between Tremblay and Nicholson other than to say "switches are normal in any government.'

It is the third cabinet post for Nicholson since the Liberal government came to power in April, 1963. He represents Vancouver Centre.

THREE POSTS

He first held the portfolio of forestry minister and became postmaster general a year ago when his predecessor, Azellus Denis, was named to the Senate. As postmaster general he also administered Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation following the death of revenue minister John Garland.

He will be in charge of overseeing major changes now being planned in the immigration department.

Tremblay has experienced difficulty as immigration minister almost since he took the portfolio last year.

His involvement with the r cent furniture controversy add further to his difficulties.

Deschatelets' resignation w prompted by personal reaso believed involving the rece tragic death of his daughte shortly before her wedding.

Pearson said he talked wit Deschatelets Sunday and tried t persuade him to remain in th cabinet in a less onerous pos than public works.

Pearson expressed pleasur that Deschatelets would continu to sit as member for the Mon real riding of Maisonneuv Rosemount. He sent "gratef thanks" for Deschatelets' serv ices "which have been both e ficient and devoted and fo which we owe you a real deb of gratitude."

Employer Advised Lawye To Keep Mum Probe Told

OTTAWA (CP) — RCMP Inspector J. R. R. Carriere testified today that Pierre Lamontagne told him he had been advised by his employer in his law firm not to do anything about attempted bribery and coercion to which the Montreal lawyer said he had been subjected.

The officer was replying at the Dorion judicial inquiry to questions concerning the delay between the time Mr. Lamontagne was allegedly offered a bribe July 14 and when he first reported it to Insp. Carriere Aug. 10.

Insp. Carriere said he asked Mr. Lamontagne why he had not reported the alleged bribe offer immediately.

Mr. Lamontagne, acting for the U.S. government in the extradition hearing of narcotics conspiracy suspect Lucien Rivard, had explained he rejected the alleged offer immediately it was made July 14 and that he thought that would be the end of the matter.

Gilles Godin, counsel for Andre Letendre, executive assistant to Justice Minister Guy Favreau, asked why Mr. Lamontagne hadn't gone to the police after receiving threatening telephone calls the night of July 20-21.

Insp. Carriere said Mr. Lamontagne told him he had gone to his employer, Antoine Geoffrion, and related the circumstances to him.

Mr. Geoffrion had advised him to take no further action but that if further calls were made he (Geoffrion) would take action.

is being prejudiced by being denied the right, if the attorney-general has silenced him, to explain his position," said Mr. Macfarlane.

"What if he has a valid explanation? What if he was given authority by the premier or the premier's office to use that stationery and he just exceeded his authority?

"He may have any number of explanations.

"He (Bonner) knows who the author of the letter is and I know it. He doesn't need to remain silent with respect to that matter" even if more time is needed to decide the question of whether charges should be laid.

Asked how he knew the identity, Mr. Macfarlane said "no comment."

Mr. Bonner this morning said he expected to have a full report on a decision as to what course of action should be taken by this weekend or early next week. The recommendation will come from general counsel Paddy Bowen-Colthurst.

CLEAR IT UP

"By this time next week the crown's position in the matter will be clear," said Mr. Bonner.

But until then he would not reveal the identity.

"I would rather err on the side of silence than, by inadvertence, tip the scales against anyone. An attorney-general or a crown counsel either lays charges or he shuts up. There isn't any middle ground available."

Mr. Bonner said he had nothing further to say about the case and "if there is anything further to be said it will be said through official channels in due course. He declined to elaborate on the term "official channels" but indicated that further statements could come from the Vancouver prosecutor's office.

Mr. Macfarlane held the legislature in "suspenseful attention Thursday night as he led up to the point of naming the author, but stopping short to demand that the attorney-general do so.

He said if this was not done, then Harry McKay (L—Fernie) would reveal the identity when he speaks Tuesday as the next Liberal to enter the budget speech debate.

Mr. Macfarlane dropped his ultimatum into a hushed House moments after cheers from the opposition greeted his statement that the province does not want to see a repetition of the government's manoeuvring in the Robert Sommers case.

"We remember another occasion when the attorney-general hid behind a secret RCMP report until he was smoked out and at the end of all that had to prosecute a fellow cabinet minister.

"In that case the technique used by the attorney-general was the same as in this case," said Mr. Macfarlane.

He said the referall to the Dorion commission parallelled the Sommers royal commission. In both cases the government also used a secret RCMP report to hide behind.

707 DAYS

"In the case of Sommers, it was 707 days of silence," stormed Mr. Macfarlane. "We don't want to see that sort of thing in B.C. again!"

Mr. Macfarlane said numerous questions had to be answered by the government as well as launching a prosecution against the letter's author.

"How many men had access to (the premier's) stationery? Was that stationery stolen or was it handed to them with the authority to use it?

"Did someone forge this letter, forge the premier's signature on this letter or did he just exceed his authority in using the stationery?

"The premier describes the letter as phoney and says he did not sign it. The attorney-general denies that he said the letter was a forgery.

"If it wasn't a forgery, what was it? Has an offence been committed or not?"

Mr. Macfarlane read a Vancouver newspaper editorial which claimed that continued government silence must mean it is protecting someone—presumably one of the "coterie" of public relations men used by the government.

The men were named as Al Williamson, William Clancey, Lloyd Turner and Dan Ekman.

"One man seems to know more about this case than any other," said Mr. Macfarlane. "He is Al Williamson.

"Williamson went to Ottawa and there with Stonehill conferred with federal government officials concerning Stonehill's immigrant status.

"Williamson told a federal official that a letter would be forthcoming from Premier Bennett supporting Stonehill's case.

"Williamson contacted Ottawa later to make sure the letter had been received.

"Williamson is close to this government. He is one of their public relations men and has been for some time. He promised to acquire the letter and he must, of necessity, know where it was to come from."

Mr. Macfarlane said the House should be told many things.

"Has Williamson made a statement to the RCMP? The attorney-general has refused to say.

QUESTIONED?

"Has the attorney-general questioned Williamson about the circumstances surrounding this strange situation?

"If any one of us was attorney-general I suggest to you that under these circumstances . . . the first thing you would have done was question Williamson and demand the fullest explanation.

"The attorney-general says this is a matter for Ottawa to handle. As my leader said before me, this is a question of provincial government concern of the concern of this government whose attorney-general has a duty at law to prosecute offences against the law.

"The rumors have gone far enough. Innocent people are having their reputations besmirched because of the strange and evasive attitude of this government.

"We will stand for this only so long. I'm telling the attorney-general now that if he has not done his duty by Tuesday next, our next speaker will do his duty for him — and will name the man."

questioning to be allowed on other bribe offers in the Rivard case.

After the 15-minute recess, Chief Justice Dorion himself took over the questioning of RCMP Inspector J. R. R. Carriere.

Insp. Carriere testified that he heard in June or July that there was a "considerable sum of money available" to help Rivard in his extradition case.

Chief Justice Dorion, of Quebec Superior Court, agreed to the recess proposed by commission counsel Andre Desjardins following objections to questioning of Insp. Carriere about other bribe offers.

Insp. Carriere, under questioning by Ross Drouin, counsel for the Conservative party, testified that he had heard in June or July of other bribe offers in the Rivard case.

LAWYER OBJECTS

Mr. Drouin repeatedly asked about the nature of the other offers but each time RCMP counsel Norman Mathews objected.

Mr. Mathews argued that Mr. Drouin's question was so broad it could take in "the wildest kind of rumors." He was supported by Jules Deschenes, federal government counsel, who insisted the questioning be limited to offers to Mr. Lamontagne.

LONGSHOREMEN REJECT BID; ORDERED BACK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The International Longshoremen's Association rejected a bid today for a complete settlement of the U.S. dock strike which began 33 days ago, but ordered longshoremen back to work Saturday in all but two ports, Miami and Galveston.

Agreement has been reached in all ports but Miami and Galveston.

Shippers accepted the federal mediator's proposal, which called for an over-all back-to-work movement while negotiations continued under a mediator.

AMERICAN COMMENTS ON S. VIET NAM FORCES

'Dumbest, Laziest, Weakest, Unpatriotic'

JUNCTION CITY, Kan. (AP)—"My four-day operation was uneventful and maddening, working with the popular forces. They are the dumbest, laziest, weakest, unpatriotic I have ever seen."

Capt. Carlton J. Holland, 36, made that comment in a letter to his wife—a letter that arrived at their Junction City home on the same day his wife was notified he was killed in South Viet Nam.

"The rangers are good and the commander did everything I wanted, but time and the mission were devoted to waiting for the popular forces and going after them when they got lost.

"Well, they got paid the day we got back and now they have 30 deserters—that leaves 46 in the company."

Holland, in the service 18 years, was among three U.S. Army advisors listed as killed when Viet Cong forces overran the town of Duc Phong in South Viet Nam three days ago. A fourth American is missing.

Holland's letter, which arrived Wednesday, also brought the news that he had received orders for transfer to Fort Bragg, N.C., in April and that he would get a 45-day leave before reporting to his new post.

HOLLAND
. . . killed in action

In his letter Holland expressed the wish that he "could take some of these soldiers and just live in the hills and train them myself."

The captain told of difficulties he encountered in the field.

"I had some Saigon brass out here on the 3rd of February. I get a kick out of some of their forms and questions: do I keep a mess fund, who does the laundry, how is the filing system, any complaint on the movies, can we send you a hi-fi set?

"I just laugh at them; my bath, laundry and drinking water are in that creek; filing system in my pockets; no large mess bill on dried fish and rice; the movies and hi-fi — I'm lucky to get power for a flashlight.

"Can I defend this hill? I said 'see all that barbed wire around this hill. That is to keep the soldiers on the hill, more than to keep the Viet Cong off.' I defend this hill with 53 men. The Viet Cong can take it with 300 men and 60 rounds of mortar. They have 500 Viet Cong and 150 rounds of mortar. I have one 60 mm mortar and two machine-guns and 23 sandbags and 40 rounds of mortar."

Holland said he was writing "with candlelight but the wind is going to blow it out."

"The rats are very bad tonight and I keep coughing up this stuff in my lungs. These damned rats. I have to keep my feet up, they are running across them."

REST OF CREW RESCUED

Ship Explosion Kills Three

HONOLULU (AP) — Three men were reported killed Thursday night in an engine-room explosion aboard the Danish freighter Margit, about 1,100 miles southwest of here.

Twenty-four other persons—including one woman—took to lifeboats and were rescued Friday by a U.S. Navy cargo ship after abandoning their burning freighter.

The rescue ship, the Greenville Victory, after picking up survivors, messaged the U.S. Coast Guard in Honolulu:

"The survivors reported that at least three men are known to be lost from the blast in the engine room."

The freighter blast injured at least three other crew members.

One of those rescued had burns over 70 per cent of his body. Another had a possible leg fracture. A third "suffered a sharp blow to the stomach and is in pain," the Greenville Victory radioed.

The rescue vessel contained no trained medical personnel. Efforts were pressed to reach a ship with a doctor aboard.

The rescue was made about 11 hours after the Margit radioed she was afire.

A coast guard plane circling the Margit radioed that the ship was "burning out of control."

The 4,967-ton Margit, carrying a cargo of flour, asbestos and cast iron from San Francisco and Los Angeles for Calcutta, India, sent out an SOS Thursday night asking for immediate assistance.

The Margit sailed from San Francisco Feb. 1, calling at Los Angeles and then heading out across the Pacific.

"Stand up and tell us!" were heard above a wild exchange of cross-floor shouting.

Second deputy speaker Herbert Bruch (SC—Esquimalt) restored order with voice and gavel.

Only then did Mr. Bonner rise.

"Being all in good humor," he declared, in a sardonic borrowing from an absent premier, "I move we now adjourn."

African Drive At Half Point

The University of Victoria's African Student fund has more than $1,200 toward a $2,400 goal.

The proceeds to date are from three student-sponsored films that were shown at the Fox Theatre.

The next fund film, A Raisin in the Sun, starring academy award winner Sidney Poitier, will be shown March 14 to 21 at the Fox.

$912,132 BEFORE TAXES, DEBTS PAID

Churchill Estate Split

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill left a net estate valued at £156,961 ($470,883), a report filed with his will in probate court said today.

He bequeathed one-third to his wife, Lady Churchill. The other two-thirds is to be divided equally among his children, actress Sarah Churchill, Mrs. Mary Soames and journalist Randolph Churchill.

In addition, Lady Churchill was left the copyrights on all her husband's literary works and the rights to all recordings of his speeches or extracts from his writings.

The recordings are high on the best seller lists. Royalties on these and Churchill's books are certain to continue earning large sums.

The 90-year-old wartime prime minister died Jan. 24.

Executors reported his gross estate—before payment of debts and estate taxes—was £304,044 ($912,132).

After payment of debts £266,054 remained, and estate taxes come to £109,093. This left a residue estate of £156,961.

Churchill left various state papers and personal documents to a trust established in 1946.

The remainder of his documents and various medallions and trophies presented to him during his life were left in trust to his wife for life.

The will stipulated that the documents should then go to the trust and the trophies be passed in turn to his son Randolph and grandson Winston.

Among his other bequests was one for £10,000 to Anthony Montague Browne, his personal secretary for many years.

New Home Recipe Reducing Plan

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Naran Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Naran Plan.

If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing, and active.

CANADA'S OWN CAR
Studebaker '65
First with transistorized ignition

It's winter. Starting the car is a real grr . . . grr . . . grr . . . grind! Now you tell yourself that you should have kept the engine tuned up.
But with Studebaker, winter is no grind. Studebaker has transistorized ignition as standard equipment on its Daytona Sports Sedan and optional on all other models. Transistorized Ignition, by Studebaker, means faster, easier starts — even in the coldest weather. Just as a 200 watt lamp gives more light than a 60 watt, so Studebaker's transistorized ignition delivers more fire-power than conventional systems. Plugs and points last longer too. Studebaker ran a test-car for over 40,000 miles. When examined, points were still like new (see your Studebaker dealer for proof).

Studebaker Transistorized Ignition is ideal for shop-and-go driving too. Helps your engine stay in tune longer. Doesn't waste gas.

Aside from the convenience, just think of all the money you could save on tune-ups and replacements. Enough to buy a transistorized radio. Come to think of it, that's another transistorized item that starts as easily as Studebaker — and keeps its tune . . .

. . . but it hasn't got wheels.
